THE MAJORITY

The majority of the students take the Life Enrichment Course, because:
1. It raises one's earning power and makes any other course
2. It leads to the degree B. G. U.
3. This paper has ever completed it without going to another position.
4. It includes several branches not embraced in any other course.
5. It is recorded again and again. Me wonder why all want it!

ENJOYING THE WORLD

Since I left school I have spent quite a while in the larger cities of the Northeastern section of the United States. I have arrived myself of every opportunity of seeing the countless of wonderful things in and around our metropolis; have climbed to the heights of the museums and libraries; have looked from out her top on the waters of the great lakes; have been equipped for the world's greatest playgrounds.

will have its formal opening on January 1, 1927.

AFTER US AGAIN

This is a letter from Dr. G. L. R. and us, its family for the season. It has been received to us than all our school days before.
In past years, since I received it a salary of $75 per month, but here recently entered into a partnership in a General Merchandise Business paying better than the salary. Thus writes Mr. J. B.
Bower of Amabile, Texas. There is a good place for a gentleman and know where the place and the man is.

A GRATEFUL STUDENT

"I have given the school that the school will give me and the school's business is the greatest I have ever had. I want to thank every one of the instructors for the good instruction they gave me." These are the grateful words of H. T. Waldo,
President of the School.

10 YEARS OLD

"I am getting 75 per month with good chance of promotion soon. I know this is not a fortune, but still we must remember I am only nineteen years old. This is the correspondence of J. W. Dohm of Louisiana. He left our School of Telegraphy and is now working for the Southern Pacific Railroad at Los Angeles. He has been here for six or seven months to complete the course on Telegraphy and Railroad Accounting.

This is also several young ladies and young ladies of the southern states who produced piano solos, vocal solos and vocal duets. Mr. C. F. Clift, choral director of the Conservatory society, presided.

A STRONG PAPER

Our former student, Mr. E. L. Mellop teaches commercial and branches in the field of telegraphy in the Disciplinary Valley of Bankers.
It was so good that our friend and competitor, the Spartanburg Business College of Louisville, considered the per- mission to publish it in pamphlet form and distribute it as an advertisement in favor of business courses. Good
Mr. Milligan! Good for Mr. Spooner!
OFFICE FORCE OF THE EASTERN STATE NORMAL

Mr. H. H. Gook, Mr. Charles Baker.

Mr. Ray W. Harman, Mr. James C. Gentz.

Mr. Frank C. Gentz is Business Manager of the Eastern State Normal School at Richmond, Kentucky, and private secretary to the President. Mr. Baker and Mr. Gook are stenographers in the advertising office of the institution, and Mr. Ray W. Harman is head bookkeeper. All these young men are graduates of the R. G. U. We are proud of them and the splendid record they have made.

BUSINESS BOOMING!

"And let the battle to the trumpet speak. The trumpet to the cannon without. The cannon to the heavens, the heavens to the first rate."—Shakespeare.

How would you like to ride on a river that is three or four hundred feet under the surface of the earth? The above is a picture of such a river as the Mammoth Cave. The Mammoth Cave is not only the most wonderful place in all America but it gives miles of explored routes. Come and go with us on our next excursion. The Cave is only sixty minutes' ride from Bowling Green.

ARMS! MARCHING! MARCHING! The trumpet of men, the rumble of army wagons and the thunder of artillery are no more conspicuous now than the "booming" of the League. The Interior Department's final dispatch followed by the editorial of the Times-Journal of this city tells the story:

WORKING RANKS OF U. S. ARE INVAXED BY CALL TO ARMS.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—The call to arms has invaded the working heart of Uncle Sam. Hundreds of men in every department have gone to training camps and away with militia commissions. Resignations have come thick and fast while many men were granted leaves without being required to resign.

Again, new business are being created. The demand for clerks in the employ of the government was never greater, and today throughout the country, heads of training schools and business colleges are announcing on the respect of the government a number of courses that may be had now by ambitious men and women who desire to enter the government employ. They point out that because of the suspension of the civil service regulations, it is many instances, positions are comparatively easy to secure.

Expect stenographers were never in as great demand. Again, typists, bookkeepers and expert accountants are particularly valuable at this time.

The names of those applying, who but he employed now, are taken, and men and boys in the departments, women will be substituted and directed by old men who remain.

Our local Business University is receiving more calls for young lady stenographers, as well as young men who are competent to hold places as bookkeepers, stenographers and telegraph operators, than the school has ever received at any other time in its history. Many railroads are now seeking young women as telegraph operators, a condition now known in this country. Three railroad officials called on the Bowling Green Business University last week and requested the institution to train for their railroad several young men and women bookkeepers, stenographers, clerks and telegraph operators for full employment.

The United States Government is advertising for 20,000 stenographers, male or female, to begin on $530 a month. The iron a bit. Now is the time to strike. There is no room, under these conditions, why any young person should be out of profitable employment. A few months spent in a good business school is the best investment any girl or boy could make at this time.—Times-Journal.

Not only the pensmanship, but the fact expressed in the column above, is worthy of your consideration. The one object uppermost in the minds of all those interested in business education, is to secure an honest and valuable man for all your business men and women, and any one feels that he has invested wisely when he makes ten or twelve per cent annually; but it is nothing unusual for boys and girls, young men and young women, with an earning power of $250 to $400 a month to complete our Life Endowment Course and leave us with an earning-power ranging from $75 to $80 a month. It is not always convenient to go to school, but income is the best investment that you could make, it will pay you to come, even if it should put you to no little trouble.
GOVERNOR FERRIS.
The Commencement Address of the class of 1916 is delivered by ex-Governor W. N. Ferris of Big Rapids, Michigan, twice governor of his state and present president of the Michigan Institute which he founded and has built into one of the greatest educ.

eational institutions in this country. He stands out foremost among men. As a speaker he is read, his thoughts clearly and speaks positively. He is one of the most independent, vigorous and original men in our Nation. He is favorably noticed as a suitable successor to Woodrow Wil.

son. His address bristled with thought, and was ornate in expression and diction. It is a rare privilege and an honor to have such a man with us.

VICE PRESIDENT.
Mr. J. L. Harris of this Institution is deservedly one of the most popular and useful men in the com.

munity, as is evidenced by the fact that he has just been elected Second Vice President of the Chamber of Com.

merce of this city. Next year we shall have the pleasure of addressing him as President Harris.

Mr. J. C. Diviell, who came to us from McLean County a few years ago, is proving himself with glory as off.

world. We are looking to him to attain still greater heights, and we know he shall not be disappointed.

Curt Scrib.
"Urges upon the people the desir.

amination. Good people are needed." This advice comes in a private letter from an official in Washington. It takes only a few months to get ready for the examination. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

GOOD WRITING RAISES SALARIES

This is the story of the bowling green business university as it appeared on March 10, 1917. These students came from practically every state in this country and some of them from Canada and Cuba—A happy, enthusiastic, well-behaved student-body.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

Dear Sir,

The president of the Bowling Green Business University says that with our present high prices, it is not possible to maintain a standard of living that will enable students to work and study.

Good writing is not difficult to achieve. It is very, very young people who find it in three or four months, and if they succeed in their pursuits, it is partly due to the fact that they are studying writing in the school.

H. R. Laird of Boston, Massachusetts, and a successful writer in the Department of Commerce and Business Administration, has written on the subject of good writing that many students have a very poor command of grammar and spelling, and that they are being gradually taught by the system of the school.

Mr. E. E. Bowles, head of the Department of Business and industrial education in this country, is an authority on grammar and spelling. He believes in the value of business writing and is a great advocate of good writing.

Mr. H. R. Kawasaki, of Boston, Massachusetts, says that the students in his class are studying writing in a very practical and effective way. They are learning the principles of grammar, spelling, and punctuation, and are making good progress.

Mr. F. E. Bowles has been in touch with some of the students in the class and says that they are making good progress.

Mr. H. R. Kawasaki says that the students are learning the principles of grammar, spelling, and punctuation, and are making good progress.

A HAPPY, ENTHUSIASTIC, WELL-BEHAVED STUDENT-BODY

A VARIETY OF TALENT

The students of the university represent many different parts of the country. Some are from the East, others from the West, and many are from the South. They are studying in the various departments of the university and are making good progress.

Mr. F. E. Bowles, of Boston, Massachusetts, says that the students are making good progress.

A TELLING TELEGRAM

The Bowling Green Business University has received a telegram from Mr. E. E. Bowles, head of the Department of Business and industrial education in this country, saying that the students are making good progress.

Former Students in the Capitol Building

Besides the four ex-students mentioned below, Mr. S. F. Davis, now Private Secretary to Miss Cora McLeod, Secretary to Judge Nanos of the Court of Appeals, has returned to Fort Worth. State officials, it seems, are looking for the best office-help to be found. We are pleased of those half-dozen who are making records for themselves.

Miss Anna Louise Deeds of Elkin writing us from Fort Worth, asks, "You may be interested in the fact that I am now stenographer to General H. J. H. Macdonald, Secretary of State, at a salary of about $3,000 a year. Miss Deeds, you may well be proud of it. We congratulate you not only you, but the Attorney General."

In the Capitol

Miss Maude Church, a former student, is living in the capitol in the estimation of us all, and the old Kentucky Homestead, as well as with the offices of the Capitol. Miss Church is a true daughter of the most stenographic family in the south of them all—Miss Maugli, we are so proud of you to-day.

Auditor Douthit

Mr. E. H. Douthit is auditor in the office of the State Inspector. He entered the State service two or three years ago and a week, and is turning in such handsome work that the salary will be raised to $1,000 a month.

Private Secretary to Chief Justice Settle

Chief Justice Warren E. Settle, of the Appellate Court, and Mr. John Rhea Mayo, of Fort Worth, are heard to be engaged in the Washington National Guard. When he left school, he became cashier of the Bank at Glasgow Junction and from this position it was called to his present enviable place.

Employment for Graduates

There are several reasons why the school system of today is so different. First, the program of service positions should be separate.

First: Despite any claims to the contrary, students are not expected to make a direct or indirect charge for the service. There are three books, free rail transportation, and the time of securing positions—all these should be included in the beginning. The like, the tariff, they must be included in the tariff. The only exception is the time out of the tuition fee. The more "free extras" the student requests, the more his tuition charge.

Second: Instruction and employment, as such, are separate. It is a ridiculous charge is absolute, the other conditions must exist in a subsequent development, and depend upon the nature of the character and the conduct of the students. The second reason, as well, its cost least to the school. If the latter is a second business—since the student's character and conduct are unknown quantities—these should not be included in the tuition charge.

Third: There is no tuition charge. Students, studying with it the cost of securities, books, keepers, typographers, executives, representatives, secretaries, time keepers. If you expect any service from the school, it will be useless to look forward to a more favorably time than the present.

Some Brainless Facts

The school has received many measures; therefore the following points will interest any one who is in the capitol.

1. Didn't you think a year ago it was a big idea to remove an employee now that he is then? But it! What difficulty has the post of your time removed? What do you hope another postagem will do that the tuition charge will do?

2. If you want something that you cannot teach, don't search, and changing markets cannot teach, you will find it in Business Education. It is always in demand.

3. Do you lack the necessary knowledge for your present position? Turn toward the rising sun and you will find higher grounds of knowledge. If you lack knowledge, buy it. If you need it, you lack it. If you have it, it will be useless to look forward to a more favorably time than the present.

At a Mountain Railway

"You may be interested to know that we have a very substantial raise in my salary, and as Killian, the Vice President of the firm that I am now head bookkeeper and general accountant, has been raised $500 a year. We both have best wishes for your school and kinder personal regards."

A grateful student.

Mr. D., we are proud of the brilliency of your mind and the helpfulness of your success.

We shall look to you for still greater upheaval in our country's respectability.

THE ELEVENTH ANNUAL DEBATE

THE WINNERS.
Mr. C. A. Cody.
Mr. J. W. Croffy.
Mr. A. C. Anderson.

This year the question was, "Resolved: That the President Should be Elected Only after Six Years, and be Ineligible to Serve Himself." It was a great debate. It measured up to the former standards. Fifteen hundred people filled the historic old Opera House to its utmost capacity, and many were turned away. The Hall was decorated in National colors. The program opened with a thrilling tableau. Mr. R. T. Baker, impersonating Uncle Sam, was seated in the foreground of the stage, and standing back of him was Miss Ethna Porter, representing the Goddess of Liberty and holding aloft the torch that enlightens the world. As the curtain rose, the Bowling Green Military Band struck up the Star Spangled Banner. The audience went wild with enthusiasm. Cheers followed. Hundreds of flags were waving in the air. It was one of the most dramatic and enthusiastic audiences our young debaters ever faced.

The speakers on the affirmative were Mr. R. E. Meares. David E. King of Hardinsville, Ky; Herbert Demorest of Horse Cave, Kentucky, and H. A. Young of Paducah, Kentucky. Those on the negative were Meares, J. F. Crosby of Hickson, Tennessee, C. A. Croft of Hardin County, Kentucky, and A. C. Anderson of Mayfield, Kentucky. We give here with the photographs of the Cowles representatives, the winners of the debate.

The chairmen was Hon. E. L. McCloskey, one of the oldest lawyers of Owensville, Kansas. The judges were as follows: Judge Byrnes W. Best, Hon. H. F. F. Thomas, Judge J. E. Brown, retired in the last two years, and G. W. Brown, the last lawyer at Bowling Green. When the decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative. A bottom of barricads could be heard for half a mile away. The Cowles went crazy with delight. They smashed footlights and tore down curtains to get to their victorious leaders, whom they carried out on their shoulders.

THE SOUTHERN EXPONENT

THE WINNERS.

In a general contest, in which the whole school participated, it was decided by Mr. Francis B.

THE WINNERS.

The winners were the two men who signed the certificate as authorized assignees, and Mr. W. A. Seay the second.

We reproduce hereunder the prices signed as written by the two winners. They show individuality, originality and "dash." It is no mean thing to be able to write such signatures.

All work on the development of the Cowles has been done by Mr. J. L. H., the President, the Vice President, Mr. E. H. Butler, and Mr. J. A. Combs, the Secretary.

AN OUT REPEATED CONVERSATION

1. Q. "What does board cost in Bloomington, Indiana?"

A. "Some of our students board in private homes, and we have furnished rooms, lodgings, hot and cold baths, electric lights and furnace-heated rooms, at $6.00 per month, in addition to the dormitory and other rent rooms in private families."

2. Q. "Could I rent furnished rooms for light housekeeping?"

A. "Yes, indeed. Indeed. It would be all students rent cottages of two or three rooms, with a kitchen and a bathroom, in furnished rooms; the prices vary according to the number of rooms, the kind of housekeeping, and the location."

3. Q. "In 100, you students study the train on the railroad to Bloomington."

A. "It is for your benefit to meet them either day or night. Be it early or late, as you wish to meet them."

4. Q. "When does your next term begin?"

A. "We really have no term system, but we meet and teach whenever they wish. The school never closes, having the advantage of teaching all the time."

5. Q. "How long do you think you would need complete a chemistry course?"

A. "That depends upon the work you cover. You would need more or less time depending on the amount of work you wish to cover."

6. Q. "In what year you are represented?"

A. "We are represented in all grades from the 7th through the 12th, and we have students from every state in the Union."

7. Q. "Do you teach on Mondays?"

A. "We do not teach on Mondays, but we have classes every day of the week."

8. Q. "Do you secure boarding-houses for the students?"

A. "Yes, and with pleasure. We have arrangements with several reliable boarding-houses of the city, and one of our number is always glad to select such a house for any student who may require it."

9. Q. "Do you think I would have a position after completing any one of these courses?"

A. "It is true that there is something wrong in your character or habits which prevents you from securing any employment, except that of a lackey. No person, old or young, rich or poor, has left this school without a position in the last few years."

10. Q. "Could you tell me what is the average cost of tuition for each course?"

A. "For our combined courses in Bookkeeping and shorthand, and in Telegraphy and Bookkeeping Accounting, the cost is $25.00 per month."

11. Q. "Are any of these courses open to those who have been employed?"

A. "Many have tried it and have gone back to the telegraph, and even those who use the telegraph system are quite advanced. The telegraph courses are extensive, and every student is given a practical education in the telegraph. The time will be spent sufficient to complete the course without doing telegraph operators. Several students have already completed the course, and are now doing work as skilled operators. The classes are designed to give students the necessary training to become skilled operators."

12. Q. "Can I get work enough to support myself?"

A. "We have had many students who have been able to support themselves; we have been able to supply the demand made upon us for telegraph operators. It is like that kind of business, you need not hesitate a moment, because a place is waiting for you."

13. Q. "Is it true that you charge $1,000 for your first year?"

A. "Yes, the first year is $1,000, which is the highest amount we charge."

14. Q. "How long do you think you should work to support yourself?"

A. "The usual period is six to eight months, but there are exceptions to this."

15. Q. "Do you receive money from your students?"

A. "We do receive money from our students, but it is not the only source of income. We also have endowments and other sources of income."

16. Q. "Do you have any recreation which might be considered as healthy?"

A. "Yes, we have a very fine gymnasium and a large outdoor playground, where the students can enjoy exercise and recreation and rest, because we do not want them to work too much."
