CHAMBERS OF
WALTER EVANS,
JUDGE.

Louisville, Ky., October 8th, 1906.

Mr. Robert Ludlow Fowler,
49 Exchange Place,
New York.

My Dear Mr. Fowler:

I have received Fowler's Real Estate Law of the State of New York, which you sent me with your kind regards. I appreciate this very highly, and thank you very much for it. Even if the subject is treated altogether from the standpoint of the law of New York general principles are probably very much the same everywhere, and I have no doubt they are treated with great intelligence in your volume. I shall, however, especially prize the book as a memento of a most pleasant association during the past few months.

I regretted very much my absence when you called last Wednesday evening, as it would have been most pleassant to have had another chat with you.

Hoping that the ladies and Robert have recivered from the fatigues of the voyage homeward, I am,

Very cordially yours,

P.S.--I hurt my thumb so badly on my way home as not to be able to do my own writing. It is much better now. W.E.

CHAMBERS OF
WALTER EVANS,
JUDGE.Louisville Ky
July 13. 1908

My dear Mr Fowler

Recalling your connection at one time at least with the National Bank of North America, I have been intending ever since its suspension to write to you and express the very earnest hope that that misfortune did not bring much loss to you. A pretty busy winter, however, has brought delays.

With best wishes and with kind regards to the members of your family

I am very cordially
Walter Evans

CHAMBERS OF
WALTER EVANS,
JUDGE.

Louisville, Ky., May 3, 1913.

Hon. Robert Ludlow Fowler,
Chambers of the Surrogates Court,
New York.

My dear Judge Fowler:

I am glad to know from your recent letter that you will take what I think is a much needed trip, and I guess the one to Norway will be about as fine as you could select. I wish you a most beneficial and enjoyable voyage.

I regret to hear that Mrs. Fowler is not in her usual health, and am sorry to say that my daughter is not in first rate shape, but I do hope that both these ladies will soon be much better.

My best wishes always attend you, and I know the presence of Bobbie will be most helpful.

Very cordially yours,

Walter Evans

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12, 1913.

The Honorable Robert Ludlow Fowler,

Hall of Records,

New York, N.Y.

My dear Surrogate:

I have read with great pleasure, and profit as well, your most interesting article, "The Future of the Common Law" in the Columbia Law Review.

I do not see a thing in it that is not sound and most wholesome in this period, when there is so much tendency in the direction of ignoring standards which time has demonstrated to be sound for the sake of going after things mainly because they are novel or are suggested by foreign taste rather than discriminating common sense.

I should probably regret that I am somewhat more pessimistic than you are as to the future.

Thanking you sincerely for sending me the paper, I am,

Very cordially,

Walter Evans

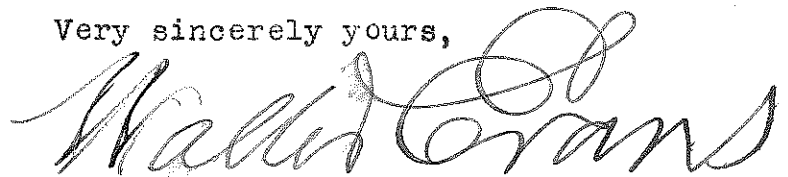

NEW YORK CITY, September 15, 1914.

Dear Surrogate:

It is indeed a curious circumstance that I should sit in court here for two weeks, as I have done, without seeing you. Upon request I consented to come for a fortnight after my vacation was over and did so about the second instant. Of course I at once inquired for you, only to find that you were lost in the European fog --- nobody knowing just when you might be looked for.

It goes without saying that I am exceedingly sorry not to see you; furthermore, I hope you will soon come back safely without having been subjected to much trouble on the warlike side of the Great Waters. I am glad to say my vacation appears to have done me much good.

Very sincerely yours,

Hon. Robert Ludlow Fowler,

My dear Surrogate:

I have read with great interest your admirable address delivered before the Pan-American Scientific Congress. I do not know how the subject could have been more ably or entertainingly treated than it was by you. The address indicated great research and clear thinking, and must have been received as a very valuable contribution to the work of the Congress.

Accept my sincere congratulations.
