Western Downs Falcons, 103-87

The Hilltoppers last night won little short of sensational as they bowed the Miami University, Ohio, 103-87. The score of 103 is the second highest of the year for the Westernemen as they set a new record for the Cleveland arena, and the Falcon's defense was the all-American squad as he scored 37 points and the Falcons are being sold for the second season for Western trade school enrollment.

The three of the four phases of everything show more over the last year although the number of daily attendance students is down 67. Sixty-four students completed work or degrees at the end of the last semester. They will be diplomaed at the June commencement ceremonies.

Last semester the daily attendance figure was 391 and only 159 students were enrolled for special courses. The trade school registration was 13.2 while the Training school and rural school total was 16.

The college offered a course in Kentucky's Growth and Development, and the presentation of the course, was taught by Miss Gladys Knecht. Students from the class brought to the Library to study the growth and development of the state's systems. The course also included early county court records which were copied by their own hands. This was shared with Mrs. W. H. Simmons. Each record is of unusual value to the collection.

NAM STRESSES EDUCATION

The theme of the 84th Congress of American Industry is "Strong for America," and one of the principal sources of this strength is as called education. The National Association of Manufacturers highlighted the need for further education by bringing forty-nine college students to this Congress, enabling us to gain from first hand observation an understanding of American business and its problems. Further visit was fortunate to be Kentucky's student representative.

This was an unparalleled educational experience. For four days, the students observed all phases of industry, met international leaders in government and finance, talked with representatives of large and small, swapped our own opinions, and even participated in the session. The students were an integral part of the Congress. Many questions were answered for us. It is a picture of how business really works and what the manufacturer stands for. Besides attending the Congress, we were shown some of the highlights of the city of Louisville and we submit a frank critical analysis of the proceedings. Naturally the students did not agree on all NAM policy, but everyone agreed that business needed to be.GET America reaffirmed its interest and desire to be better educated, and urged local business everywhere to lend money and carry cooperative programs to become better acquainted with them and their work environment. The Congress was interested in the teachers, who are the building blocks of our industry. Discussions on a local level were valuable.

Debating clubs, social science classes, and even informal "book clubs" were used. It is an encouragement to all college students to attend this Congress.

Human relations were called the basis of American peace and prosperity. It was realized that misunderstanding from insufficient education. The future of our business, government, and all the other components of the industrial system will be in the hands of the students, who must acquire a genuine understanding of this entire area.

A student may say, "What do I care about business? It's none of mine." But it is. At least the NAM thinks so, and it looks toward a new strength for America—through education.

To Give Concert

Ray Anthony

Ray Anthony, his trumpet and his orchestra, will give a swing concert Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Van Meter auditorium under the sponsorship of the local Business and Professional Women's club.

Mr. Anthony, calling the "man with the horn" and his orchestra, the "new band of the year" by Orchestra World Magazine, are popular with young people and are well known for their renditions of "Wreck on the Highway" and "New Shade of Blue."

Dressed in black, Anthony is principal with the band, which is placed "in the front rank," according to the magazine. In addition to swing numbers, the band plays "scores" interpretations of currently popular songs.

Mr. Anthony was with Glenn Miller's orchestra when he joined the army and while serving in the South Pacific he was given his own band. After being released from the service in 1946, he formed his own orchestra.

Skid Victims Recovering

Carroll and Clarice Upson, former Westmoreland, are reported recovering from injuries received when their Olds 88 Sedan careened off I-40 at mile 57 and plunged over a 26-foot overpass six miles south of Bowling Green. They were the only survivors of a 12-car pileup which occurred at the same spot on April 19.

Upson, a workman major of the 4th Air, suffered a broken heel and fractured ankle. He was piled in a car 100 feet from the accident and expects to be out of it in two months.

His little sister, Clarice, who also received a broken ankle along with cuts and bruises, was not placed in a car but left in the road and is expected to remain in it for about four months.

Mr. Upson says he lost control of the car when it struck ice at the north end of the overpass. The convertible turned over several times before coming to rest on its crumpled top. Both students were thrown out of the door before the car hit the median.

President Of Freshman Class Is George Beard

By Kenneth Shore

It must be George Beard's unassuming attitude that makes him a campus favorite and president of the freshman class for this year.

"There's nothing I can't help you with," he told me, "I'm just an average fellow."

Perhaps it is his broadened interests that he has popularized, and brought him into contact and give him so many friends.

The students that he helps are not always those that require very well defined. For instance, George Beard is quite full of music as well as his other duties. He likes all of them.

Don't believe that George is a retiring nature because other than playing two years as a guard on the Hardinsburg high school basketball team he was also a member of the Science club, Pep Club, Glee Club and the National Honor Society.

George and his basketball team brother and brother, Tommy, president of the Student Union are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beard of Hardinsburg.

Chenoweth Leads "Pop" Concert

There has been some suspicion that the "pop" concert given by Western band leader, B. D. Chenoweth, has just because the formal concert bands; however, is not the reason. The music which was played was pleasant and popular in nature—hence the name.

The numbers included were: "Lullabyo, Baby," "Why? It's a Wonderful Life," "In Praise of Lorrain," "Relay," "Psalms and Psalms," "Weinkopf: Madrigal," "Mozart: Menuet," "Trumpey of Trumpey." Bennett’s "The New Moon" overture, Rimsky-Korsakov. The band will give another concert in the spring. It will feature the "Symphony in E" for band, Peckham. This presentation will be one of the finest in the nation, since the entire symphony has just been made available for band use.

Western Wins 2 Conference Tilts, Avenges Earlier Loss

By Kenneth Vance

Western's 50th win over Coach Paul McRae's Eastern Maroons on Saturday, January 21, means more to Cook Rd Dilley than just another victory. It was the 50th win for the man who has hoisted Western's colors over half the land.

This game at Richmond was just about his 38th victory, this year's only year, he thinks.

"Thrill a Minute" -

You get a thrill a minute in this game, he smiled. "But victories - omnipresent as they are - are only by-products. The important kick comes with the boys, watching them develop, following their careers after they graduate." Dilley drew the line at naming his "best player" or players in its sections at Western. "We've always had good players, but the last players I had.

After nearly three decades, do the players go faster or slower, he asked?

"They go as slow when we're behind. When we're ahead, they go so fast I don't get to enjoy them properly," he replied.

In a Class By Himself -

The record quietly produces Dilley in a class by himself in collegiate football.

The defeat of Eastern gave to K. A. Dilley the 50th win of his coaching career at Western.

Former Grid Star Commodes Blue Angels Navy Jet Air Group

Lieutenant Commander John Magda, a former Western grid star, is now serving in the U.S. Navy Air Force with a group of flyers known as the Blue Angels. The team has traveled all over the country demonstrating the capabilities of the Navy's newest planes.

As pilots in excess of 500 miles per hour, the Blue Angels put on light formation and executive aerobatics as well as the old propeller-driven planes.

During the war, Lt. Commander Magda served aboard the HORNET, SABATOA, and HOGGER, and won the Distinguished Flying Cross. He took command of the team in January.

Lt. Commander Magda attended Western in the fall of 1951. During this time he was an outstanding player on the Western football team. He rejoined the Blue Angels in January.

On Saturday afternoon, with Marshall, which drew a first-round bye, meeting the Eastern-Bowen winner and the Missouri-Murray winner playing the Western-TPI victor, a consolation game will be played Saturday night, followed by the championship game.

Saturday Classes Being Offered

Eastern Win Is see basketball history. How about Adolph Suppf? you ask? In '58 season at Kentucky, Suppf won 401 and lost 73. Did he? way over so we could barely speak, as the team creaved around the corner, and after the Eastern game, Not since 1851 has one of the teams, won the big game at Richmond.

In a great team victory in which Western is being favored to win for the first time in years, it was a couple of impressive forwards with a lot of heart, that came through. Buddy Carre, senior in 111, and holdout sophomore, was all喟 at the game.

The Hilltoppers led at the half-time, 30-22.

Arts And Crafts Club Presents Chairs To College; George Matthews Sings

At the conclusion of the regularly scheduled chapel program Wednesday morning in Van Meter auditorium, T. Y. Talbot, president of the Arts and Crafts club, presented to President Paul E. Garrett, two hand-made chairs to adorn Van Meter stage. Looking on are club members.

Two chairs were presented in appreciation to President Garrett. One of the chairs was made by Vincent S. Sherry, Larry A. DeWeese and Alvin W. Deans, and the second chair was presented by Roger B. Wilson and T. Y. Talbot. In accepting the chairs on behalf of President Garrett, Dr. Paul L. Garrett, president, said that the efforts of the Arts and Crafts club were appreciated and that he felt sure that these two chairs would give as little as 23 years of service that the old ones had.

A Club Project
All work on the chairs was done voluntarily and without pay by members of the club. The chairs are walnut with natural walnut finish with tapestry upholstery. In the year that was required for the completion of the project Harold Doane, Howard Smith and John Selby served as presidents of the Arts and Crafts club.

The old chairs were presented to Western in a similar exercise at a chapel program 20 years ago by John Strople, of Dawson, Arkansas, Marshal LeBonne of Chariton, N. C., Dewey Wallace, now of Johnson City teachers college, T. Y. Talbot, president of the Arts and Crafts club, and C. E. Barnes, now of the faculty of the industrial arts department here.

Beatrice Burgess Tells Of "Water Wedding"

A program which Miss Beatrice Burgess, AFRA, helped direct at a full recital camp at Cowashaw, Arkansas, last summer is expected to be pictured in National, Omaha, Nebraska, soon. Walter Edwards, magazine photographer included a "water wedding" in a series of shots portraying the Humphreys river from its source to its mouth. Highlights of colorful ceremonies of a marriage of "Mr. H. to Miss Two Child," and "Singing Low, Sweet Charley," "Water Boy," by Robinson, and "Shined Away," traditional, were offered as encore for a large, enthusiastic audience.

Mr. Matthews is a graduate of Yale University at New Haven, Connecticut and last year graduated at Eastern School of Music in Rochester, New York.

From Western the concert tenor went to Marshall State college as a part of a tour which will take him to such places as the Universities of Texas and Oklahoma.

Yearbook Sponsored By Grad Wins Honors
Miss Agnes Gough, AFRA, was faculty supervisor of the student art work in the yearbook of the Anderson High School, Alaska, and was placed in national competition according to an announcement made in New York by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association of the Columbia University School of Journalism.

Yearbooks of schools and colleges throughout the nation were judged by this Columbia University group on the basis of theme, format, and general content.

Columbia Scholastic Press also requested use of their cover design for use in advertising.

While at Western, Miss Gough majored in art.

Writer Explains European Trend

Europe is in a state of flux today, changing social and political systems with the expectation of a better life for the common man. A centrally controlled, all-powerfully known, fine propaganda machine is presenting peace to the people.

As for British socialism, she mustered. "The anticipation was worse than the realization of it. Actually the Leftist government is more inimical to the Left than the Liberal Party was.

Mrs. Seton, a native of England who spent eight months in a tour of European nations relative to the face of Europe was changing in a similar pattern, a pattern strikingly similar to that of pre-war conditions.

To this she added, "Countries like for instance have personalities that become set or fixed. They cannot be altered fundamentally overnight."

The journalist stated that Europe is much worse now. The people of the United States and Russia—each with different economies, social, and political philosophies. The European countries are not the United States or Russia trying to force their culture onto another man. Neither, Mrs. Seton said, are the imperialistic and dictatorial systems. These two philosophies and cultures together will and may produce accounting for all of Europe.

Mrs. Seton has resided in the United States for the past 17 years with time out for world travel.
