College High Graduates 32 Seniors Here

Dr. Joseph Coakley Speaks At Commencement

Dr. Joseph Coakley, mayor of the sleepy, quaint little town of Lawrenceburg, Ky., was on hand to address the graduates. He was the only non-graduate present at the commencement.

The ceremony was held in the school's auditorium, where a large crowd of students, faculty members, and guests were in attendance. The graduates received their diplomas from the president of the college, who also gave a speech to the new graduates.

The program included musical performances, recitations, and other activities typical of commencement ceremonies. The afternoon was capped off with speeches by several dignitaries, including the mayor of Lawrenceburg.

Overall, the commencement ceremony was a celebration of the hard work and dedication of the graduating students. The College Heights Herald is proud to report on this exciting milestone in the lives of these young adults.

Professor J. H. Caggett turns to Good Performance

The annual game between the faculty members and the seniors was won by the seniors by a score of 3 to 1, after winning the first two games by 12 to 0 and 10 to 1, respectively. Professor Caggett, who has been playing for the faculty team for many years, said that the team had improved greatly this year.
