WELCOME TO WESTERN

As Western enters its first full-year as a University many challenges are present. In meeting these challenges, our objective is to amplify Western's traditions of quality educational programs, of friendliness and concern for the students, and of service to the region and State.

At this important junction of Western's development, we feel fortunate to have you as a new member of our faculty. We predict that this will be a fine year, and we believe that your contribution to that end will be an effective one.

During the days ahead we hope to get to know you well, and we want you to soon know more about your University, its traditions, purposes, and spirit.

We welcome you as our colleagues and new-found friends.
