

3-9-2018

UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald

WKU Student Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

 Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Public Relations and Advertising Commons, Social History Commons, Sociology Commons, and the Sports Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

WKU Student Affairs, "UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald" (2018). WKU Archives Records. Paper 6012.
https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/6012

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact topscholar@wku.edu.

College Heights Herald

The College Heights Herald newsletter is sponsored by
Bowling Green Athletic Club

THE HILL IN REVIEW

Michelle Bundis, a Bowling Green resident and new mother, has used CrossFit for the past few years to help her become the woman and mother she has always wanted to be. "I started doing CrossFit because I wanted to get healthy," Bundis said. "I was about 315 pounds at one point and I knew if I wanted to be my potential I needed to get healthy."
Kathryn Ziesig/HERALD

In this issue

- Return of a fraternity
- Tashia Brown named C-USA Player of the Year
- Topper Corner closes it's doors

Junior Maddie Turner has been a part of the WKU dance team since her freshman year. "I have been told about three times in my dance career that I'm too big to be on teams."

Kathryn Ziesig/HERALD

1

Former WKU fraternity Delta Tau Delta to recharter

After being gone from WKU's campus for nearly four years, a fraternity chapter will be rechartering this next fall.

Doug Russell, 30, director of chapter services for Delta Tau Delta's central office, said WKU had a Delta Tau Delta chapter, but its charter was suspended due to low numbers in 2014. He said the new chapter will begin its colony process in the first few weeks of the fall 2018 semester.

Parking and transportation uses new RFID vans

WKU's Department of Parking and Transportation has a new parking enforcement device this semester.

Their new radio-frequency identification, or RFID, system reads parking permits to make sure cars are parked in the correct lot, Jennifer Tougas, director of parking and transportation said. The tracking device is placed in a parking and transportation van, which is then driven through lots to check for violations. It allows parking enforcement officials to cover the needed ground, even with a reduced workforce.

Tashia Brown named C-USA Player of the Year

For the third time in four seasons, the Conference USA Player of the Year is a Lady Topper. It was announced Wednesday morning that WKU senior forward Tashia Brown became the seventh player in program history to be named conference player of the year. Brown is averaging 22.9 points per game (first in C-USA and sixth in the nation) in her final season.

"It's truly an honor to get this award," Brown said. "I work hard for it every day, and it feels so good to know the hard work paid off."

SGA votes to support grad student employment

The Student Government Association unanimously passed a resolution concerning part-time graduate student employment opportunities during its senate meeting on March 6.

The resolution co-authored by SGA Director of Information Technology Smita Peter and SGA President Andi Dahmer, proposed supporting student employment opportunities for part-time graduate students.

5

Topper Corner permanently closes its doors

WKU boutique Topper Corner permanently closed Monday, Feb. 26, according to its Facebook page.

It was located in a building leased and operated by WKU near the Bowling Green Hot Rods stadium. Brad Wheeler, assistant vice president for business services, said Topper Corner did not shut down due to recent budget cuts. It closed because there wasn't enough business.