Be The Master

Last Wednesday, in the Western gymnasium, there was held one of the most successful and enthusiastic pep rallies ever witnessed here on the Hill. The spirit and excitement of a school out to win was present in each and every person in the gym. And before the rally had ended, everyone in the building was ready to put on a football uniform and take the field.

This is the kind of spirit it takes to have a winning team. Those guys out on the gridiron like to know that they have the support of all the students they are representing on the football field. If they know you want them to win, they'll try as hard as they can to get that victory. They need some encouragement before the game as well as when the going gets rough.

This same kind of spirit is needed in the classrooms, too. Not the cheering, but the quiet, determined spirit to excel and reach one's goals. In this day and age it takes a lot of pep and enthusiasm to stick with it when the going gets rough, but if the same kind of spirit that was displayed in the gym last Wednesday is also applied to academic work, there is no reason why everyone cannot be a winner.

The motto of Western Kentucky State College is "The Spirit Makes the Master." Students, the spirit is here, in you. Make it work for you in whatever you do, whether it's a pep rally or a research paper, stay in there and fight. Be a winner. Be the Master.

Students Invited To Join Music Groups

The Department of Music welcomes any student who sings or plays a wind or string instrument to join any one of Western's performing groups.

This invitation gives an opportunity for every student who wishes to excel in these various performing groups to progress intellectually with their specific talents. Any student wishing to join a group should contact Dr. Stone in the Music Building.

Stone On S.M.A. Committee

Dr. Thomas Stone, head of the Department of Music is a member of the committee representing the Southern Music Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which will meet in October to evaluate Madisonville High School for membership in the Association.

College-Community Chorus Forsees Outstanding Future

The department of music is sponsoring the newly organized College-Community Chorus, which holds rehearsal weekly, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Mondays, in the recital room of the Western Music Building. The Chorus, two hundred strong, is under the direction of Mr. John Griffy, well known choral conductor, who is the latest addition to Western's music faculty and is assistant principal and director of choral music at Bowling Green High School.

The organization plans to give a public performance of a major choral work with the assistance of the college orchestra.

Students may enroll free of charge, but a small fee will be in effect for faculty and staff members of Western and citizens of Bowling Green and the surrounding area. Members may enroll with or without credit.

The Department of Music believes that the College-Community Chorus fills a long felt need in this area. All evidence in the first rehearsals leads to the belief that the College-Community Chorus of Bowling Green is well well on its way to becoming one of the outstanding musical organ-

Book Marks

By Ferrell Jenkins

Miss Sara Tyler, head librarian, has requested the help of the Herald in encouraging students to use the library facilities for their reading enjoyment. The library is an excellent place to study class assignments. It also provides a haven in which one may read for pleasure.

Like wars? Perhaps you like to read about them. The library now has Lee, an abridgment in one volume by Richard Harwell of the four-volume R. E. Lee by Douglas Southall Freeman. This is an important addition to the library of Civil War books. History students will continue to make use of the original work, but most general readers will find the abridgment convenient and adequate to their needs. Harwell has not become the author. He is only the editor — a hard enough job. The copious footnotes that characterized the four volume work have been eliminated without marring the value of the book; it loses none of its factual precision.

The European War, 1914-18, serves as the setting for The Guns of August by Barbara W. Tuchman. Mrs. Tuchman, a first-rate scholar and an excellent writer, makes an intensive study of the background of the first World War and of many of the battles fought during August, 1914. Cyril Fall, writing in the New York Herald Tribune Book section, charges that there are many errors and omissions in the book, but he admits that he was unable to put it down.

Political leaders do not often use guns and swords, but their strategy is not unlike that used by military men. To Turn the Tide is a selection from President Kennedy's public statements from his election through the 1961 adjournment of Congress, setting forth the goals of his first legislative year. The book is edited by John W. Gardner with a foreword by Carl Sandburg and introduction by the President. More than 40 speeches, either complete or excerpts, cover well President Kennedy's first year in office.

"The Oldest Town in the World" has been used to describe Jericho. The first archaeological excavations there took place as long ago as 1867. A major expedition, under Professor John Garstang, was carried out between 1930-36. Miss Kathleen Kenyon has given the public the main results of the excavations carried out at Jericho between 1952 and 1956 in Digging up Jericho. Miss Kenyon, director of the British School of Archaeology is eminently qualified in this field. Her book is intended as preliminary to the full scientific report. This, too, is a book of war. One may read of the destructions of Jericho as revealed by the archaeological spade. And as the Manchester Guardian points out, "It is also a charmingly fresh description of how an excavation on this scale is even possible when the site lies in the middle of one of the most explosive areas of the Middle East."

Fifteen years ago Miss Gladys Schmitt made a favorable impression on the literary world with David the King. Rembrandt is her new work. The story of Rembrandt's life is a great subject for a novelist. Miss Schmitt tells of the talented, but humble, young man as he moves out of his class into precarious honor and wealth. Rembrandt's development into one of the world's supreme painters has spiritual insight. War of another kind is seen in this book. Conflicts of family, class, marriage, children, and society run through his turbulent career.

Kentucky Building News

A special exhibit is now on display in the Kentucky Library of the books by the noted novelist, Mrs. Janice Holt Giles and books by her husband, Mr. Henry Giles. Her last book, Voyage to Santa Fe, was published in August and she has already commenced research for the background and plot of another novel which will use the Green River country for its setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles have spent a great deal of time lately in the Kentucky Library gathering suitable material to be used in the writing of the novel. Mrs. Giles will soon have off the press a book of another type which tells the story of the building of their present home in Adair County.

The novels on display are as follows: The Believers, The Enduring Hills, Hannah Fowler, Joh ny Osage, The Kentuckians (also paper back edition), The Land Beyond the Mountains, Miss Willie, The Plum Thicket, Savannah, and Tara's Healing.

The library and museum are open the following hours: 9-12 a. m. daily, 1-4 p. m. Saturday, and 2-4 p. m. Sunday.

Western is indeed fortunate in having a man as dedicated as Dr. Kelly Thompson for its President. Last week, the Herald published the contents of a letter written by Dr. Thompson to S. C. Van Curen, editor of the Frankfort State Journal, which stated that he would, under no circumstances, leave his position as president of Western Kentucky State College for any other position in the United States, regardless of what it might be. Western should be extremely proud of a man who will make this kind of statement.

Dr. Thompson came to Western in June, 1929. He was at that time employed by the founder of the college, Dr. H. H. Cherry. Upon the death of Dr. Paul L. Garrett in 1955, Dr. Thompson was elected by the Board of Regents as president of the college.

Since that time, President Thompson has spearheaded a drive which has been directed at improving and expanding every available resource in order that this college become one of the finest educational institutions in the nation. In the seven short years which Dr. Thompson has been president of the college, the enrollment has tripled; the curricula have been broadened, and the physical plant has been increased to meet the needs of the tremendous increase of students. Since 1955, eight major buildings have been added to the physical plant of the college and construction is presently underway on two more.

With an eye still on the future, plans are being prepared for even further expansion of the college campus and physical facilities.

Most recently, the addition of 84 persons to the personnel of the college marks one of the largest staff increases in the history of the institution.

The guiding light in all this expansion, planning and developing has been President Kelly Thompson. Dr. Thompson realizes the need for adequate educational facilities in this age of science and discovery, and is doing everything in his power to provide these things for the students of Western.

Attention students! Has everyone had the opportunity to visit the College Heights Launderette which is located on the campus, across from the college Maintenance Department on the Russellville Road? The Launderette is owned and operated by the College Heights Foundation for the benefit of all Western students and faculty members.

The Launderette is in its second year of operation and has the most modern equipment that can be found. In order to keep pace with the increased enrollment, the College Heights Foundation has added four new washers to the twenty already installed.

In addition to the washers and dryers, there is also a hair dryer for the girls. Also, there are plenty of chairs and tables for the students to study while waiting for their clothes.

The Launderette is maintained by college students, who are on duty at all times to assist students in getting change and aiding them in case of any trouble they may have.

Rev. William E. Allard To Direct Newman Club

The Rev. William E. Allard, Fancy Farm, has been chosen by the most reverend bishop of Owensboro to administrate and direct the newly formed Newman Club at Western. Rev. Allard is urging all Catholic students to join and take an active part in the Catholic club. One of the prime purposes of the club is a training ground for lay Catholic leadership.

Recognizing that hundreds of thousands of Catholics will continue to enroll in secular colleges and universities, the bishops of the United States have designated the Newman Club as the official student organization on the secular campuses.

All state universities and most state colleges, in addition to many private and Protestant-related schools recognize the Newman Club as the student religious foundation for Catholic students. Many clubs now enjoy the services of one or more full-time chaplains such as Rev. Allard here at Western. Faculty advisors also provide a measure of mature guidance and continuity.

The Newman movement has witnessed a remarkable expansion since its beginning. Millions of dollars have been spent on chapels and educational plants which may include, for example, the club on Western's campus, library, recreation rooms, kitchen, offices, study rooms and classrooms. More than 140 priests now devote all their efforts to the Newman apostolate and hundreds more become involved as part-time chaplains.

Father Allard has designated that he will say mass for students every morning at 7 a.m. at the Newman Club chapel and a special Sunday mass for students on Sunday at 11 a.m. at St. Joseph's parish on Church Street.

Everyone is cordially invited and welcomed at the Newman Club, and Father Allard is always ready and willing to give help and assistance to anyone who wishes it.

Western's cheerleaders will give demonstrations to the group at 9:30 and then help serve as judges, with competition starting at 10 o'clock in both varsity and junior varsity divisions.

The judges will follow a point system based on appearance, formation, the cheer and response or participation.

Austin Peay To Meet Hilltoppers Here Sat.

Austin Peay State College, newest member of the Ohio Valley Conference, will be trying for their first win in six attempts against the Western Hilltoppers this Saturday afternoon beginning at 2:00 P.M. The Governors lost to the Toppers last season by a score of 26-6.

Austin Peay, coached by Art Van Tone, a native of Mishawaka, Ind., has 13 returning lettermen from last year's squad which compiled a 2-3 record. The Govs' wins came against Troy State, 21-6, and Carson - Newman, 10-7. This year's season has started out on somewhat the same as last. The Govs have yet to score, losing to powerful Middle Tennessee, 28-0, and to Carson - Newman, 21-0.

Raiders Spill Toppers 17-0

A timely 95-yard punt return by Middle Tennessee's Jim Harvey spurred the Blue Raiders to a 17-0 victory over Western Saturday night.

The third straight shutout for the Raiders moved them to a tie with East Tennessee for the Ohio Valley Conference lead. Both clubs now have 2-0 records for conference play. After the game Saturday night Western is left with an 0-2 record for conference play and a 1-2 overall for the fledgling season.

The Hilltoppers dominated the game in the first quarter and seemed to handle the Blue Raiders at will. Then, with a little more than twelve minutes to go in the second quarter, Bobby Mitchell punted from the Middle Tennessee 45 yard line. Jim Harvey fielded the ball on his own 5 and went 95 yards for a touchdown. Tony Matusek added the point after the touchdown and Middle Tennessee went out front 7-0.

Western had missed one scoring opportunity earlier when Ed Crum's field goal try from the 11 yard line was shy of the mark. Western left the field at half time trailing 10-0 after Matusek had kicked a 26 yard field goal late in the second quarter.

The Toppers missed again when opportunity knocked in the third quarter as Jim Daily fumbled the ball and the Raiders recovered on the two yard line. Late in the final period Harvey connected from four yards out for the final Middle Tennessee touchdown.

Jim Burt was the work horse for the Hilltopper offense, leading the Toppers with 43 yards in 14 rushes. He was also out front in pass catching, hauling in four for 55 yards.

Western is slated to meet Austin Peay State College from Clarksville at 2 p. m. Saturday, which is also high school Band Day and the annual cheerleaders Clinic.

Women's Intramural Council Meets Thurs.

A meeting of the Women's Intramural Council will be held Thursday, October 4, at 6:00 p. m. in the lounge of Western's Student Center.

Miss Betty Langley, faculty sponsor for the Council, has announced the appointment of the following students to represent the various women's dorms and organizations: Molly Ingram, Whitestone; Charlotte Royal, Potter Hall; Betty Stewart, McLean Hall; Bonnie McDonald, New Residents Hall; Brenda Lewis, Regents Hall; Mary Jane Sledge, Baptist Student Center; Nancy Shearer, Beta Omega Chi; Wanda Steenbergen; Pi Sigma Upsilon; and Marilyn Sherrill, En Amie. Each of the representatives are asked to bring one alternate to the meeting.

The purpose of this meeting will be to reorganize an interamural program for the year. Also, the regulations and governing policies which the program will follow are to be set up at the meeting.

Any girl, other than those listed above, who is interested in assuming a leadership responsibility, such as council officer or sports chairman, is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Long Gains

The long gainers have been the primary factor in the losses, speaking primarily of a 75-yard touchdown run by Carson - Newman soph Jim Carter on the first play from scrimmage. Otherwise, the Govs' defense stopped the Carson-Newman offense cold.

Rupert Baker, a 177 - pound senior end who also captains the baseball team, and quarterback Cobb Parker, a three - year letterman, are the main - stays of the Governors offense. Halfback Eddie Gray is the leading ground gainer with 47 yards in 13 carries.

Not Eligible

Because of scheduling difficulties Austin Peay will not be eligible for the conference championship this year. This will be Western's next-to-last home game. The Hilltoppers entertain arch-rival Eastern Kentucky on October 29 which will also be homecoming. The Toppers' only other non-conference foe was Southeast Missouri, which the Tops' defeated in their opener, 28-7.

Tops X-Country Team Outruns Bellarmine 15-50

Western's first cross-country team in the school's history romped past Bellarmine College to the tune of 15-50 Saturday night during the intermission of the Western-Middle Tennessee football game.

The Topper thinlines scored a perfect victory as they swept the first seven places. Paving the way for Coach Tom Ecker's Hilltoppers was freshman Tom Graham of Scottsburg, Ind. Graham negotiated the two miles in 9 minutes, 58.3 seconds. Behind Graham came Mike Oliver of Long Island, N. Y. Mike Roberts, of Hatfield, Ind., Jerome Beazley of Anderson, Ind., John Noel of Louisville, Steve Lyons of Kokomo, Ind., and Jack Mahurin of Caneyville.

The fifteen points compiled by the Toppers was a perfect score as far as scoring goes in cross-country meets. The low score wins.

With runners like Graham, Oliver, and Roberts, Western now looms as a strong contender for the OVC cross-country championship.

Intramural Bowling League Sets Deadline

A meeting of Western's intramural bowling league was held Thursday in the physical education building. The purpose of the meeting was to inform those interested of how the newly adopted policies and point - system would affect Western's intramural bowling program. The new system was recently drawn up by the re-organized intramural sports staff.

Final entry dead - line has been set at 10:00 a.m. Friday, October 5, in which each representative may register his team. All interested persons should contact Coach Griffin or Frank Moore in the intramural office in the physical education building.

LARRY DYKES, Sports Editor

While taking a beating from the team that was picked in pre-season polls to finish sixth in a league of seven teams, the Toppers find themselves still the No. 1 team offensively in the OVC. Owner of the best defense in the Ohio Valley Conference last year, the Hilltoppers have racked up 658-yards running and passing in two starts and their 329-yards per game average is by far the best in the league.

Looking at some of the individual league leaders, Lee Murray is way ahead in the pass receiving department with six catches for 115 yards. This puts him ahead of Middle Tennessee's All-America end, George Dykes. Jim Daily and Jimmy Baker East Tennessee are tied for total offense with 220 yards apiece. The 6-foot-4 Daily is off to the best start of his college career and he stands a good chance of ending his college days by leading the OVC in passing and total offense. His career totals to date (through the East Tenn. game) are 269 tosses and 116 completions for 1,504 yards and only 17 interceptions.

Feix Still Holds Passing Record

Few of us were around back in 1952 when quarterback coach Jimmy Feix was playing for the Hilltoppers. The Ohio Valley Conference has yet to come up with a quarterback that could match Feix's passing record for a single season of 127 completions in 201 attempts for 1,751 yards and 15 touchdowns. The Hilltoppers won nine of ten games that year, including a 34-19 victory over Arkansas State in the Refrigerator Bowl. Feix's career record of 271 completed passes for 3,794-yards and 30 touchdowns may never be approached in the OVC, at least not for a long time!

Press-Box Crowded

The press-box during the football game is as busy as a beehive giving the Hilltoppers as complete a coverage as any team in the state. Four radio stations, and sometimes as many as eight to ten reporters plus five statisticians are on hand during each game. Radio stations WLBK, with Bud Tyler and Jim Pickins; WBGN, with Bob Proctor; WKAY of Glasgow, and the visiting team's station with Hank Royce are on hand for all the Toppers football and basketball games.

The public address announcer you will be hearing throughout the football and basketball season is Clarke Fenimore.

Western's First Cross-Country Team Formed

A new face and a new sport have been added to Western's athletic program for the coming school year. The face is that of Tom Ecker; the sport is cross-country. Western will be fielding its first cross-country team in the school's history under the direction of Coach Ecker.

A well-qualified track coach, Ecker was the 600-yard-dash champion of the Big Ten while attending the University of Iowa. His first book, Championship Trac and Field, is now in its third printing.

Although coaching cross-country, Ecker's main objective will be to turn Western into an OVC track power, and he has struck talent-rich Indiana and Ohio for some of the top prep tracksters in the state. These along with several transfers and some of last season's top performers make the future look bright for the thinlies from Western.

Reminder of Cross-Country Schedule is as follows: October 6 — Univ. of Kentucky — Away; October 13 — Cumberland College — Home; October 20 — Murray State College — Away; November 2 — Union University Invitation — Away; November 17 — Southern States X-C Run — Away; November 22 — Shamrock Run — Away, and December 1 — OVC Championships — Away.

game of the season. This will also be Band Day and the YMCA Cheerleaders Clinic will be held in the morning. The game will begin at 2:00. The last home game will be October 29, against Easter which will also be Homecoming.

Frosh Netters Average 6'5"

Although basketball season is a little far in the future, this year's freshman team should be one of the tallest teams of recent years. Of the eight boys on scholarship, the average height is 6'-5". Coach Charlie Osborne hopes this team could be one of the best ever!

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

With today's entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns in your school newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Nine years, I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, it took only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez Canal, and you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! To be sure, the work would have gone more rapidly had the shovel been invented at that time, but, as we all know, the shovel was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of Cleveland, Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all digging was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably dainty but hardly what one would call rapid. There were, naturally, many efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's breakthrough—notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal Thomas Alva Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only thing that happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This so depressed Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy from which he did not emerge until two years later when his friend William Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered him up by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

But I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine years they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You think that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled flavor, who has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in Marlboro's jolly red and white pack or box should be more than willing to write about Marlboro without a penny's compensation. You are wrong.

Compensation is the very foundation stone of the American Way of Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system absolutely requires that you be paid for it. For example, I have a friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, who simply adores to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up and say, "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, let's go flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he will always reply, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case somebody wants a dog wormed." I mean there is not one thing in the whole world you can name that Rex likes better than worming a dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worming your dog because in his wisdom he knows that to do otherwise would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of democracy.

"I better stay in case somebody wants a dog wormed."

It's the same with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art. I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the filter-maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent the pinnacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleasure and a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have been chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the same, I want my money every week. And the makers of Marlboro understand this full well. They don't like it, but they understand it.

In the columns which follow this opening installment, I will turn the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of campus life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the undergraduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer classrooms be converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors be given a saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students be held for ransom?"

And in these columns, while grappling with the crises that vex campus America, I will make occasional brief mention of Marlboro Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me any money.

The makers of Marlboro will bring you this uncensored, free-style column 26 times throughout the school year. During this period it is not unlikely that Old Max will step on some toes—principally ours—but we think it's all in fun and we hope you will too.
