The Executive Committee, comprised of the President (Chair), the President's chief administrative staff, and the chairman and director of the institutional self-study, was formed to advise the President on matters regarding the institutional self-study and other matters related to reaccreditation. The Executive Committee will review the final draft of the institutional self-study report.

A 15-member Steering Committee is responsible to the President for conducting the self-study, preparing all reports including the final institutional report, the team visit, and the planning for implementation of the self-study recommendations. In addition to the Steering Committee, 11 principal committees have been appointed by the President and are responsible for studying and reporting on the 11 standards as required in the Standards of the College Delegate Assembly, SACS.

To accomplish the two major purposes of the self-study and to assist the committees in the overall study of the institution, departments and units within the University are presently conducting a self-study and will provide reports to the Steering Committee. To assist in this process, packets have been distributed to department and unit heads.

To complement the information obtained from departmental and unit self-studies, internal and external surveys will be conducted to assist the principal committees in preparation of their reports. The internal survey will consist of faculty, staff, and student questionnaires while the external survey will obtain pertinent information from Western graduates. To facilitate the conducting of the surveys, a Data Acquisition Committee has been appointed. Members of this committee are Dr. Doris Redfield (Chair), Dr. Dan Roenker, Dr. Julius Sloan, Dr. Joe Stokes, Dr. Brent Tuthill and Dr. Paul Wozniak.

A Writing/Editing Committee will be appointed to prepare the institutional report from the 11 principal committee reports. This final report will be reviewed by the Steering Committee, Executive Committee, and Board of Regents. Planning for implementation of recommendations of the self-study will begin at the completion of this review. Copies of the completed institutional report will be distributed to the visiting team prior to their visit during the spring semester of 1984.
