

6-15-2018

UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald

WKU Student Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

 Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Public Relations and Advertising Commons, Social History Commons, Sociology Commons, and the Sports Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

WKU Student Affairs, "UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald" (2018). WKU Archives Records. Paper 6023.
https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/6023

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact topscholar@wku.edu.

College Heights Herald

The College Heights Herald newsletter is sponsored by
Bowling Green Athletic Club

THE HILL IN REVIEW

Brewery Supervisor Joe Walls at the new brewery at the WKU Research & Development Center. Walls, who started on the Alltech Lexington Brewing & Distilling Company bottling line three years ago. He was the sole employee managing the construction and trial runs at this location until recently. Photo by Leanora Benkato/HERALD

High school recruit Charles Bassey (23) plays for Aspire Academy Wizards, on Feb. 3, 2018 at Bowling Green High school. Photo by Silas Walker/HERALD

In this issue

- Nation's No. 3 recruit Charles Bassey commits to WKU, reclassifies to 2018 class
- Brewery future uncertain after Alltech ends brewing deal with WKU
- WKU's oldest professor, Mary Ellen Miller, dies at 83

1

Nation's No. 3 recruit Charles Bassey commits to WKU, reclassifies to 2018 class

Charles Bassey, the nation's No. 3 rated prospect in the class of 2019 is re-classifying and heading to the Hill.

Bassey is the No. 3 rated prospect by ESPN and Rivals, a consensus 5-star recruit and the top player in Kentucky.

2

Brewery future uncertain after Alltech ends beer-making deal with WKU

The future of WKU's brewery remains uncertain after the end to a brewing partnership was announced between WKU and Alltech, which is the company that produces two WKU-themed beers.

3

WKU's longest-serving professor, Mary Ellen Miller, dies

Mary Ellen Miller, 83, WKU's longest serving professor, died on Saturday, June 9, after a fall two weeks ago.

She served WKU in the English department for 54 years. She was WKU's oldest professor and WKU's university poet laureate.

4

Graduate Dean's resignation marks fifth dean to be replaced

Scott Lyons, current Graduate School dean, submitted his resignation to Provost David Lee, who announced the changes.

His resignation marks the fifth university official to leave or to be eliminated from a dean position at the university since fall 2017.

5

Justify's Triple Crown win makes history for WKU alumni

Justify remained undefeated by winning the Triple Crown at the Belmont Stakes on June 9, making history for himself and for WKU alumnus Mary Nixon.

He was the thirteenth horse in racing history to win the Triple Crown, Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes in the same year.