Upperclassmen Will Hold Primary Elections For Officers Tomorrow

Primary elections will be held tomorrow from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Paul L. Garrett Student Center for the purpose of nominating the fall elections candidates for class offices. The classes in question are the senior, junior, and sophomore.

Consultation differs from that of the past in that a primary election will be held outside of the regular hours, and thus the elections will be held during the regular school hours.

Dr. Whitmer, Former Faculty Member, Dies

Funeral services were held August 28, at 2 p.m. in the Gertrude Prayer Chapel for Dr. Joseph Baldwin Whitmer, who died August 23 in an extended illness.

Dr. C. S. Methot, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and Dr. C. R. Dobbins directed the services, and burial was held in the Fairview Cemetery. Dr. Dobbins, a former pastor, bore the message. Active and retired faculty members of Western and deans and deans of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church served as honorary pallbearers.

Dr. Whitmer, 71, was born at Bremen, the son of the late John L. and Nelda Whitmer. He was married to the former Bertha Waddell. The Whitmers have three children.

Dr. Whitmer received his early education in the Lawrence County, Kentucky, school system, then entered WCU in the fall of 1923, was graduated in 1927, and received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Kentucky in 1932. He taught at WCU and was a member of the biology department.

The editor, assistant editor, and Miss Jean Wilson spent several days this summer with genom printing company of nashville, Tennessee, planning the '62 Talisman. Plans call for a larger yearbook which will contain color editor than previous issues because of this year's increased enrollment and the desire for complete coverage of campus life at Western.

TALISMAN EDITORS . . . for the year 1961-62 will be Anna Louise Leach (left), assistant editor, and Richard Coop, editor. Miss Leach, an English and math major, is from Harrodsburg, and Coop, senior biology and physical education major, is from Campbellsville.

Coop, Leach Will Head 1962 Talisman Staff

Mr. Millard Gibson, Talisman sponsor, has announced that Richard Coop, class of 1962, will be editor of the 1962 Talisman.

Coop, a biology and physical education major, is from Campbellsville.

Reception Held To Welcome New Faculty Staff

The Western new faculty members were entertained at a reception at the Kentucky Building Tuesday evening, September 26. Guests included both members of the teaching faculty and of the administrative staff.

Forty-eight new faculty and administrative members were welcomed by President Thompson and to other faculty members. Dean Raymond Cromley and the department heads presented short speeches of welcome to each new member.

Ladies of the faculty assisted by home economics students under the direction of Miss Marie Adams, head of the Department of Home Economics, served refreshments prepared for 300 people.

The committee planning the event was Dean Charles Keehan, Dean of Students; Miss Frances Richards, of the English department; Mr. Gayle H. Carver, curator of the Kentucky Museum; Mr. Robert Cochran, director of Public Relations; Miss Bess Gillett, hostess of Paul Garrett Student Center; Mr. Millard Gibson, of the Agriculture Department.

Are You Guilty?

By BERNARD MADISON

With the high and low of campus elections dominating life on the Hill at present, surely no one is unaware that there will be voting taking place there. Therefore, if one is in the elections, give one a good reason why every one of Western's 2072 students will not vote in these crucial elections. There are several good reasons.

First we see Uninterested Barry. He just does not care. He's not interested. Most likely, he has never been to a class meeting.

Next we meet Bashful Barry. He is afraid he will have to answer some question he cannot answer at the time of the vote. This would be tragedy to poor Barry. He is in college to get a degree and nothing else and if he can possibly help himself, he will not be exposed to such awful goings-on.

There is also Self-inflicted Irregularity. She is avoiding any such scene in which she might display a slight leg in dignity and stomp to marking a class election ballot. The solution is simple. When class elections or any other campus election is taking place, take time out to do your class voting. This will keep you from being mentioned by people you may not win election, but there is one sure bet—there will be no winners who do not vote.

"Too slow is meaning up that junior class." Did he vote in that class meeting? Did he vote in the recent class of which he is a candidate? Let him do it himself.

Are these attitudes becoming to a college student? Most definitely not, but they will appear.

Vote for the candidates of your choice, but VOTE. If not, any nothing of the work the elected officials do.

He, Freshman

"Hey! Freshman, Yes! You! With the bewildered look in your eyes, why are you looking at me?"

"What do you want?"

"I'm not lost. I'm just confused."

"What do you want me to do?"

No one seemed to want to talk to him. He wandered aimlessly through the halls, trying to find someone he knew. Suddenly, he saw a familiar face. It was Tom, one of the most popular students in the school.

"Hey, Tom! What's up?"

"Nothing, man. You just look like you're in trouble. What's going on?"

"I'm just lost. I can't find my way around here."

"That's easy. Just follow me. I'll show you around."

Speaking Of Society?

By ALLEN PARDON

I agree that there are many new ideas in the college fashion world. But if you girls think you have any trouble choosing whether or not you want to go along with this season’s fashions, it is nothing compared to what I had to go through just to find out about the new look for college girls.

For instance, I had never heard of a culotte and after having found out that it was just a skirt seen over the middle, I have only seen one so far. But then, one just doesn’t go around the halls looking for culottes.

I’m sure many of the men around campus have noticed the new kilts that the girls are wearing. For those of you who don’t know what kilts are, they are to put it briefly, short skirts. Also becoming popular with the Western crowd are the shorter Bermuda style jeans. Yes, I said skirt.

Another trend that I have notice- ed taking hold around the campus is the long sweater. Then there are some that are short. These, I have noticed, come in many colors and are usually tilted as the boxy cardigan or the boys sweater. Many of these long sweaters may be worn with short skirts, as well as a slim or pleated skirt.

For those of you that do not want to wear any of the popular short pants, such as Bermuda, pedal pushers, shorts, or short shorts, there are the even popular slim jeans. From the latest that I have heard, they are perfect for leisure time and are available in solids, prints, and checks.

Some of the more popular col- ors are what might be called the kelp tone colors. They are ac- quamarine, apricot, green, kumquat, and truffle tan. Another popular color is plum.

To get off the subject just a lit- tle bit, perhaps you might think that the life of society editor might be a little dull. However, this is not the case. The other day a bath notice was given to me to write up for the Herald. The notice went as follows:

THE JONES COMPANY, 816 Bedward’s Village, Bowling Green, Kentucky, INTRODUC- EES a new line "JONES SPE- CIAL," James E. Jones, "Design- er and Engineer," and John H. Jones, "Production Manager,"

Doctor Malone, "Delivery Be- services," A "Train Handler of 41 Model."

Blue Collar with super-eunie dimmer. High frequency generator (heated when low on fuel).
1200 power, easy bedding a tank. More smiles per gallon and quick changeable seat covers.

The description of "Special," "Jim Johnson," was released September 21, 1911, at Smith County Hospital.

(The management informs the public that no later models will be released this year.)

The notice ended with this after thought: When Better Bubbles are Built... We’ll Let You Know.

Oh! Yes! Names and address- es were changed to protect the innocent.

A school in the city

A day in the country

P.S.—I do call my Hula Hop 8:00 times.

Well sir, Rod thought about Tess and then he thought about Pat and then a great sadness hit upon him. Suddenly he knew he had outgrown young, innocent Tess; his heart now belonged to smart, sophisticated Pat.

Rod, being above all things honorable, returned forthwith to his home town and walked up to Tess and looked her in the eyes and said mildly, "I do love you any more. I love a girl named Pat Moronga. You can hit me in the stomach with all your might if you like." "That’s okay, hey, said Tess semiably. "I don’t love you now. I found a new boy."

"What is his name?" asked Rod.

"Fran Kasra," said Tess.

"A splendid fellow," said Rod and shook Tes’s hand, and they have remained good friends to this day.

In fact, Rod and Pat often double-date with Fran and Tess and have heaps of fun. Fran can do the Hula Hop 8:00 times.

Pres. Kelly Thompson opened the Third District principal’s meet- ing Tuesday, September 26 in Van Meter Auditorium. The meeting was one of the five held through- out the state. President Thompson welcomed 82 elementary and secondary principals from the dis- trict.

Wendell P. Butler, Superintendent- at-Public Instruction, spoke on the problems of education. These problems were pertaining to free textbooks and the certifi- cation of teachers in Kentucky.

District Principals Meet At Western

THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME

It happens every day. A young man goes off to college, leaving his home town sweetheart with vows of eternal love, and then he finds that he has outgrown her. Well, in such cases, is the honorable thing to do?

Well, sir, you can do whatever Rock Sigfried did.

When Rock left Cut and Shoot, Pa., he said to his sweetheart, a simple country lass named Tess of Urberville, "My dear, through, I am so far away in my new life, I will always, I will never look at another girl. If I do, may my eyes be white and I pray that I may the noblest of my new sweetie."

Then he dashed Tess to his bosom and planted a final kiss upon her fragrant young soul and went away, mourning with all his heart to be faithful.

But on the very first day of college he met a good named Pat Moronga, a girl of such sophistication, such poise, such air-swept as Rock had never beheld. She spoke incantantly of Fran Kasra, she bawled Monsart, she scowled Marboro.

"You can hit me in the stomach, if you like."

Now, Rock didn’t know Fran Kasra from Pasobo Villas, or Monsart from James E. Polk, but Marboro he knew full well. He knew that anyone who smoked Marboro was modern and advanced and so studded with lace as he had never seen. Good sense tells you that you can’t beat Marboro’s exclusive sealant filter, and you never could beat Marboro’s fine flavor. That Rock knew.

So all day he followed Pat around campus and listened to her talk about Fran Kasra, and then he even went into her dormitory and found this letter from his home town sweetheart.

Dear Rock,

We had a hell of a time yesterday. We went down to the new black rock song from Bob. He was the most of any bar. Then we kicked rid- ed on trucks and did lots of mush stuff. So I don’t know how we did it, I must close now because I got to unwhisker the fencen.

Diddle Looks Toward Promising ‘64-‘65 Season

"I don’t aim to ‘graduate’ in last place. I’m going to sign some more good’uns this summer," E. A. Diddle last spring of his coaching career, which will be his second in 1965, the year when the nation’s retirement age from the career job as basketball coach. Diddle is the multimillion-dollar school’s basketball building which is scheduled to be started this Fall. It hasn’t been proven yet that one can win. But they all have good size and Coach Diddle feels it is favorable that almost all of them have big feet and big hands."

"B" is For Defensive

All In A Row

Speaking of M-Men (and who isn’t this time of year to have a "B.Maum"), but it’s not a second season.

Manning the Hilltopper’s defense tonight, in all likelihood, will be the "B"-Boys: Booker (Bill), Bent (Buzzy), Bailey (Jim), Olden (Jim), Gaylor returning from the air defense which made itself known among the nation’s hot-majors last fall, leaving the Hilltoppers to the yards per game. They may be joined by Sarratt, ´6, and Bertold (Buddie). Other "B"-Boys who could come in are Bagel (Joe), Barwick (John), the Hart brothers (Jim and John) and freshman Boyd (John) and Blackburn (Glen).

Western Faced With Problem Of Seating Basketball Fans

Among Western’s real problems with its 4,700 enrollment is where to put the basketball fans this winter.

The gym’s official capacity now is listed as 4,500.

The college had 3,500 enrolled last year. Better than a third of the gym’s seats were unseated.

A meeting is slated within a few days to resolve the seating situation.

In the meanwhile, the plans remain to start work on the multimillion dollar athletic academic building in November. It will be ready for occupancy in 1963.

Best Sideline With Bad Elbow

Coach Nick Doss learned Wednesday that veteran halfback Harry Best will be lost until the Tennessee Tech game Oct. 14 with a dislocated elbow suffered September 26. On one of the final scrimmage plays of the season, the 190-pound junior crunched across the goal line from 10 yards out and fell on his elbow, dislocating it.

Best has teamed with Winton Burnette’s defense to form a deep pass defense in the Ohio Valley Conference during the last two seasons.

Best, a transfer from the University of Kentucky, was just starting to come into his own as a starter. He ran 17 yards in just three runs and scored two touchdowns against East Tennessee.

A number of teachers will assemble in Cherry Hall, Room 107. Mrs. M. Glidden, All. MA '48, and professor of home economics at the Illinois State Normal University, will speak on "Number Conferences and Tests for Divisibility."

The Guidance and Personnel group will meet in Room 1 of the Student Center. Dr. George W. Hagan, Director of Guidance and Service at the University of Kentucky will address this meeting.

The social studies teachers and secondary principals will gather in the Little Theatre in the library. Here they will be addressed by Dr. Albert Rhode, professor of economics at Western.

Director of Pupil Personnel will meet in Room 206, Cherry Hall.

Beverly Stowe, supervisor of the Child Welfare Department for the city of Bowling Green, will speak in this group.
"Thunder on the Hill" ...

The first of the studio productions to be offered in the Western Plaza Experimental Theater series will be "Thunder on the Hill." It is an original one-act play with Civil War background written and directed by members of the Xi Lambda Chapter of Alpha Pi Omega. Marla Brandon and Chester Davis, senior members of the group, are the co-producers of "Thunder on the Hill." As an Alpha Pi Omega project, the various technical jobs are being handled by the pledges for the current semester. Al Young, veteran of both on-stage and backstage work, is the stage manager for the production. The play is to be presented at the next Western Players meeting, to be held in Shell Hall Auditorium on Wednesday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Players Begin Year With "Wintersel"

Ahnte beauty nevertheless shared interest with a keen awareness of contemporary realities. As a former journalist, he was inclined not to forget facts. He was concerned with the stylistic problem of how to create poetic drama in a prosaic age. Since it is comparatively easy to write poetic prose when the subject is set in the past, his realism was highly successful with Eliza, the Queen; Mary of Scotland; Annie of the Thousand Days; and Valley Forge. His captivation with the prose satire of Barth's Your Times, Night Over Tasso more than hinted that the old order must make room for the new. Valley Forge was a reminder that the love at Liberty is a precious plant nourished by the soil of the past and the need for American people, High Tor historical business editor, TomKenney, asks for the protection of revolutions; and Knickerbocker society, "A Story of the American Brain.

Wintersel pointed to an old era in the American body with a shocking attack on the perversion of justice by class prejudice. Here Anderson took a vital step with his dramatically as he applied poetry to a contemporary background of gangsters. Reds and the same scene of the great depression.

Director Edward Kilmer has chosen for Wintersel a group of players primarily balancing the interest in the attraction with the outlying talent in this year's membership. The large cast at present includes Bill Hancock, Frank Hammond, Al Young, Jerry Crowell, Charlie Logsdon, Henry Victor, Gloria Cooper, Robert Alexander, Dan Mayfield, Tommy Haggman, Polly Jacques, Malcom Deming, Bob Lowery, Ed Curtis, Junior Howard, J. Boger Smith, Elaine Harmon, Mel Schuler, Mason Plicht, Bill Laverno, Donny Howell, J. D. Matthees, Peggy Hootlin, and Sandy Griffin.

Thirty-five members have volunteered for the technical crew for the production of Wintersel. New members of the English department staff, Mrs. Francis Dixon, Mr. Terrye Ott and Mr. Robert Worster, have joined the Western Players' production committee for this season.

AAUW Meets In Faculty House

The Bowling Green branch of the American Association of University Women held its first meeting of the year at the Faculty House on October 6, 1958. Mrs. Elizabeth Walt, Faculty House hostess, entertain- ed the guest.

Mrs. Vera Gist, a member of Western's English department, presented the program. Mrs. Frank C. Bick of Danville, president of the state division of the organization, spoke on the progress of the various branches of AAUW, Mrs. A. C. Vaughn of Danville accompanied her as her host. Both women were the overnight guests of Miss Sybil Rosecrans, a member of Western's foreign language department.
