Four Building Projects Are Being Finished

Western Kentucky University will soon be able to celebrate the completion of its largest construction project to date. Four major buildings are nearing completion, and the university is preparing to move into them. The buildings include a new student center, a new science building, a new library, and a new performing arts center.

NOTED MEN TO SPEAK

Dr. A. M. Stickley is To Deliver Welcome Address

The Third District Educators' Association will meet at Western Kentucky University on Oct. 10, 1932. Dr. L. C. Curry, president of the Association, will preside over the proceedings. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the new science building.

Reports Larger Enrollment Here

According to Dr. Stickley, there has been a marked increase in the number of students enrolled at the university this year. This increase is attributed to the improved facilities and the efforts of the faculty to attract students.

Prominent Men to Appear on Program Here

Several prominent men will address the association during the course of the meeting. Among these are: Dr. L. C. Curry, president of the Association; Dr. W. W. Wilson, dean of the college of arts and sciences; Dr. J. H. Johnson, dean of the college of education; and Dr. A. M. Stickley, dean of the college of arts and sciences.
