The Christmas season again is a busy one, and the recreational activities are being made for joy.

For many, Christmas is a time of mixed activities, traveling from colleges and prep schools, and relatives and friends coming for a holiday-long visit.

It is a time when Christmas lights begin glowing all dark, and many sturdy buildings in downtown are decorated with bright ornaments and strings of lights.

Lights Before you place electric lights in your window, make sure that the wires are in proper working order, that the electricity is on, and that the lights are not fried wires or loose connections.

Midterm exams are over; and now is the time we begin to look ahead. This probably means that students will have a little more time to read for enjoyment and recreation. The Library has a number of books that we think you will find of interest.

The Library Sourcebook of Geography: Europe is the first in a series of books on geography. It is a vellum on geography to cover the varied geography of the world. It is an attempt to outline the pattern of the various parts of the world. They relate diverse features of social, economic, religious, linguistic, climatic, political, national, economic, and natural forces and geographies of the world. In this volume the student is introduced to the fundamentals of geography.

Taking For Granted

Of all the buildings on Western's campus, the library is perhaps the most familiar to students. But the Library is not the only building on Western's campus that is of interest to students.

Many of the buildings on Western's campus are of interest to students because of their convenience to Western students and their durability of construction and large capacities.

The appearance of numerous black and yellow fall shelter signs on several buildings around the campus has fascinated many students. However, the appearance of these shelter signs has made them familiar to students.

One of the most frequently heard remarks about these shelter signs is that they detract from the appearance of the buildings themselves.

Although there may be some basis for some of these remarks, it is generally accepted that the shelter signs are an integral part of the campus and that they are a symbol of the campus.

The shelter signs will remain as a symbol of the campus.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters points out that observation of certain precautions can make your Christmas a fire-free one. Remember, a Christmas tree is filled with resin, and is flammable.

With a little simple care, you can keep your Christmas tree free from fire, and prevent your holiday from ending in tragedy. There is a fire from the fire department.

Fire departments have already begun to receive calls from people who are burning their Christmas trees.

Christmas trees have been placed in the hands of those who would value it and appreciate its beauty and its worth.

In millions of homes, there will be fire departments.

The Toppers will get a few days off during Christmas before traveling to Nashville where they will meet their first Southeastern Conference opponent in several years, Vanderbilt. "Vandy," the only team to hand Mississippi State three losses last year by a 20-0 score, has three returning starters. Led by Captain John Russell who averaged 16 points a game the modern expect to have more height and depth. Help from two Kentuckians, Rob Grace (Christian County) and Mike Gambill (Louisville Waggener), should give them added support in depth as both boys are sophomore.

The only thing that can be said about the Toppers next opponent is they are Toppis. Arch-rival Eastern comes to Bowling Green on January 5, seeking revenge from the two defeats the Toppers handed them last a year. A pair of 6-5 forwards and a 6-7 center give the Maroons the necessary height up front and a 6-6 Latvian-born guard, who has been touted as one of the heightest prospects ever to play at Eastern, will make the Maroons hard to handle this year. Four returning starters included 6-2 Jim Weak, 6-1 Russ Muller, 6-7 Don Bicker, and 6-1 Tower Stevenson, make the Maroons a veteran ball club.

Tennessee Tech

Tennessee Tech the only OVC team to beat the Toppers last year will be looking for a win over the Toppers in Cookeville on January 1. However, this could be a lean year for the Golden Eagles as four of five starters were lost via the graduation route. Frank Winton (6-1), and Tommy Bowker (6-3) are two experiences returns and 6-6 Robert Num furniture, a redshirt from last year, could give the Eagles their much needed offensive punch. The Eagles may also return sponsor on their tone press this year than in the past to make up for their lack of experience and scoring threats.

of the Falcons of Bowling Green University went to Butler University, who eventually beat them in Iowa City. The Pilots have four returning starters back and this includes 6-8 Nate Thurmond. The Pilots were defeated seven times in pre-season poll. Better come early and get a seat, this could be a good one.

Carrier And Jackson Lead Toppers
To Initial Home Court Cage Victory

Western’s “Preliminary Five” turned into the “Perfect Five” December 4 as they ousted Texas Western 104-94 in their opening home game of the 1962-63 season. The win was Coach Ed Diddle’s 750th against only 2.80 losses as scored 24 points in the early onslaught. Jackson had eight for 15 from the field and was perfect at the free-throw with three for three.

The three remaining regulars Jim Dunn, Larry Castle, and Sherman Waddell each scored 10 and 4 points, respectively.

Junior guard Bob Moore got a big hand from the crowd of 4,100 as his 30-foot jumper got the Toppers past the century mark with only 6 seconds remaining in the game. The win made a good showing as they accounted for 35 points of the Toppers’ total of 391.

The Hilltoppers hit 41 of 64 shots from the field for a 65.6 percent and grabbed 42 rebounds with center Warner Calies collecting 11. Bob Jackson 18 and Jim Dunn nine. Reserve Ray Reams clinched eight.

The old saying, “Third time is charm”, proved to be true for Murray as they slipped by Western 89-85 to win the Ohio Valley Conference cross-country meet at Cookeville, Tenn., recently.

Western had previously beaten Murray twice during the regular season and had been established as a slight favorite to win the meet.

Tennessee Tech moved out. Eastern for third place 69-73 to round out the scoring of the four meets.

Western’s Curt Sanders won in-individual honors as expected, as he ran the four-mile course in 31 minutes, 31 seconds.

In Second

Western’s Jim Graham, finished a surprising second, forty years off the pace of Sanders. Graham’s fine showing was not expected, due to the fact that he had never beaten Tech’s Bobbie Norris (5F), Murray’s David Wil- liams (4th), or Eastern’s Larry Whilen (7th).

Ordering out the top ten med- al earners were: Mike Talcott, Eastern; Frank Crave, Murray; Mike Roberts, Western; Dean Bell, Tennessee Tech; Mike Oliver, Western.

A Good Season

Coach Tom Ecker’s Hillloppers in only their first year of cross-country competition, closed out a brilliant season. The season was highlighted by the Toppers’ victory in the Southern States-cross-country meet which gave them the first track trophy since 1959. The Toppers also became the first team to beat Murray since Fort Campbell turned the trick in 1959.

In PR Duel

The Pershing Rifles’ athletes toured the pledges 20-0 in football play Sunday after- noon, November 18. The game, played on the muddy stadium field, climaxed eight weeks of preparation for the pledges.

The actives scored three touch- downs. Jim Raby scored the first on a fifteen yard pass from quarterback Sue Hall. Tom Gray add- ed the second touchdown on a pass from Hall. Hall scored the second touchdown on a thirty- five yard run. He then passed to halfback Bob Suffit for two points.

The defenses on for the actives, led by big Bill Rinkel and Dave Duvall, were奏起 enough business to keep the pledges in their end zone and recovered active Gene Peaceful. Mike Kimm- er’s kick for extra point was blocked.

The story for the pledges was not enough bounce, although quar- terback Jack Daniel and half- back Randy Morris turned in several fine runs. The pledges defense held the actives until the fourth quarter when the pledges began to tire.
