COLLECTION NOTE

This collection documents the Artists in Residence (AIR) Program, a joint project of the Kentucky Folklife Program and the Kentucky Arts Council. Folklorist Amy Davis and fieldworker/folk artist Sue Masek documented folk traditions in Union County, Kentucky and then presented those traditions in local elementary schools through in-class instruction and special programs by local folk artists. Pottery, coal mining, quilting, cattle ranching, African Americans, Amish, foodways and folk medicine are some of the traditions that were documented in Union County as part of this program. This collection includes a folklife survey, interviews on audio cassette tapes, photographs, negatives, slides and video cassette tapes.
