Commencement Weekend & the Holidays

Fellow Faculty and Staff:

As we wrap up the Fall 2015 semester, I want to thank you for your efforts this semester and wish for you Happy Holidays.

Thanks in advance to all of the faculty and staff who will be participating in tomorrow's fall Commencement ceremonies. Particular appreciation goes out to all of the staff who plan and orchestrate our Commencement ceremonies. It takes a lot of people to conduct one of the great Commencement traditions to be found on any college or university campus.

There are 1,425 eligible to graduate, and we will see 1,268 participate in our two ceremonies. I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible tomorrow.

Following two working days next week, we will begin our holiday break on Wednesday, December 16, and return to work on Monday, January 4. Julie and I wish for all faculty and staff a safe, warm, and happy holiday season. Safe travels to those of you who will be moving about the country to visit family or friends, to vacation, or perhaps to attend WKU's Bowl game in Miami on December 21.

Happy Holidays and Go Tops!

Gary A. Ransdell
