Religious Emphasis Week

Set For October 25-27

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Western Religious Council, is to be held on October 25, and continue through October 27. The theme for these services will be "His Way, Mine."

Rev. James A. Lollis, pastor of the Westmore Christian Church, Lexington, will be the key speaker. Rev. Lollis received his A.B. from Milligan College and his B.D. from Yale Divinity School. He is a former pastor of the First Christian Church here in Bowling Green. While in Bowling Green, he was a member of the Bowling Green Kiwanis Club.

Rev. Lollis is now serving on the Georgetown, Transylvania College Board of Trustees, the College Board of Trustees, and the Executive Board of the Kentucky Council of Christian Churches.

The officers of the church who were elected at the annual meeting, are: Rev. Myron Hester, pastor; Rev. Virgil G. Cule, assistant pastor; Mr. Walt S. Reed, president; Mrs. Myra C. Scott, first vice-president; Mrs. Sue Wilkerson, second vice-president; and Mr. W. D. Martin, secretary.

Speaks To English Club Members

The Leiper English club held its first meeting of the year on Thursday, October 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The officers of the club who were elected at the annual meeting, are: Rev. Myron Hester, pastor; Rev. Virgil G. Cule, assistant pastor; Mr. Walt S. Reed, president; Mrs. Myra C. Scott, first vice-president; Mrs. Sue Wilkerson, second vice-president; and Mr. W. D. Martin, secretary.

Dr. Gordon Wilson introduced the new faculty members and graduate assistants, after which Miss Frances Richards, faculty sponsor, spoke to the club briefly.

The club will soon be on its way to the American Theatre to see a production of "The Marriage of Figaro." The club will also be on its way to the American Theatre to see a production of "The Marriage of Figaro." The club will also be on its way to the American Theatre to see a production of "The Marriage of Figaro."

At the annual meeting, the club elected officers, as follows:

PLAYERS WILL PRESENT "WINTERSET" NOV. 1-3

The Western Player's choice of "Winterset" as their fall production, scheduled for presentation in Van Meter Auditorium on November 1-3, is an ambitious step forward in their approach to artistic creation in the theater. The play is the story of real life American women. Men have told their story from one way from the salt water in the millions of years that lie behind them, and have a long way to go in the millions of years that lie ahead. We shall not always be as we are now, but we shall always become dependent on what we have become.

Theatres more than any other art, has the power to mold and determine what the race dreams into what the race becomes. Maxwell Anderson, pre-eminent playwright of the American theater, in his Winterset has committed such a dream to play form. Against the background of social and economic depression of the "Thirties," he has projected his dramatic study of hope, injustice, love, frustration, despair, and gallantry.

Winterset is the story of one man's life, and is an old fish and ministerial service in the town.

Standing Room Only

By Bernard Madison

Did you see the Wesley-Tennessee Tech game last Saturday? If you did, you were one of the lucky students who was able to find seats! If the answer to both these questions is no, you have to get there early for the next game.

Where did you park your automobile if you had to drive to the game? How long did it take you to get off the campus, if you remained after the game ended? If you have no complaints as to how you were treated, you were lucky. In the future you may have to wait longer to parks.

During the actual playing of the game, students were crowded into the stadium with no place to sit, while others were on the sidelines as spectators for the high school bands. Musical instruments were taken up promising space, the bleachers and Wesley students were standing hoping to see the Toppers account for their fourth victory. In addition to those standing in the main stands, others were sitting on steps and rolling down by the Physical Education Building. Perhaps all students should attend the next home game dressed properly for such an event. Also, at times when weather is very cold and muddy, the presence of the band presents a danger of throwing a football into the stands.

It is true that such a situation will arise again when the alumni return for homecoming. We must make the best of the situation at that time, but such instances such as last Saturday could be avoided. Is there any reason why band day must be held at a football game? After all, the people who make up this band are not football students, but are enrolled in the school for the purpose of playing the game.

It is also a section of reserved seats in the stands, which must be available to those who have been selected as members of those clubs who have a surplus of students. I think the band should have proper privileges at the next game.

Speaking as a student, I wish to be cooperative in any way we can, but we certainly would like to be considered. We are students, we are members of a student body which we want to support.

Westerners May Apply
For Rhodes Scholarships

The Rhodes Scholarships may be applied for at the dean’s office of the department on November 2. According to Dr. J. Craven, dean of the college, there are some librarians who plan to apply for the scholarships. Applications will be accepted until November 20.

The purpose of the Rhodes Scholarship is to give the opportunity to the students of the United States to study at Oxford University. The program is named after the extraordinary British statesman, William John Henry, who was instrumental in establishing the scholarship. The scholarship provides full tuition, room, board, and books for the duration of the student’s studies.

Eligible students must be citizens of the United States, be between the ages of 18 and 24, have a good academic record, and demonstrate leadership qualities. The number of scholarships awarded is up to 50 for each year.

Degree Programs Must Be Filed By Juniors

According to Dr. Raymond L. Craven, dean of the college, all juniors should file for their graduate degree program with the registrar’s office by the end of the semester. It is important that all juniors file for their program at least one semester prior to their graduation. Otherwise, they will not be able to graduate. The deadline is the end of the semester.

The students are responsible for filing their program with the registrar’s office. If they do not, their graduation will not be guaranteed. It is crucial that they file their program at least one semester prior to their graduation.

Dr. Ward Sumpter
Speaks To Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club held its regular meeting Wednesday evening, October 11, at 7 p.m. in Thompson Hall.

Dr. Ward Sumpter, sponsor of the chemistry club, spoke briefly in the interest of the purpose of the club and the advantages of being a member. Our college is one of the 50 through-out the nation which has been ap- proved by the American Chemical Society. This approval means that we have members who have completed courses given in math-ematics, chemistry, physics, and German. By being on this approved list, we now enjoy the benef- it of having our seniors chemistry majors interviewed yearly by top industrial representatives. This enables many of our seniors to obtain worthwhile positions in industry upon graduation.

Advantages which are not so well known are that each year’s sub- scription to the weekly magazine Chemical and Engineering News and members are privileged to attend many meetings of the American Chemical Society, which are usually held in Nashville, Ten- nessee.

Qualifications for membership receive the student to be a chem- istry major, pre-med major, or doctor of medicine and another scien- ce major. Freshmen who plan to be chemistry majors are also urged to attend meetings.

The officers are as follows: Bob Franklin, president; Ben Glumac, vice-president; Bob Vogt, secre- tary-treasurer; and Dr. Ward Sumpter and Dr. Gordon Wills, co-sponsors.

History Club Has Talks On Russia

The A. M. Stickley History club held its initial meeting Thursday night, October 19, in the Kentucky Building. The program was about Russia, a geographic, historical, and the Communist Party.

Dr. Fred Taylor, head of the Geography department, spoke on the geography of Russia in rela- tion to people, condition of land, and to the country’s conditions. Mr. Walter B. Nimocks of the History department spoke on the history of Russia, and how this history is still a factor in the modern world. Dr. William Jenkins, head of the Department of Business and Government spoke on the Communist Party. Its history, de- visers, and present status were discussed.

The location of the and require- ments for the student, the historical history fraternity, were also discussed.

Math Club Hears Dr. Anderson

Dr. Allan G. Anderson, head of the Mathematics department, spoke to the Math Club about work mathematics and its relation to other than that taught at the club’s second meeting. In this program he covered such things as the Mathematical As- sociation of America, American Mathematical Society, and math- ematicians in industry.

The club’s picture was taken for the department head and all the represent- atives served. Jack Stewart, char- mainer of the club, talked about the benefits of buying a club fof and stated that the benefits of buying a good book are many. Donald Wise, vice president, was elect- ed to be the club’s financial secre- tary.

Wiglus Elected

To Modern Language Post

Dr. D. K. Wiglus, a member of the English department, has been elected secretary of the Compara- tive Literature II (Popular Liter- ature) section of the Modern Language association, according to a recent announcement. Dr. Wiglus succeeds Prof. Bertrand H. Branson of the University of California (Berkeley), the former chair- man of the section.

The association holds its regu- lar meeting in December of each year. The Popular Literature sec- tion is devoted to the discussion of problems related to folk litera- ture in modern language.

Dr. Wiglus has taken a promi- nent part in the meetings of the discussion groups. He presented a paper on recent developments in following’ scholarship at the 1958 meeting in Philadelphia.

Dr. Wiglus is the author of the notes for the recently issued long- playing record album ORRAY RAMSEY, SINGS FOLKSONGS FROM THE THREE LAURELS, Prestige-International 10208. He has completed the notes for two more forthcoming albums and has been asked to edit two others.

Dr. Wiglus, who is a member of the Kentucky Folklore Rec- ording Association, has also been involved in the recording of the song “Castles and Catastrophes” by the Kentucky Folklore Rec- ording Association.

THE TRUE AND
BARRING FACTS ABOUT RUSHING

It is well enough to sit in one’s Morris chair and theorize about security rushing, but if one really wishes to know the facts, one must leave one’s Morris chair and go out into the field. (My Morris chair, incidentally, was given to me by the Philip Morris Company, makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. They are great- hearted folks, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, as millions of you know who have enjoyed their excellent cigarettes. Only from heartful souls could come such mildness, such flavor, such filters, such pleasure, as you will find in Marlboro! For those who purchase unaltered forms, Marlboro is available in unopened boxes. For those who prefer soft packs, Marlboro is available in soft packs. For those who prefer to buy their cigarettes in bulk, please contact Emmett R. Bigelow, friendly manager of our factory in Richmond, Virginia.)

But I digress. I was saying that in order to know the true facts about security rushing, one must go into the field and investigate. Consequently, I went last week to the Indiana College of St. Walding and Janice Lattier and interviewed several million others, among them a lovely lovely named Gerard McKeever. (It is, incidently, quite an interesting little story about how she came to be named Gerard. It seems that her father, Ralph T. McKeever, loved grammar better than any- thing in the world, and so he named all his children after his favorite words. In addition to Gerard, there were three girls named Preposition, Adverb, and Pronoun, and one boy named Native Case. The girl seemed not to be unduly dismayed by those names, but Native Case, alas, grew steadily more morose and was finally found one night hanging from a particle. After this tragic event, the father abandoned his practice of grammatical nomenclature, and whatever children were subsequently born to him—eight in all—were named Evertz.)

But I digress. I was interviewing a lovely lovely named Gerard McKeever. "Gerard," I said, "were you rushed by a security?"

"Yes, mister," she said, "I was rushed by a security."

"And they gave you a high-pressure pitch?" I asked. "Did they use the hard sell?"

"No, mister," she replied, "It was all done with quiet dignity. They simply talked to me about the company and the girls for about three minutes and then I pledged."

"Your goodness," I said. "Three minutes is not very long for a sale talk?"

"It is when they are handing you over water, mister," said Gerard.

"Hello, Gerard," I said, "how do you like the house?"

"I like the house fine, mister," she replied. "But I don't live there."

Unfortunately, they placed more girls than they have room for, so they are sleeping some of us in the bell tower. I don't that rather sassy:" I said.

"Only on the quarter-hour," said Gerard.

"Well, Gerard," I said, "it has certainly been a pleasure talk- ing with you.

"Laurie, mister," she said, "and with many a laugh and cheer we went separate ways—we to the campus and you to the Morris chair.

Speaking Of Society?

By Allen Parson

It's amazing how few events these days are held in the college area, and how many people seem to be leaving. There are plans afoot for a big bash in the near future, but the details are sketchy.

Then there are the black hats, white dresses and other formal wear that are starting to make an appearance on people's heads. This is the season for the dances and the weddings, and it's nice to see people looking their best.

A small group of us met at the home of Dr. Page. They performed a duty of behalf of the Faculty, and the group went on to the social gathering at Dr. Page's home.

I thought that I had heard of everything concerning false eyelashes, but I was wrong. It seems that I haven't. For those of you who go to such a thing, you may have a set of false eyelashes from a certain beauty salon in New York for only fifteen dollars. What's that? You ask? Are they made of silk? Yes, they are. Next in line are those to be made of cellophane. They are designed to hold up longer than the silk ones.

Next thing that will probably come out is silk wigs.

I have heard, and read, that the shoe stylists are going back to the round shoe fronts in contrast to the pointed toe type. A few complaints have been thrown any way concerning the pointed toe shoes. Such things as squinted toes, pinched toes, etc., seem to bother some. But, I have also heard a few of the young ladies about campus express how well they like the pointed toe.

I do know of one good thing that those pointed shoes are good for. Men, watch out if you say the wrong thing and that girl sitting across the table from you decides to give you a good swift kick with that pointed toe.

I like the looks of the pointed shoes as long as they're not too extravagant. But then, I've never been kicked by one either.

Really, it's who's in the shoe that counts.

The trend in hair length seems to be undecided. I have noticed some Western maidens with short to medium length hair than long.

For those of you who like long hair, there are many kinds of hair styles that you can use.

For instance, there's the beehive. I have never seen one yet, but it is supposed to be one of the most attractive hair styles from the descriptions that I have heard.

An important item about this hair fashion is that someone's hair is always underneath that beehive.

A popular hair style that I have noticed, as well as liked, is the Page Boy. This consists of taking half of that length hair and curling it underneath so that the ends curl under and is a continuous roll all the way around. It is usually longer in the back than on the sides.

This is supposed to come from medieval times when page boys wore their hair this way and didn't care if it was curled or not.

Many of the new coats that are emerging are for these or otherwise collar on them. They are designed to be worn by the men, but women, I am told, that I have been told, look like the Western coat without having an extra long neck to wear them. Also, the coat might look like a beard in that tall standing collar.

For those of you who desire that style, I recommend one of the many tailors in town.

And for those of you that wear them, I'm sure that you have been told that the collar is not necessary, but don't wear one.

I have never seen a man without a collar. I have seen quite a few women who wear a collar, but be careful. Those shiny collars can be worn in sports coats, or business suits, but not in formal affairs.

Do I have been watching around

Some of the more popular areas about the hill, there is no place to put empty cups, candy wrappers, old homework papers that are no longer of use, or the like. So until a few more trash cans are placed about campus, how about holding that litter until you reach a proper place to put it, such as in a trash can.

Then instead of visitors about the hill noticing how littered our campus looks, they might notice what you are wearing and comment on how well you dress.

Speaking of society-

Congratulations to all those who have recently become married, engaged, or planed.

'62 Corvair Monza
New Face, Same Sporting Heart

We might as well tell you straight off Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe, Maybe not.

Until you've driven one really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The amazing air-cooled rear engines see to that. You swing around curves flat as you please. In complete control. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Postextraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

And Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual amonads and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. Another extra-cost option well worth considering is the heavy-duty front and rear suspension. It turns a Corvair into a real tiger.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we?

If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.
Western's biggest hurdle so far this season on the gridiron will be coming up Saturday when the Toppers journey to Louisville to meet the powerful U of L Cardinals.

Western will carry a 2-3 mark into the contest, while the Cards display a 5-1 and 2-0 slate. The Toppers will be trying to average a 44.6 setback handed them last season. The Big Red has been showing all season that they can advance on any team through the air as well as rushing. On the other hand, Louisville also has a highly touted offensive team which is ranked second in the nation in small colleges and guided by quarterback All-American candidate, John Gilill.

The boys displayed their ability last week, although they posted a 13-12 heartbreaker, when they failed to convert field goal attempt in the last thirty seconds to give Tech a narrow victory.

In the statistics department the Toppers lead their opponents in most yards rushing 292-304, scoring passes 5-1, touchdowns 7-5, total points 48-35, total points 9-17 of the passing. Western has had 316 yards dropped off compared to their opponents 56.

The individual rushing leaders, not including Tech game, have been Joe Jaguars 149 yds., gained in 17.2 attempts. Western was 3-12 in the touchdown meter. Winston Ramsey 159, 3-0, in 2 touchdowns 43-16, extra points 15-10, total points 46-7. In yards passing, Western has had 316 yards dropped off of the total 107.

Dr. Wilson Wood, head of the English department, then recognized Eddie Holzer, senior English major from Stambaugh, and Ted Cohen, senior English major from Smith Grove. Each year this award, consisting of a certificate and a semester's registration fees, is given in honor of Dr. Wilson Wood to the outstanding English student of the Senior Class. The recipient is selected by the English faculty.

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

LESSON 2 - What about standards?

Advanced students of girl watching never waste their eyesight effort watching girls who are not beautiful. Standards must be kept high.

But how do we judge whether a girl is worth watching? Although many strict academicians will shudder at our methods, we must insist that a girl is beautiful if she is beautiful to you. (That's the beauty of girl watching.)

Every girl is beautiful to someone! For example, many observers have pointed out that the Bare-Backed Beachbomb (see above) has a weak chin.

Yet none of those keen-eyed experts would deny that she is indeed an attractive specimen. And, speaking of standards, don't forget to keep your smoking standards high. Smokes Pall Mall!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!
