In March 2015, WKU Glasgow faculty conducted a new Study Away program called, "The Kentucky Experience." With 19 students participating, a team of dedicated WKU Glasgow faculty spent spring break touring different regions of Kentucky and explored how the Commonwealth's history is shaped by the landscape and the people who make Kentucky their home. Visits included Bardstown, Shakertown at Pleasant Hill, Frankfort, Lexington, Cumberland Falls State Park and points in between. Students received course credit for up to two classes in Geography of Kentucky and Kentucky History.
