KERNEL IS HOST TO PRESS GROUP AT SPRING MEET

Largest Convention in the History of E.L.P.A. Planned By Hosts
OFFICERS TO BE NAMED COLLEGE. Heights Herald and Talisman To Be Represented

The Kentucky Educational Press Association, which will hold its 89th annual convention from March 16-18 at Bowling Green, will have its largest convention ever this year. The Kentucky Educational Press Association is the nucleus of a national organization called the Educational Press Association of America, which comprises all the educational press associations in the United States.

Among the many important features of the convention will be the election of the new officers of the association. The election will be held on March 16, and the new officers will be installed on March 17.

The convention will also include a number of workshops and seminars, which will be held on March 17 and 18. These workshops will cover a wide range of topics, including the use of technology in the classroom, the role of the press in modern society, and the challenges facing the educational press in the 21st century.

The College Heights Herald and the Talisman will be represented at the convention, and will have the opportunity to network with other student journalists from across the country.

Mia Severa Tolls Donates Five Thousand Dollars to College Heights Herald

OTHER DONATIONS MADE

Among the many contributions received by the College Heights Herald, there is a donation of 5,000 dollars from Miss Mia Severa. Miss Severa is a former student of the University of Washington, and she has always been a great supporter of the newspaper. Her donation will be used to purchase new equipment and supplies for the newspaper.

In addition to the large financial donation, Miss Severa also donated a number of valuable files and materials to the newspaper. These files include photographs, articles, and other materials that will be used to enhance the newspaper's coverage of campus events and news.

Western Leads S. I. A. A.
During Season; Win Ten Victories, Dropping One

Every Kentucky S. I. A. A. Team Suffers

Defeat At Hands Of Western, Except Murray, Who Did Not Appear On Schedule

WO OUT-OF-STATE TEAMS DEFEATED

With the victory and the discomfiture of the Western Engineers, college basketball teams competed on oxygenated practice ground, helped by leading the Oxygen International. However, the Oxygen International fielded a team of players who were never defeated during the season.

Starting off with a long trip across Kentucky Wesleyan, the Oxygen International defeated the team in the final game of the season in which they played against Tiffin, Ohio. Tiffin, Ohio, had defeated the Oxygen International earlier in the season. However, the Oxygen International finally defeated the Maroons from Tiffin, Ohio, in the final game of the season.

Mr. H. J. Askin of Bowling Green, Kentucky, had the opportunity to witness the Oxygen International's victory. He was pleased with the performance of the Oxygen International and stated that they are a team to watch in the future.
