President, Keith Coffman President Coffman reported on his meeting with several officials regarding University Blvd. There will be no skywalk for now. A few short-term decisions were made: the speed limit will be lowered from 35 mph to 25 mph, the yellow lights will flash 24 hours a day, and rumble strips will be added 50 feet before the crosswalks to warn drivers of students crossing. Next, he encouraged everyone to attend the President’s Preston Premiere at the Preston Center on Wednesday November 12 at 4:30 p.m. There will be a student basketball team playing against the President’s team of administrators. President Coffman then encouraged everyone to attend all Hilltopper athletic events in support of all our teams. He announced that the football team went 9-1 during the regular season and will be going to the play-offs soon. The women’s pre-season NIT will be at Diddle Arena on Friday November 14. Finally, President Coffman awarded the President’s Award to Eddie Schwab for all his enthusiasm on Congress.

Vice President, Leigh Ann Sears Vice President Sears congratulated Congress on all their hard work; there are 9 pieces of legislation up for first reading tonight. She reminded Congress that if anyone is wanting legislation typed for the meetings that the office secretaries need them turned in by the Mondays before the meetings. Next, Vice President Sears reported that she will be meeting with Facilities Management this week about the location of the proposed stage project on DUC South Lawn and she will also be meeting with Scott Taylor regarding the funding. Finally, she announced that SGA will be sponsoring a contest for someone to create a mural for the office wall; watch for advertisements in the Herald.

Director of Public Relations, Heather Rogers PR Director Rogers announced that she had written a commentary for the Herald that explained the suggestion boxes in the residence halls, DUC and Garret. There is a survey in the paper for all students to fill out and place them in these boxes. If you go by one of these boxes, please check them. Next, Director Rogers announced that there will be a blood drive on December 3 and SGA has been asked to help promote it. A representative from the Red Cross will speak to Congress on November 18. All committee heads need to list all the activities they have done this semester and turn them into her. Director Rogers will be making posters that have all activities listed on them to post in the office. Next, Rogers reminded everyone to watch out for upcoming UCB events especially next semester and to encourage other students to attend. Director Rogers then elaborated on the Student Government Mural Contest. She will be placing an ad in the Herald to promote this. The deadline for submitting a drawing will be December 2 at 5 p.m. Finally, Rogers told Congress to wear their SGA shirts next Tuesday.
