A Wise Investment

A wise investment is the provision of the comfortable and happy home. We don’t have a Mechanical Refrigerator on the Hill, but our ‘B’ room can cool the air. We have room for two beds, a dresser, a washstand, and a window in each room. The cost of air conditioning is about $25 per month, which is less than the cost of a room in the College Heights Hotel. The cost of electricity for the refrigerator is about $15 per month. The cost of the mechanical refrigeration system is about $500, which is less than the cost of a room in the College Heights Hotel.

A Challenge

Between the Library and the Administration Hall there stands a statue. This little statue is interesting because of the story behind its creation. However, it is more than just a statue. It serves as a reminder of the importance of education and the need for us to continue to strive for excellence in all aspects of our lives.

The statue was created to honor the memory of Charles W. Brown, a well-known educator and philanthropist. It was designed by R. W. Brown, a local artist, and was unveiled in a ceremony attended by many notable figures in the community.

The statue depicts a student standing at attention, with a book in hand, representing the importance of knowledge and the dedication required to pursue an education. The statue serves as a reminder of our commitment to excellence in education and the dedication of Charles W. Brown to this cause.

We encourage all of our students to take advantage of the resources available to them in order to achieve their full potential. The statue serves as a reminder of the importance of education and the need for us to continue to strive for excellence in all aspects of our lives.

When Seconds Count

When we think of the importance of education, we often think of the need to strive for excellence. However, it is equally important to remember the value of time. When seconds count, it is important to use them wisely.
