B. S. U. Delegates Attend Convention
Fifty-two delegates from Western and B. U. left Bowling Green Friday afternoon, November 8, at one o'clock on a special bus for the State Baptist Student Union Convention in Lexington. Every one had sung, yelled, and "cracked jokes" all the way, Zellie Reid, Jeanne Coward, and Harold Lay were still physically able to take part in a skit at the banquet, which was held at the Hotel Sunday evening, just before the opening of the Ki- lroy program. There were five hundred people at the banquet.

The delivery of the B. U. Union, was the Student Con- ference for the Fourth Session, which was con- ducted by Dr. William Marshall, Par-癞m, President of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Some conventions always prove a pleasant memory to those who attend. There were spiritual mes- sages delivered by outstanding speakers of the Southern Baptist Convention; speeches and musical numbers given by representa- tives from colleges in Kentucky; new friendships were formed and forms were changed and trans- formed at noon—and Zellie Reid liked the Chinese food so well that he tried it in Lexington, and was not there at night. We don't know what "Who, What, Which, When" conferences are, but D. A. Paul- man Purcell seemed to like U. C. Cavanaugh, Mr. Sublett and Bob Kirk had good reasons for being with the crowd at meal time.

After a prayer by Miss Mae Whydle at twelve o'clock on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. for the return trip; and a crowd of young people scattered on the dance floor, but spiritually revived, arrived in Bowling Green about 9 p.m. Sunday night.

SUGGESTION BOX
Since the library is now being used for bookkeeping lab, it is suggested that arrangements be made whereby students will be permitted to check reference books from the library for a period of one day or for the weekend.

The staff of the General Jour- nal was pleased upon coming to school last Monday to find that all stairways had been changed and made white as suggested in this column. This proves the power of the press, so any of you having other good suggestions, submit them to the General Journal, Office, Room 6.

B. U. Mourns Death of Kilroy
Monday, November 11, 1946, will not only be observed as Armis- ter Day but also as Kilroy Day, for that day the most traveled hero of world war II was passed on into somebody else's hair. (He's been in ours too long now).

There was Kilroy蟾s own, B. U., and although classes went on, the air became very somber and the news of his death caused classes to be a little bluer Monday than usual.

Kilroy was a World War II hero for his ability to arrive at far distant points of the earth with advance of all other American troops. Many people considered it a sign of his arrival that he could be found in the air corps and in keeping with that, the air force was sending more to than to travel around writing his name in various pub- lic places. Writing Kilroy's name on address Letters To The Editor will be greatly appreciated.

Kilroy's death was almost as great a loss as the end of the war itself. The true flag, a program was held at the gym. Everyone present was overflowed with sympathy. The school was allowed to be seen without being noticed.

Dr. Harman Heads Commercial Graduation
One little publicized feature of the managerial organization of the Bowling Green College of Commerce and Business University is Student Welfare Department. In order to give assistance to any student in need of medical help, Dr. G. B. Harman, who heads the Student Welfare Department makes the following statements: Cooperation in the procedure outlined is requested by any student who may lack for medical attention.

"It is the duty and pleasure of the Business University to help all students. The institution is familiar with the doctors of the city and with the hospital facilities and can often secure better medical service and more prompt service than the student can secure for himself.

"The following suggestions are made to assist in the giving of service to those needing medical care:

1. If a student is ill enough to need a physician, he should call or have called the college office before or at the time a doctor is summoned.

2. If parents are to be notified about the illness of a student, the Continued on Page 4.

Veteran Wives Form Busy Club
The wives of the Veterans of B. U. were first brought together at a tea given by Mrs. J. Morris Hill at her home in the fall of 1945. Regular meetings were held at her home twice each month, then in May the American Legion Post was reopened for the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month.

At that time the club was organized; officers were elected, and name Veta-Wrens was chosen for the club. Mrs. Carl Hillbrock served as first president, and Mrs. Tom Rogers, as First Vice-President. Mrs. Marvin Timmum and Mrs. Harding Corley were Secretary and Treasurer respectively. Later in the summer a constitution and by-laws were drawn up.

Teas have been given at the home of each sememter to welcome new groups of wives and to help them become acquainted with those already here.

During the summer and fall the Veta-Wrens entertained their husbands and families with a watermelon feast and wiener roast.

The officers elected for the fall term are as follows: Mrs. Robert Wheat, President; Mrs. Harding Corley, Vice-President; Mrs. Robert A. Ferguson, Sec.; Mrs. O. R. Renfro, Treasurer; Mrs. L. J. Galloway, Social Chairman; and Mrs. L. J. Gores, Member- ship Chairman.

A program designed to bring helpful and interesting subjects to our members is being planned for the entire semester. First on the program was a tour through the Kentucky Building last month in which the Veterans Auxiliary of Western State Teachers College also participated.

The Veta-Wrens were formed to bring the wives of Veterans together closer that they might help and enjoy each other while their husbands prepare them- selves for the business world.

PATRONIZE our ADVERTISERS
by Miss Nina Hammer, Registrar

That one of the finest things that comes from a college education is the development of a keen interest in reading, and by this I refer to reading that is over and beyond lessons assigned the headlines in the newspaper, and much of the bulk of modern short stories, it is taken as a fact that while the student is in school and after he leaves college that he will read more or less along the line to which your imagination catches the gleam that is over and beyond lesson assignments, head-teacher, and tax filing. It was always open, and we want you to use it. If you have not, try reading a novel, or a travel book. You will be staggered by the number of pages you read in a month, and when you have finished it, you will no longer feel that the history lesson is some- thing that is going to be covered long ago but that the pages are peopled by men and women working and thinking as you do. In the present-day world, you have attended Sunday School and church services for years, but are the men and women of the world as you look at them in print what you see through the years to the days of Christ? Saint Paul, and you give individuals and situations so familiar that you are sure to recognize the gleam and go to work on the momentum.

Have you had the experience of touching through your reading a field so new that you have scarcely been aware of it before? For instance, the field of play writing? Few of us read plays, and the first attempt presents obstacles that are diffi-cult to overcome. Even the mechanical set-up is different from that of the printed page, and poetry, how do you develop the habit of reading plays and, when you have finished it, you will no longer feel that the history lesson is some- thing that is going to be covered long ago but that the pages are peopled by men and women working and thinking as you do. In the present-day world, you have attended Sunday School and church services for years, but are the men and women of the world as you look at them in print what you see through the years to the days of Christ? Saint Paul, and you give individuals and situations so familiar that you are sure to recognize the gleam and go to work on the momentum.

HAVE YOU READ

The editors note with some degree of satis-faction that our editorialists are not appreciated by all, which is to be expected. The old saying, "You can please some of the people all the time, all of the people all of the time," is as true of our all of the people of the time, is just true of our paper as it is to anything else you may wish to add to it. We intend to keep our editorials as close as possible to the students, and to space them only when we believe that the suggestions offered in our pages will act as a stimulus to the veteran student who gives space to the reading of at least a few good books will be richly repaid for his efforts.

POWER OF THE PRESS

In our first issue it was suggested that a line be painted on the stairs to help the students avoid congestion. This has been accomplished and is available. It is proving very helpful, for a survey of the number of students who pass through since the painting of the line, shows that the con-gestion is well on its way to elimination. We wish to express our thanks to the school for accepting the suggestion, and to the student body for its cooperation. This line is always open, and we want you to use it. If you have a constructive suggestion to make please do not hesitate to do so.
SPORTS

After having suffered a football drought the past weekend, Bowling Green falls right in the middle of a pigeon down pour the next couple of weeks. Friday night B. H. G. will be the underdog against Owensboro and in a second arc-light affair Eastern's Maroons are favored to take Western on Saturday. The following weekend both home-town teams will rest before tlancing with traditional foes in two daylight games scheduled for Western stadium Thanksgiving Day. Both Western and Murray will be attempting to salvage disastrous season in the afternoon clash after the B. G. Puppys play host to Russellville's Panthers in the morning. Incidentally most of the Purple players took advantage of an open date to scout Russellville's win over Providence last Friday. Those of you who like good football will take opportunity to see Russellville, one of the best-coached teams in the state.

Western appears to be on the way to one of its worst seasons of a time following the sound thrashing administered by Morehead last Saturday. Western's lone tally in the 30 to 7 fray again came on a pass, McNeil to Montelli. Looking back over the week's game, it was possible to see a number of Western touchdowns made in any fashion, but particularly on the ground. Since the Austin-Perk opener, which was conceded to be a warm-up before enountering opponents of an equal caliber, the opposition has racked up 23 touchdowns while Western's offense has accounted for only 7. Of the 7 chalked up, 6 have resulted from passes, with Pat McNeil scoring right end for the single touch-

TOPPERS

On the evening of November 2 the Toppers Fraternity and pledges with wives and dates went by bus for an evening at Mr. Hill's cabin. The party was quite a success and a smooth informal evening was fully enjoyed. Formal initiation will be held at the Helm Hotel on the evening of November 10, 1946, for the following pledges: Charles Bell, Billy Pippens, Jack Beam, Joe Ed Flaherty, Ed Headley, Dave Lohman, Bobby Kelton, Clyde Pease.

PI TAU NU

The pledges of the Pi Tau Nu, Andy Johnson, Chuck Millam, Bill Hockenhoff, Rex Meyers, and Tom Hickenloner have now become full-fledged members. After a week of terrific initiation and one "Hell" night, the men are in rare form. This brings the membership up to 31 members, who must possess a "B" average. The week of initiation was climax by a very impressive initiation ceremony at the Helm Hotel with dinner afterwards.

RHO OMEGA ALPHA

The Rho Omega Alpha entertained with a combination dance and card party at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Wednesday. The party was attended by the fraternity members, their wives and dates, Mr. W. R. Matthews, Jr., and a dozen or so specially invited guests. Various card games, ping-pong, and a trip to a juke box were enjoyed. Refreshments were in abundance, and the party was a huge success, lasting from eight until eleven-thirty. Mr. John Buneh served as general chairman of the affairs.

KAPPA SETA PI

The Sweater Hop will come off as before mentioned on the 22nd of November, and the admission is to be 50 cents per person. Be ready for a night of fun and dancing.

Miss Jan Lynch, the "Bell of B. U. was aquired to the Veterans Dance by Mr. Herbie Cofee. Last weekend, while Mr. Cofee was visiting his family in Eliza-dabeth, Ky., Mr. J. L. Harman, Jr., substituted for Mr. Cofere..."

The Sonny Dance had the largest stag line of any of the dances so far this year. Come on fellows, don't let these gals stay home on such nights and study. We understood that Larry Miller changed his name to Larry "Flynz" Miller.

Curtin's "Mercury" sent Merriel Smith cases (4) to the veterans Dáfne. Unquestion unmummmmmmm Good.

STUDENT WELFARE

3. If anyone connected with the Business University knows of a sick student who needs attention, it will favor all concerned if such illness is reported to the school.

6. In case of a serious sudden attack day or night, get the information to Mr. Harmon and it will be his pleasure to immediately visit the one in need and give all the aid possible.

7. If convenient, make all reports of illness to Mr. Harmon, but if he cannot be reached, report to some person connected with the Business University.

"Heath conditions here are excellent, therefore, the above need not be construed as a danger signal, it is only to be of service, when, now and then a student may become ill, that the instructions and suggestions above are made."
