Freshman orientation—Fall sports
Dorm open house hours stay at 30 each week

Unlike many activities on campus, Western's dorm visitation hours aren't cut — but don't look for big changes either.

Western's policy of 30 hours of open house will continue this fall.

Students in women's dorms may have male guests in their rooms from 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesday; men's dorm hours are 6 to 10 p.m. Wednesday. All dorms have open house 5 p.m. to midnight Friday and 2 p.m. to midnight Saturday and Sunday.

Students must escort guests from the lobby, and guests must turn in a student ID or driver's license, which will be returned when they check out.

Before you pack your book and head off to class, make sure you're looking good. Whether it's the preppy look or the laid-back denim look, your shoes can make or break your entire wardrobe.

That's why Adams Shoes carries the Dexter styles you're looking for, at prices you can afford.

We have the complete line of Dexter shoes for Guys and Gals, including Dexter boots. So before you step into the classroom come check out what Adams Shoes and Dexter have to offer.
Open fields
Demand for teachers increasing

By BARRY L. ROSE

Elementary teachers may be in demand again, according to Dr. Jerry Wilder, career-planning, academic advisement and placement director.

"The trends look good in general teaching for the next decade," Wilder said. "Right now we believe that every one of our teacher education graduates can find a job."

Wilder said one reason for the new demand is elementary teachers' retirement. Yet teachers must be willing to go out-of-state to find a job even though Wilder said job prospects for Kentucky teachers have improved.

Special education majors should also have little trouble finding a job. But majors in the technical and business fields continue to offer the best prospects.

In engineering, Wilder said electrical engineering offers the best chances.

"Computer science is extremely fertile now in terms of job placements," he said. Three years ago Texas Instruments rated Western as the best computer training school in the country.

Wilder also said students enrolled in a four-year computer program should have better job prospects than two-year students.

"Most of the firms visiting Western are looking for students with a bachelor's degree," Wilder said.

Management, marketing and accounting are promising business fields, Wilder said. Finance and quantitative analysis are, close behind.

Although he said no field has dismal prospects, Wilder said some liberal arts majors may have difficulties.

With rumors of closing one of Kentucky's three law schools, Wilder said students in Western's pre-law programs may find few openings for graduate work.

Wilder also expects a slight enrollment decline in the pre-medical program because of a possible doctor surplus, "but the general area of allied health (including nursing) has been very good."

The center director cautions students about quitting a field because of bad prospects. "The only bad field is one that isn't suited for the student's career goals and values," he said.

The center for career planning, academic advisement and placement offers a library of job-related materials for independent research; surveys to help in choosing a career, lists of interested companies; and personal job counseling.

Speakers from professionals and mini-lectures on resume writing and interview preparation are also offered.

"Our thrust is to work with our students and assist them on an aggressive and positive job search. It's our responsibility to help students develop skills to find a job," Wilder said.

Also available to undecided students is the University Counseling Center, which has a three-step method for helping students.

The Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory gives students an idea of what careers interest them. The Edwards Personal Preference Schedule compares students' interests to professions. A counseling session to interpret test results follows.

"They're a good tool, but they're not the complete answer," staff counselor Bob Paul said. He said students also need to talk with their advisers and career planning, academic advisement and placement.

Students earn up to 30 hours

CLEP credits hasten graduation

By LINDA DONO

For some students, the best part of going to college is graduating. With the College Level Examination Program, students can graduate by earning credit without going to class. And there's still time to earn up to 30 hours on general examinations.

"It's the greatest thing we've ever had," testing supervisor Marie Martin said. Students can earn college credit for their high school knowledge.

"If a student has a lot of knowledge, you hate to see them go in and start off at the 100 level when they could take higher level courses," she said. "It's a shame they have to go through a class they already know just to get credit."

First-semester freshmen have until Sept. 7 to register for general examinations in English, humanities, social science, natural science and math. Fees are $22 for the first test and $18 for each additional test.

Compared to other expenses, CLEP tests may well be a bargain: at Western a Kentucky part-time student pays $27 each semester hour. For $22, a freshman can earn up to 6 hours on one test.

General tests will be Sept. 14 at 8 a.m. in the College of Education Building, room 406. Each test lasts 90 minutes, so a set of exams will take all day.

"Most of the time if they want to take a test, they can tell their teachers and they will usually let them go," Ms. Martin said. "I haven't heard of a case where someone couldn't take it because of that."

Yet admissions director Cheryl Chambliss said few freshmen take advantage of the proficiency tests. "It's not near 20 or 25 percent of the freshmen because we're talking at the top 10 percent or so of the class."

Registrar Stephen House said only 33 freshmen in fall 1980 got credit for the English CLEP test, but 172 others got credit for English 101 because of ACT scores. Statistics for other CLEP exams should be higher, he said, because Western doesn't offer credit for any other sections of the American College Test.

"The exams are somewhat difficult; therefore, I would assume the majority of the freshmen students would not score high enough to get credit."

A score of 500 on most tests -- English requires 610 -- will earn 6 hours credit, but 50 on one subtest will usually earn 3 hours. CLEP also offers subject exams for upperclassmen.

The College Composition subject exam was an upperclass test for English 101, Ms. Martin said. A Western Civilization test can substitute for the required course, and all tests' essay sections are not required here.

A study on hours earned by examination between 1972 and 1975 showed one student tested out of 42 hours through CLEP, the high school Advanced Placement Program and departmental proficiency tests.

House said that student's exceptional and that few students get 30 hours, a year's equivalent.

Centers offer worship

By WILMA NORTON

Students looking for a place to worship will find the most accessible places are church-sponsored student centers.

The Baptist Student Center at 1586 Normal Drive has planned welcome-back activities for all this week, Pastor Clay Mullard said.

The center will sponsor a volleyball mixer at 7 tonight on the university center lawn. A beginning-classes breakfast will be at 7:15 a.m. tomorrow and a watermelon boil is scheduled for 8:30 tomorrow night.

The center’s weekly services are 7 p.m. Mondays.

The Catholic Newman Center has mass at 5 p.m. Saturdays and 11 a.m. Sundays. The center is at 1407 College St.

The Church of Christ Student Center, 1556 Chestnut St., will have a night of devotion, singing, discussion and prayer at 8:30 tonight, Rev. Bruce Bregle said. A college Bible study will be at the Greenwood Park Church of Christ, 1553 Campbell Lane.

No regular worship services are conducted at the center, but the center runs a van for students to the Greenwood Park church, Bregle said. The center can provide a schedule.

Sunday Bible study at Greenwood Park is at 9 a.m., and worship is at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The Wesley Foundation, the Methodist Student Center, is at 1635 College St. Starting Aug. 30, Sunday school will be at 9:45 a.m., and worship will be at 11 a.m.

The Wesley Foundation will sponsor an ice cream social at the foundation at 7 tonight and a picnic Sunday at Covington Park. Students should meet at 5 p.m. Sunday at the center to go to the picnic.

The Western Christian Student Fellowship meets at His House, 250 E. 14th St., for communion services at 9:30 a.m. Sundays. Bible study is at 10 a.m., and worship services are at 11.

The center also has Bible study at 6:30 p.m. Tuesdays and a “focus time” of singing, discussion and prayer on Thursday nights, Pastor Steve Stovall said.

Several churches offer bus service for students on Sundays.

The Eastwood Baptist Church’s van stops in the lower parking lot of Potter Hall at 9:15 a.m., at McCormack Hall at 9:45 a.m. and at the university center and Keen Hall at 10:30 a.m.

Eastwood Baptist sponsors a snack breakfast for students at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, followed at 10:45 p.m. for Sunday school. Worship services are at 11 a.m.

Wednesday services begin with supper at 5:15 p.m., handbells at 5:45 p.m., college Bible study at 6:30 p.m. and sanctuary choir at 7 p.m.

The First Baptist Church, 621 E. 12th St., will begin its bus service to campus on Aug. 30.

First Baptist holds Sunday school at 9 a.m. and worship services at 10:50 a.m. Church training begins at 6 p.m., and evening worship starts at 7 p.m.

The Glendale Baptist Church, 100 Rose Lawn Way, also offers campus bus service at 8:45 a.m. on Sunday mornings. Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m., and morning worship is at 10:50. Evening services are at 6:15 and 7:30 p.m.

Several other churches are within walking distance of campus.

The 12th Street Church of Christ at 213 E. 12th St. has Bible class at 9 a.m. and worship at 10 a.m. Sundays. Evening worship is at 7:45 p.m. A Bible study is at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The First Christian Church—Disciples of Christ is at 11th and State streets. Sunday worship services are at 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., and Sunday school is at 9:30 a.m.

The Presbyterian Church at 1003 State St. has a special group for college students called the Westminster Fellowship. It meets on alternate Sundays at 5:30 p.m. Beginning in September, services will be at 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Sunday school will be at 9:30 a.m.

The Christ Episcopal Church at 1215 State St. will have services at 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. through Labor Day and at 8 a.m., 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. after that.

Joy Gramling outlines the racing lanes in the pool. Gramling, who has worked for Western for three years, spent the summer painting around campus. The pool took two days to complete.

Growing menu
8 new restaurants expand dining fare

By MARK HEATH

Bowling Green's menu is expanding.

At least eight new restaurants have opened or will open soon, and most of them are replacing other restaurants.

Gone from the list of local food establishments are Arbys, Annie's Restaurant, Carafe and Crock, Gatsby's and O'Leary's.

After some remodeling, Raferry's, which has a general menu and bar, opened two weeks ago in the old Gatsby's building. No reservations are needed and the restaurant is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. on weekdays and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Ambrosia, specializing in lunch and catering, opened in mid-May on College Street just above the State Theater. The restaurant, open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., has carry-out service.

A doughnut shop, Donuta Ltd., opened on the U.S. 31-W By-Pass across from the Holiday Inn. The shop is open from 5 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The Nugget Shoppe in the Bowling Green Mall has opened Nugget Shoppe II on the Fountain Square Park. The shop offers a delicatessen and is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 3:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Antonio's Italian Restaurant has replaced Carafe and Crock on the south end of the by-pass.

Fontana's, a delicatessen and Italian restaurant, opened about six weeks ago in the former O'Leary's Supper Club building, next to the Western Hills Motel on Russellville Road.

The restaurant serves a delicatessen menu and after 4 p.m. has a complete Italian menu for dinner. It will eventually include a lounge and bar. The restaurant is open from 10:30 a.m. to 12 midnight Monday through Saturday.

Plum Nellie's will open today or tomorrow in the old Arbys' on the south end of the by-pass. The delicatessen will be open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Book buying choices are limited

By KEVIN FRANCHE

Students not wishing to buy books from the campus bookstore have few alternatives.

Dormitory bulletin boards usually sport several student-made signs with cheaper prices on last-semester books. Book exchanges sometimes spring up at the beginning of each semester.

Alpha Kappa Psi, a business fraternity, has had book exchanges in the past, but fraternity adviser Robert Oppitz said he doesn't know whether they will sponsor one this year.

Bowling Green's used book stores sometimes carry textbooks.

The Book Rack on the U.S. 31-W By-Pass stocks many paperback textbooks, including Cliff Notes and literature classics, like Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," Bronte's "Jane Eyre" and Homer's "Odyssey."

Rachel Lowe, a Book Rack employee, said the store would like to carry hardback textbooks, too, but just doesn't have the room. "We do try to buy all paperback textbooks that Western students bring in," the Book Rack buys the paperbacks for 25 percent of the original cost then re-sells the books for 50 percent of the original cost, she said.

The Book Trader, a used bookstore on Main Street, doesn't buy textbooks any more, employee Eschel Cox said. "We used to buy textbooks but stopped because it was too much trouble," she said.

Laundries are handy to campus

By MONICA DIAS

It will build up in the corner of your room — that moldering pile of laundry you wore through the first week of school and two weeks of rush parties.

Mom's not around. You're on your own.

Don't abandon your college education or buy a new wardrobe — the laundry facilities on and around campus can bring those earthy, beer-stained clothes back to cleanliness.

The campus laundry is on the first floor of the parking structure for those who don't feel like running off campus. A university van will pick you up at the dormitory if you've really got an armload.

Washers are 50 cents and dryers are 25 cents, so come armed with ten pocket change if wash day comes only once a month. Campus laundry hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Sunday.

Students wanting to avoid the weekend rush at the campus laundry can come out a little cheaper by taking a walk across the railroad tracks behind McCormack Hall to Econ-O-Wash on Morgantown Road. Washers are 50 cents and dryers are 25 cents.

For the supremely lazy, Plaza Washy Washy on the 31-B W-By-Pass will wash and dry your clothes for 60 cents plus machine costs, but there's no delivery. (Come on now, they can't do everything.) Washy Washy provides regular, two- and three-load washers for 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.

Instead of soaking badly-stained clothes in the bathroom sink, let a dry cleaner deal with them. Big B Cleaners has three locations and charges $1.55 for pants and $3.10 for suits. Other dry cleaners and laundries are listed in the yellow pages.

Now that you've chosen a laundry, you have to learn some tricks.

- Separate clothes into whites, darks and colors.
- Bring a friend to share the load; it's cheaper and not as lonely.
- Be prepared to kick and claw for a dryer during peak laundry hours.

Although these tips won't make you anxious for wash day, they should help you meet that first test of independence with confidence.

Parking stickers' price doubles

BY CHRIS AILEN
and ROBERT CARTER

Finding a parking place within walking distance of campus can try anyone's nerves.

And parking in the wrong place or without a proper permit can also drain the pocketbook.

Western's public safety department is responsible for allocating more than 4,700 on-campus spaces to nearly half as many registered vehicles. The cost has gone up — for parking permits are now $20, double last year's fee.

The permits will be available at registration Monday and Tuesday, and at the public safety's office in the parking structure Wednesday through Friday. This year, no vehicle registration papers are required; all a student needs is to fill out a six-question form, show a valid driver's license, and pay the fee.

The permits are given according to where the student lives, as follows:

- Students living on the north end of campus (from Central Hall northward) are issued blue Zone B stickers which allow legal parking in the Central Hall lot; on Virginia Garrett and Florence Schneider Hall lot; on streets adjacent to Bates-Runner Hall; in the parking structure; and in the Diddle Arena lot.
- Students on the south end of campus (Pearce-Ford Tower and adjacent dorms) are issued green Zone D stickers. These allow parking in the lots near Pearce-Ford Tower; in the lot adjacent to Poland Hall; and in part of the Services and Supply Building lot.
- Commuting students get yellow Zone C stickers, allowing parking in the Diddle Arena lot; the parking structure; the lot behind Thompson Complex North Wing; and four spaces in front of the old Hub Pizzeria near Cherry Hall.

All students with permits may also park in the Rundlesville Road lot, near Jones-Jaggers School. No students may park in red faculty-staff zones — except between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. or on weekends.

Handicapped-driver spaces or spaces marked for loading zones are also off-limits.

Failure to pay five citations in an academic year or falsifying information on permit applications will cause a student to lose the permit. Last school year's stickers expire Sept. 1.

Temporary permits are available. One-day permits are free with a limit of five and week-long permits cost 50 cents with a limit of four.

Phone books expected in October

STAN numbers available

By TOMMY NEWTON

Students can "reach out and touch someone" long distance from their dorm rooms; it's just a little harder to do.

For dorm residents who make long distance phone calls, South Central Bell will provide a Student Telephone Account Number, according to a South Central Bell official. The STAN numbers are cheaper billing and can only be used from dorm phones.

The ten-digit number lets students call long distance from their room; otherwise, calls must be collect or billed to a third number. STAN applications can be picked up at the housing office in Potter Hall or in any residence hall office.

After returning the application, the student will receive a number in the mail. A guardian's signature or an $85 deposit is required to ensure bill payment.

Bills can be paid at the College Heights Bookstore or at the South Central Bell office at 1159 State St. Students are billed monthly, and there are service charges for the STAN number.

To dial a direct long distance call in the 502 area with a STAN number, dial 9-1-555-5555, for example, and an operator will ask for your STAN number.

On-campus calls are a bit easier: dial only the last four digits. Calls in Bowling Green can be made by dialing 5 and the seven-digit phone number.

Until the campus phone books come out in October, students will have to dial dormitory directory or dial 5, the campus operator, to get student phone numbers. Public Information Director Fred Hensley said, "Off-campus information can be reached by dialing 6411. He said he doesn't foresee last year's delay when dorm phone numbers were left out of the campus directory."

Off-campus students needing phone service and installation should try to the South Central Bell office, he said.

By ROBERT CARTER

Skipping town is no easy task in Bowling Green.

The city no longer has commercial airport service, and Amtrak passenger trains haven't come through for almost two years.

Bowling Green is, however, served by commercial bus lines, and heading for home can be cheaper by sharing the ride — and the expenses — with someone else.

The Barren River Area Development District has encouraged students to carpool for several years, and this year is no exception.

The program is geared toward students who commute daily from nearby towns such as Franklin and Glasgow, but the BRADD program can also match students up for weekend rides home, Tim Asher, agency transit broker, said.

Students can sign up to car pool at registration, Asher said. "We get their address or the general area they're from, then we divide them up into quadrants or sections, and send the people a list of all the people in their area who signed up."

About 100 people signed up for the program last year, Asher said, and BRADD hopes for about the same number this year. But Asher said the agency won't be able to advertise the project until it gets more money, which should be in October.

Bowling Green's bus station, at Eighth and College streets, serves both Greyhound Bus Lines and Tennessee Trailblazer Lines. Greyhound has seven buses daily to Louisville and six to Nashville, while Trailblazers leaves twice daily for Hopkinsville.

A direct route to Owensboro, once run by Trailblazers, was discontinued earlier this month. Greyhound still provides indirect service to that city via Louisville.

Greyhound still provides indirect service to that city via Louisville.

The nearest commercial airlines are at Berry Field in Nashville and Louisville's Standiford Field, but the air traffic controllers' strike has forced some cutbacks in service.

Students can also get discount cards that knock 50 cents off the $3 ticket price.

The complex doubles the number of theaters in Bowling Green. Greenwood Six will be playing mostly first-run movies and can seat 1,600 people, Turner said.

Midnight features on Friday and Saturday will begin in September and will be tailored "to the late-night college crowd." Among the features the complex may show are "The Hobbit" and the rock 'n' roll film "The Song Remains the Same" featuring Led Zeppelin, he said.

Since the six theaters opened June 12, Turner said business has been brisk and is expected to increase when school starts.

6 cinemas opened near mall

By KEVIN FRANCKE

Bowling Green has not one, but six new theaters.

And Joe Turner, a Cave City senior and assistant manager at The American Multi-Cinema Greenwood Six, said the complex will appeal to penny-pinching students.

The theaters, next to Greenwood Mall on Scottsville Road, offer twilight shows every night between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. for $1.50. Students can also get discount cards that knock 50 cents off the $3 ticket price.

Out-of-town checks may be hard to cash

By SHARON WRIGHT

A student and his financial malady are as common to university life as Frisbee games on dormitory lawns.

And matters are complicated by businesses hesitant to cash checks from a student's home bank.

As a result, incoming students are often interested in checking plans offered by the three local banks:

Basic checking plans offered by American National Bank include a regular checking account and an All-American Club. The regular account offers all checks and services for $8 a month when the balance is less than $100.

The All-American Club costs $4 a month, but services include "free" personalized, traveler's, and cashier's checks. No minimum balance is required.

Bowling Green Bank and Trust, offers a choice between a regular checking account and a Club account. Service charges for the regular account are based on a minimum daily balance with $3 maximum for a balance below $200. The Club account costs $4 a month and includes personal, traveler's and cashier's checks.

Plans offered by Citizen's National Bank include the bank's Econo checking account and an All-Citizens Club. The Econo checking account costs $30 a month and includes a check. No minimum balance is required. The All-Citizens Club is $4.50 a month and includes traveler's checks and money orders.

Penalties for writing bad checks are $10 at Citizen's and American National, and $9.50 at Bowling Green Bank and Trust.

American has a main office at 922 State St. and branches at Broadway, Fairview, Greenwood Mall, Louisville Road, Nashville Road and Scottsville Roads.

Other checking plans offered by local banks include an account at Bowling Green Bank and Trust at 900 College St., which offers checking accounts and travelers' checks. The bank also offers a "Community" account, which has no minimum balance and includes traveler's checks.

In addition, banking services include checking accounts, traveler's checks, cashiers' checks, and money orders. The bank also offers 24-hour teller service at its main office.

But never fear — Western cashes personal and university payroll checks on weekdays: 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. at the cashier's office in the administration building and 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the box office in the university center.

2 named outstanding Kentuckians

Two Western students, a freshman and a sophomore, have been named Outstanding Young Kentuckians by the Kentucky Jaycees and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Thomas, a Hopkinsville freshman, will be a chemistry and biology major and wants to be a pathologist.

Kentucky's 1981 Junior Miss, she graduated from Christian County High School with a 3.66 grade-point average. Miss Thomas was also public relations captain for two years and rifle captain one year on the high school drill team, and a member of the National Honor Society, the Beta Club and the Student Council.

Mark Chapman, a sophomore agronomy major from Bowling Green, plans a future in farming. He has held various offices in the Future Farmers of America, including the state presidency, and was valedictorian at Warren Central High School. He was president of the junior class and the Beta Club, and received the Daughters of American Revolution Good Citizenship Award in 1979.

Health services ease school blues

By ERICA SMITH

After a few weeks of partying or cramming for exams, you may feel a little under the weather.

And Bowling Green has health facilities that include the university clinic, two hospitals, public counseling centers and the health department.

The University Health Service in the academic complex has X-ray facilities, a pharmacy, a lab, an allergy clinic and an in-patient area. The center has two physicians, one licensed practical nurse, six full- and three part-time registered nurses.

Because of university budget cuts, the clinic has curtailed weekend hours but will still have around-the-clock service 8 a.m. Monday through 4:30 p.m. Friday. A limited staff of one doctor and a nurse will work Saturday mornings from 10 to noon. The clinic is closed Sundays.

The office fee has been raised from $3 to $5, and the after-hours fee has been increased from $4 to $8. Other fees have also been raised, but you can be billed.

Other, medical and counseling services are in the city. The Barren River Comprehensive Care Center on Reservoir Street is a counseling center with therapists and two doctors on call for coping with anxiety, depression, drugs, alcohol, finances and child-parent problems.

Fees can be paid by check, credit card or cash and are on a sliding scale based on income.

The center is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. On Thursdays, after-hours service are available by appointment until 8 p.m.

The Bowling Green Health Department on Adams Street offers several clinics. The general clinic offers free services such as immunizations (excluding flu shots); blood pressure checks; venereal disease information, testing and treatment; prematurial blood tests; and sickle cell anemia tests.

A free prenatal clinic for pregnant women is available by appointment only. The clinic has two midwives, who deliver babies at hospital.

Every first and third Monday, the health department offers a free Pap smear clinic by appointment for women up to 45 not using birth control. Services include breast exams and tests for glaucoma, high blood pressure and colon and rectal cancer.

A Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program is also offered. The program is a supplemental food program for pregnant, postpartum and nursing women, and a feeding program for young children. Participation is free, pending qualification for the program.

A family planning clinic offers Pap smears, breast exams, birth control and sterilization information. A fee based on income or employment status is charged, according to health education coordinator Becky Bruce.

Health pamphlets are also available.

- Department hours are Monday, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Tuesday and Wednesday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Thursday, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; and Friday, 8 a.m. to noon.

The Medical Center at Bowling Green on Park Street was originally on hospital hill and called the Bowling Green-Warren County Hospital. The hospital has a 24-hour emergency room — including X-ray, lab, pharmacy, and special care units such as coronary, intensive care and surgery.

Greenview Hospital on Ashley Circle is a private hospital without an emergency room. The hospital does staff an out-patient area where special cases are admitted by the patient's doctor.

Restaurants abound in two nearby areas

By MARIE REYNOLDS

If whipping up gourmet delights in the dormitory kitchen doesn’t sound like fun, Bowling Green has several restaurants within walking distance of campus.

Near the south end of campus are Harrer’s and Harpers’ Bistro, both in the north end of campus.

The widest range of restaurants within walking distance, however, lie in the U.S. 238 bypass between University Boulevard and Southville Road.

For pizza, Gallagher’s and Donkey’s are both in the south end of campus.

Packed restaurants on the bypass include Tech Time, Wendy’s, Sunny’s, and McDonald’s.

Other franchises are Luigi John’s and pizza shops.

Mr. J’s Pizza, with a menu from pizza to chicken, will deliver to campus for $10 or more, and is open from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Emporio’s will deliver pizza to any address in the city and is open until 2 a.m. on weekdays and 11 a.m. on weekends.

Brio’s Italian restaurant offers delivery and opens until midnight on weekends and 11 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

Piggly Wiggly delivers free.

Shopper’s necessities are only steps away

BY MARY AYLING

Students without transportation can find many shopping areas within walking distance of campus.

The Shopping Center on the U.S. 238 bypass houses a Blockbuster, Dollar General Store, a laundry and Taylor Drugs.

These lucky enough to own a car have a greater shopping selection.

Greenwood Mall on Westlake Road offers the largest one-stop selection of stores and services in Bowling Green.

With 11 shops on the mall, it has three major department stores – J.C. Penney, Bon-Ton, and Carson-Kirkland.

Canada’s, a men’s shop, sells jewelry, shoes, and women’s dresses.

Shoppers and welders’ needs are met at Redman’s Welding Supply.

Downtown district Mini-Welder’s offers welding repair.

The Piggly Wiggly on U.S. 238 bypass has a pharmacy, a convenience store, a liquor store, and a drive-through.

The Kroger on U.S. 238 bypass offers a bakery, a deli, a pharmacy, and a drive-through.

The Natchez Shopping Center on University Road offers a Remax Office, a Homes Direct, and an Outlet Market.

"I’ll be seeing Germany a way no tourist can. From the cockpit of an Army Chinook helicopter—
"I’m being assigned to a Chinook helicopter unit in Germany as a test pilot and maintenance officer, and I’m proud that I’ll be the first woman to have that assignment over there. It’s a real thrill for me.
"So was learning how to fly a helicopter. It takes a lot more skill than an airplane. If you think college is demanding; flight school is even tougher. It’s not only academically demanding, it’s really mentally demanding as well as physically.
"In Germany, I’ll have a chance to use some of the leadership and management techniques I learned in ROTC. It’s going to be a real challenge having command responsibilities.
"I’m also excited about living in Germany. I’m looking forward to travelling and doing some skiing. And really want to learn the language and get to know the people.
"I got into ROTC really just to see what it was all about. For me, it all could have worked out better. Army ROTC got Anda Strauss off to a good start. Maybe it can do the same for you. To find out, stop by your Army ROTC office on campus. While you’re there, ask about our scholarships and $1,000 a year spending money you can earn in your last two years. And begin your future as an officer.
