Western First In State With Counseling Program

Western will become the first school in Kentucky to offer a counseling program for students. The program is being planned now when the guidance division of the education department launches a series of counseling clinics beginning Monday, July 2.

Announced by Dr. T. O. Hall, member of Western’s Department of Education and college guidance program, the counseling program for students is designed for students who are facing academic and personal problems. A “war orphan” is defined as a child olr veteran who has died of service - incurred disability, the counseling program set up for war orphans by the Veterans Administration in 1946 is designed to help those eligible for the program choose a course of study in college.

Previously in Kentucky, the counseling program for the war orphans was handled directly by the Veterans Administration. Thus when the first students arrive at the Western campus for counsel-

Herald To Offer News...More News

By BERNARD MADISON

Attention all readers of the Herald!

The opening of the fall semester means more and better coverage of the news which concerns Western, its students, and its community. The Herald has been accomplished by changing from a bi-weekly to a weekly newspaper.

Through the past semester, the Herald has proved its readers with complete coverage of campus activity. The fall semester brought the expansion of academic facilities. It has become necessary to expand the ability of the campus newspaper to keep up with the news. This expansion will increase the inclusions and volume of the news in the Herald.

To the members of the new freshman class, which promises to be the largest ever, it might be explained that the Herald is Western's official newspaper and is written and edited by students. To these new arrivals the Herald can prove to be a valuable local news service, and the Herald will report, as it must, the numerous other advancements of the institution.

A.L. Crabb Honors City Of Nashville in Novel

This book is an accurate record of the city's growth and the women responsible for its development.

Nashville's life began when a pioneer named John Donelson founded a settlement in 1779.

The novel's hero is Dr. John Crabb, a physician who became involved in the city's politics.

Nashville has never been without its share of intrigue and scandal, Dr. Crabb points out that "the Hermitage" and "the Hermitage Inn" in Nashville have similar names.

In Nashville, the city is the center of Nashville life, but not as a city of在全国范围内。牛顿自然给出了他的观点。

Experience To Add To 1961-62 Debate Team

The Western Debate Associates represented the college in intercollegiate competition in five major tournaments this past college year. Although only two veteran members of the squad returned at the beginning of the fall semester, Western tied University of Kentucky and Georgetown for top place at the Western Tournament in November, only to be module out by R. K. on the basis of individual points.

These same debaters gave a most excellent of themselves to earn excellent certificates in the University of Illinois, Chicago Branch Tournament in December. In the Kentucky Debates, Western's Junior Team was second place and affirmative debater, Bobby Loden, was Awarded a trophy for top speaker.

In the Baldwin National Tournament at Belknap College and in the Ten Kepp Alpha National in May, three members of the Associates who participated in the Baldwin National, 1962. In addition to these two tournaments, two members of the Associates attended the Baldwin National Tournament at Belknap College and in the Ten Kepp Alpha National in May.

The gradate of the coaches and the college goes to the Louisville Bank Company which generally aided with transportation for the Western Debate Associates trip. With the return of most of this year's squad next fall, they may expect a highly successful season in 1962-63. Later in the season several promising new members joined the group. These should add the spark left by graduation and strengthen the team with new life in the form of more debaters.

Western To Award Co-eds Degrees In Medical Technology

Two Western co-eds scheduled to be awarded their degrees at summer commencement exercise on August 4 will have the distinction of receiving their degrees in a relatively new major at Western.

Beverly Davis of Coloma and Martha Sue Collins of Columbus will be awarded the bachelor of science degree with a major in medical technology.

For the past school year, the two seniors have been studying and working at Norton Memorial Hospital in Louisville, completing requirements for their degree. Under the program of study a major in medical technology at Western, a major in the field must complete 90 hours of course work at Western during the freshman, sophomore, and junior years. During the senior year, the medical technology majors complete the final 30 hours toward the bachelor's degree at the Norton Memorial Hospital in Louisville. After completion of the program, the medical technology majors are awarded the bachelor of science degree by Western, and are automatically eligible to take the State examinations to become registered medical technologists.

Both Beverly and Martha Sue entered Western in the fall of 1962 and began their training program at Norton's in the fall of last year. They completed their work at Norton's this month and will return for commencement exercises in August.

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Davis of Coloma, Martha is the daughter of Mrs. and Mr. Luther Collins of Columbus.

Following graduation Beverly will work at Owensboro, while Martha will take a job in Louisville.

Western Grad Chosen As ‘Professor Of The Year’

Dr. Harold B. Gilbreth, A. B. ’78, head of the Department of Business and Economics and director of the summer school at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. Car., was recently named “Distinguished Professor of the Year” by unofficial vote of the faculty of Winthrop College South Carolina for women. This is the first award of its kind in the 70-year history of the college.

Dr. Gilbreth was cited as "an example of all-round excellence" by Walter D. Smith, dean of the college.

Continuously associated with Winthrop since 1919, he has earned an outstanding reputation in academic circles.

Dr. Gilbreth also holds degrees from the Bowling Green College of Commerce, the University of Kentucky, and New York University, where he received his doctorate.

The citation honoring Dr. Gilbreth was in part as follows:

"This gentleman is a scholar in his field, but in it he has earned the highest degree given. He possesses the usual qualities of modesty, unassuming, and always pleasant in a quiet way. He is true to his convictions, courageous, with a sure courage is called for, and firm, though never so demanding when the needs of others are in conflict with his own.

The Winthrop professor has served as president of the Southern Business Education Association, associate editor of Business Education Forum and of Modern Business Education and director of the Southern Business Education Association and the Georgia and South Carolina Associations.

Born and reared in Bowling Green, Dr. Gilbreth is the son of Mrs. Wilma Gilbreth, who now makes her home with his sister, and the late Mr. Gilbreth.

Three Ph. D.'s

Dr. Alexander Calandra, professor of physics at Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, was on the campus the week of June 10-12, serving as visiting lecturer for the National Science Foundation summer science institute now in progress at Western.

More Buildings To Take Shape As Fall Arrives

Western's building program will continue this fall, with the construction of a new six-story women's dormitory and the new science building. The latter, with 150,000 square feet of floor space, will provide the department of science with a new home.

Construction is in progress on the new home for the women's dormitory. The building will be completed in November.

Education Fraternity Begins On Campus

Western has been approved for a campus chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, international professional Fraternity for men in education. The membership is composed of recognized leaders in the profession and students whose leadership potential has been identified. Members come from a wide range of educational endeavors: classroom teachers, administrators, college and university professors. They represent research and teaching interest in all areas of subject matter knowledge. In Phi Delta Kappa, they also find a fellowship based on common interests and ideals which make possible group action for the promotion of free public education through research, service, and leadership.

Phi Delta Kappa chapters are spread from New York to Hawaii and from Ontario, Canada, to Washington in Florida and California. Campus chapters are located at more than 100 approved colleges and have a wide faculty and graduate rank. Alumni groups are organized as fraternal chapters in nearly 75 college centers. Membership exceeds 40,000, with members in good standing numbering 10,000.

The program of Phi Delta Kappa is designed to stimulate the professional growth of its members and to meet the current problems and needs of public education. Within this framework, each chapter carries out its own services and projects. At the international level, the fraternity program is moved forward through momentum, a research orientation, and professional publications.

Phi Delta Kappa is divided into seven geographic districts. Each district is under the supervision of a district representative, and the chapter he serves.

Area coordinators are elected to assist the district representatives in stimulating and coordinating chapter activities.

Among the qualifications set up for members here at Western are:

1. Applying students must have at least 36 hours towards a bachelor's degree with 16 hours in education and a 2.0 academic standing.

2. Members who hold a master's degree must hold a 3.2 standing.

3. Faculty members voluntarily and automatically.

4. Applicant students must have been enrolled since June 1, 1960.

5. Charter members cannot include members from other chapters.

Phi Delta Kappa held their installation and installation meeting May 13.

The program began with an ex-cumulation of candidates at Snell Hall Auditorium and some com- pliment of this, charter members were installed by a ritual team from the campus chapter of George Peabody College. At the dinner and installation program held in the main dining room of the Heim Hotel, T. G. Hall who provided the introduction, Presided, Kelly Thompson who gave a group speech in the fraternity as a whole and to the various members.

After the rite of induction of charter members, officers were installed and all members signed the charter. To close out the program, a chapter officers training conference was held.

Dr. Stone..... From Sing Sing To Siding

By Bonnie Lyke

Have you ever sat in a classroom and wondered what a professor is really like? Is he inscrutably wrapped in the mystique of the blackboard, or is he the type that you’d just as soon let the barriers of education remain an unbreachable wall? These last statement not only pleased us, but it was certain that we would fail to find the answer. There is a much too common concept of professionalism being absent-minded, stuffy and too busy to talk to. I am about to dispove this theory. I shall also prove the failure of the idea that college teachers are too wrapped up in the subject that they’re giving the impression that they have no other interests.

While writing his Ph.D. dissertation at Florida State University, Dr. Stone decided that he needed hours of uninterrupted time to do his writing. Therefore he gave up teaching. Then he could devote his undivided attention to his paper. However, this presented another problem, so he took a half time job at a radio and television station. In this event the station decided to do a series of tape recordings with educational intimacy who became too busy with concerts to do the tapes. Dr. Stone was given an award of Foundation funds from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters. The money was used to produce a series of documentary radio programs, the basic theme of "Ideas in a Changing World." The outcome was the producer of T documentary films called "Prin- ciple Documents." This was based on the college adult in state presentations. Dr. Stone traveled extensively, visiting prisons and mental institutions, presenting different panel philoso- phies in the top of his profession. During the present time he has traveled twice to the western region of the United States, the first to Santa Fe. From Florida to the city of New York, he traveled by air and car to the city of Oxford. Dr. Stone has a volumetric correspondence with penal systems throughout the world in- cluding the Vatican. For the present system of England and Madonnas Yemen Marx with the Institute of Comparative Law in Paris and others in Australia, Sweden and Norway. As a result of this study, Dr. Stone is a foremost authority on institutions in prison work and frequently lectures on penalogy to various organizations.

Aside from this, Dr. Stone is interested in sports such as badminton, (he plays shortstop), football, tennis, (he ran track in high school), and skin diving. Dr. Stone’s interest in skin diving was fostered by his father who took him scuba diving and a few of his friends.

Let this enlighten us all of the fact that our teachers aren’t merely specialists of figures, but various organizations.

Richard K. Dower, Jr., senior at the Training School has been declared a Polish citizen, but was also known as a result of the strong Lithuanian background.

In baseball, a batting average of .333 for a full season's play is tops in nearly any league. And in athletics, two first places and one third place finish out of a field of six entries is nearly as fine a finish as could be asked.

During the 1960-61 athletic season at Western, the various Hilltopper teams grabbed the Ohio Valley Conference Baseball title in tennis, earned a three-way tie for the OVC basketball title, and came in third in the OVC golf tournament. That's a .333 average then some!

Tennis Team

Led by sophomore Dan Meyer, the Hilltopper tennis team of Coach Ted Harbach compiled a perfect season record of 11-0 in addition to winning the OVC championship. In winning the OVC title, Western swept victories from the seven division during the conference tournament at Murray.

Hilltopper Basketball

The Hilltopper basketball squad closed out the 1960-61 season with an 18-4 record and a share of the OVC title, continuing the Hilltoppers' preceding set of winning games. Coach Dan Harbaugh has learned to run from the 1957 season in 12 years history of the league.

Finishing in a three-way tie for the OVC title with Eastern Kentucky and Murray, Western dropped the final playoff game, March 25-20 in extra innings, to demolish Western's hopes for a second straight NCAA bid. The Hilltoppers in the playoff game gave the Hilltoppers a 9-6 victory in the first game of the season.

Western's 18 basketballs including this season now push Coach Bob Dark's career total number of wins while at Western to 237 against 350 defeats for a winning percentage of .418. The total number of victories recorded by McCollum in 36 seasons at Western comprise a record unequalled by any other coach in collegiate history. Coach Dark will send his team out for games this 1960-61 season next year.

In compiling the 1960 season record this year, Western placed second in the Bluegrass tournament at Louisville, and defeated the Frogs for third place in the Sugar Bowl Classic at New Orleans.

Other high points of the Western basketball season were victories over such nationally ranked teams as De Paul, La Salle, Xavier of Ohio, Marshall College, and the University of Louisville. Western's team averaged 79.4 points per game against 75.8 points per game by the Hilltoppers in shooting with a 30.3. Junior Harry Todd pulled down 36 rebounds to lead the team, and in that department, while Charlie Osborne, Western's forward player who has earned a professional basketball contract from Syracuse, led in free throw percentage with an .844 percentage.

Golf Team

Western's golf team also turned in a fine season, compiling an 8-2 overall season's record and finishing third in the OVC tournament. The golfers of Coach Frank Griffin were led on the links this past season by veteran Joe Jagger. He was paired with Mickey Taylor, Danny McFerrin, Smith Taylor, Bob Carrera, and Mike Hodge for the complete Western team.

The Hilltopper baseball team closed out its season with a 27-game season with a 12-12 overall record. The Westerners had a difficult time getting started early in the season, but finished strongly with wins of their last nine games. Senior centerfielder Bob Myers claimed the batting title with a .325 average. A closer look at the batting department was utility man Larry Givens as he batted with a .297 average and leftfielder Ray Hunt with a .345 average.

On pond, senior pitcher, turned in the best pitching performance of any Hilltopper hurler. Fund claimed a 24 record for the season with a 2.5-3 innings while posting a .515 earned run average.

Track and Football

Western's track team game but not classed. Finished the season with a 6-3 record. Prospects for next season look much brighter, however, with several returning outstanding citizens candidates expected to add much strength to the team.

The football charges of Coach Nick Demes finished the 1959 campaign with a 3-4-1 overall season record, and a 1-4-1 tally in the OVC. High point of the season was a 26-13 victory over Middle Tennessee, which finished second on the OVC. Providing the

Western Player Graduates Continue As Professionals

From Hollywood, the movie and television capital of the world, comes news of a young actor in these areas of theatre. Lamar Herrin, as he is locally known, as Bill Herrin, is making a start toward his success in these highly competitive fields. Already showing on screens across the country are the first 20th Century Fox short "Wizard of Bagdad," "Flaming Star," and "Sanctuary," in which he is seen. During the past winter he flashed across the TV screens in episodes of "Wagon Train" and "Outlaws." This spring he has observed great success in the "Daniel Boone" series, episodes of Westerns. In the "Daniel Boone" series Herrin writes that his two latest movies, "Taming Trail" and "Wheelman," for Universal International and "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," at 20th Century-Fox, have not yet been generally released. Herrin plans to work with veteran Walter Yuldren, J.J. and Arthur Evers. Langford manages the New York City stage where Bohway is thought of as the pinnacle of achievement for the legitimate theatre. With their usual style, the Western Player from Bowling Green, Ky., last summer managed The Shawnee Playhouse, one of the satire-humorous shows, in Shawnee, Connecticut, and owned by William S. Jones, one of the producers for The Phoenix Theatre Group of Chicago. Among other theatre jobs, Walter was also associated with the revival of "The Epitaph of George Dillon." Always interested in the promotion and development of the legitimate theatre, at present in managing the Charles Theatre in the Twelfth Street Area in New York at present, after three years with the Goodman Memorial Theatre in Chicago, is Tom Robinson, former Western Player from Bowling Green. While continuing his dramatic studies, Tom has had several parts in Off-Broadway productions.

"Curly" McCormick, who is remembered for his performance in the Western Player musical show "Red River," is now starring in a summer stock group in his native Southwest. He is playing the Earl of Essex in a production of Shakespeare's "The White Devil." "I am doing fine," "I am enjoying the show," and "I am happy," McCormick writes to The Western Player.

"Red River" is the last picture of the dance. It was a great success in terms of box office, but it was not a financial success. The company plans to make a film of the show, and McCormick is looking forward to it. McCormick is a member of the Western Player production company, and he is looking forward to the film.
