Student Advisory Council Holds Kick-Off Breakfast

The President's Student Advisory Council met at an informal breakfast gathering in the cafeteria Monday morning, November 13, to officially inaugurate the activities of the Council.

The Council consists of 75 members of the student body, representing the various classes, clubs and organizations on the Hill, and their faculty advisors, attended the breakfast. Fol­lowing the breakfast, Dean of Students Charles A. Keown introduced the student representatives and the faculty and addressed the assembly, attending the breakfast, after which President Kelly Thompson addressed the group, out­lining the purposes and objectives of the Council.

President Thompson stated that the Council had come a long way since its formation seven years ago, and that the time seemed ripe for the Coun­cil to become a more effective group than it had been in the past. Although the Council had been very helpful in the past in bringing to light student opinion on various issues pertinent to the college, Dr. Thompson is of the opinion that the full potential of the Council had not yet been reached.

Better Cross-Section

Dr. Thompson told the mem­bers that the Council is very important as a medium for expansion and advancement being needed for the growth and development of the college's operation called for cooperation, creativity and continued support. He expressed his appreciation of the Advisory Council in forming the Council, but expressed the desire that a better cross-section of student repre­sentation be developed.

From "Around-The-World" Comes A Library Display

By Linda Walker

A display of over 20 different articles representing countries throughout the world has been placed in the display case in the lobby of the second floor of the library by Miss Jane Love, former teacher at the training school, for the benefit of those who wish to learn about the customs of different lands.

Do you know that even today, in the twentieth century, the art of weaving in gold is still used to adorn clothing? Also, you wouldn't expect to find the St. Albans parliamentary Odeon in the ancient theater of the island of Cyprus. There is a beautiful hand-made carpet which is typical of this art, and gives an idea of the weaving skill of the people of that day.

Alaska is the most represented country in the display.

Well-Equipped Training School Does More Than Train Teachers

The Training School exists for the primary purpose of training teachers. It provides laboratory and research experiences for teacher-training students. It also serves as a demonstration school for inservice training of teachers, who come from this area and in other areas of Kentucky.

In the teaching of the Training School, it is our aim to develop an atmosphere of experimental learning which will make it possible to carry out these functions in an effective manner.

The Training School is organized on the six-plus plan with grades one through six comprising the elementary school. Elementary school units have one supervisor teaching for each grade. The secondary school, which is departmentalized, consists of grades seven through twelve.

The secondary school, which is departmentalized, consists of grades seven through twelve. Secondary school units have one supervising teacher for each grade. The secondary school, which is departmentalized, consists of grades seven through twelve.

The high school is given the highest accreditation by the Board of Education and by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The Training School maintains throughout the year a strict code for the purpose of eliminating learning difficulties and applying appropriate remedial measures.

The diagnosis of such difficulties is based on a thorough analysis of each child's educational status. Perhaps the only way to analyze a child's academic status is to review the results of intelligence tests, standard achievement tests, tests of vision and hearing, personality tests, and other pertinent data as well as methods of controlling the student.

We believe in the use of the faculty in the best possible way, and the students should learn the importance of the training school for additional instruction.

Training School Objectives

The following objectives have been set up by the Training School.

1. The development of a sound philosophy of teaching.
2. An understanding of the total school program and the specific work of the individual teacher in each subject of the school.
3. A thorough understanding of the moral, emotional, and social development of school pupils and of the role that this development has in good instruction.
4. The ability to provide a good environment for learning and to manage routine matters so as to economize in time and to promote the maximum individual and group growth.
5. The ability to direct such student activities as athletics clubs, school and community functions, library work, student activities, etc.
6. The ability to make use of a 100 percent learning in terms of daily plans for teaching.
7. A knowledge and experience that will result in the ability to participate effectively in community activities.
8. The ability to assume full responsibility for teaching, which ability should come about through a planned program of increasing responsibilities.
9. The ability to evaluate learning and teaching to modify teaching, in terms of evaluation.
10. A continuous professional growth of the supervisor teacher.

Before the next issue of this paper is printed, Coach Ed Diddle will have opened his program for the $68,000 basketball team of the Western Hill Rebels. This is the first time since 1942 that the Western Hill Rebels have worn the colors of the white and blue uniforms in a varsity basketball game.

Coach Diddle is not just a college basketball coach, but is also a successful high school coach. In fact, he has won 295 games and has lost just 124.

The basketball team will open its season December 4 when the Scottsville Vikings visit the "Red Barn." The Rebels got a loud 56-2 series from Paul Lowe last Wednesday. They managed to jump into first place in the league last week. Sing's Dorm advanced from fifth place to third place while the Jeffersontown Rebels are in fourth place.

The Rebels are looking for a good season and are expected to be one of the top clubs in the league. They have a strong team and they are going to make a strong effort to win the championship.

Intramural Flag Football Action

The men's flag football program continued this past week under new revised rules. The purpose behind the changing of the rules was to eliminate as much as possible the possibility of players receiving serious injuries. So far, the results have been very satisfactory.

In the action last week, Bakers Donn edged out the City Slickers 13-12. A protest was made by the City Slickers and the game is not yet official. The Hardin County club outlasted Butler County 29 to 14. The Jefferson County club topped the Omar Krons 7-6 and the Delta won by forfeit over the Rebels.

Doug Tooney ran for one touchdown and threw two TD passes to Tom Jenkins and Chartzer to lead Bakers Donn to their third victory. Paul Woodall ran for both of the City Slickers' touchdowns.

Sorcing the game, only touchdowns in the last quarter as a pass from Darrell Bickel to Jim Cassile, the Jefferson County club topped the Omar Krons and r m i d e d undefeated. Bethold has also to Castle for the extra point.

Western Edges Murray 16-15 To Close Out Football Season

Murray's homecoming was a long, long day last Saturday as the Hilltoppers nudged the Thoroughbreds 16-15 to end the season. Once again it was Murray's passing that sparked the win with a 46-yard pass for the winning score. Murray's third one-point loss of the season.

The Hilltoppers then picked up a personal foul which pushed them back to their own 49 but Daily hit End Stan Napper on the Murray 9. On the next play, Daily tossed to Jim Burt for the winning score. Ed Crum's placement was blocked but that was the game. Murray's scoring came in the first quarter on a field goal, second-quarter TD, and a third-quarter TD. Quarterback Tony Faresani tried desperation passes in the last quarter as the Hilltoppers were leading 16-15 but all was vain as the Topper pass defense and rushing linesmen were at their best.

Field Goal
Western's scoring came in the first quarter with John Burt going in from the two. Then a field goal by Ed Crum in the second quarter put the Toppers ahead at the half by a 16-9 score. That was the Hilltoppers in the backfield were Daily, John Burt, Jim Burt, and Joe Pappas. End Stan Napper stood out in the line as did Bill Mumford.

Rascoe Plays With AAU Team Against Russians In Nashville

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This interview with Bobby Rascoe written by Ronnie Stuart was published in the Nashville Bulletin on November 5, 1962, as it appeared in yesterday's edition of the Daily News. The game was on Monday.)

By Ronnie Stuart
The Associated Press
Nashville, Tenn.: Former Western basketball ace Bobby Rascoe, a Russian Olympic team currently on tour in the United States, said he had a ball when he tried a hand at beating Ohio State, the team which twice subdued the Hoosiers at the NCAA Tournament.

The All-American star was interviewed both before and after he played in Nashville's new Civic Auditorium on Wednesday. It was the Soviet's first triumph in three games of the tour.

Rascoe scored three points, the first time he has dented the nets in three games of the tour.

Korneiev is holder of most valuable player of the South which was presented by Rascoe on behalf of the city of Nashville.

Rascoe, who made his first start of the tour last night, has really felt the effects of the defense. He appeared briefly in the first game and did not see action in the second game. He had not scored until last night.

Hits For Three
He played about tw o-thirds of the first half without scoring, but collected three points early in the second half. He attempted only two field goals and was out of favor.

Rascoe described AAU ball as more aggressive ball. He said the big difference comes in the fact that there are no Walter Dean and there are no work point teams. Rascoe said the defense is better than in college.

Rascoe connected on one of two free throws.

The games with the Soviet team are being played under International Basketball Rules, and no one-shot fouls are called. On a free throw normally calling for one, the official team calls the ball in from out of bounds. All fouls are called.

Rascoe's first three points of the series were not enough as the Russians beat the AAU team. A Russian's women's team, which played against the Phillips Academy's National champion women's team, also won. The score of that game was 51-39.

Six members of the Phillips Academy AAU team with which Rascoe will play the 1962-63 season, are also participating in the tour. From Nashville the group goes to Lubbock, Texas, for a game.
