LACK OF THOUGHTFULNESS

Lack of thoughtfulness is an unfortunate defect of the human species. They fail to consider the effects of their actions. It is a trait that many possess, and it is an unfortunate characteristic that they share. They are not always aware of the consequences of their actions, and when they are, they do not always consider them.

THE FATAL SLED

A True Story

The story of the sled and the child.

The day began as any other. Mary and her friends were preparing for a day of fun in the snow. They had planned to spend the day sledding down the hill, feeling the wind on their faces as they coasted down the slope.

And then, suddenly, the sled went out of control. Mary was lifted into the air and then dropped to the ground with a thud. She looked around, dazed and confused. She realized that the sled had started to move on its own, without her control.

Mary's friends rushed to her side. They looked at each other in shock, realizing the danger that they were in. They quickly realized that the sled was out of control and that it could cause harm to anyone in its path.

Thankfully, Mary's friends were able to bring the sled to a stop just in time. They immediately called for help and emergency services were dispatched. Mary was taken to the hospital, where she was treated for her injuries.

Mary's friends were relieved to see her recovering. They knew that they had been lucky to stop the sled in time. They were grateful for the quick action of the emergency services.

Mary was grateful to be alive. She realized that she had been fortunate to escape the situation with only minor injuries. She promised herself that she would always be more mindful of the dangers of the sled and the snow during the winter months.
