Since most courses require some library study, we feel that the student should know how to approach the most of his college work. Musical Notes

We wonder how many students on the hill know that there are two small auditoriums located in Music hall. We further wonder if they realize these halls are used for a series of faculty, student, and preparatory recitals. Several of these programs are scheduled for tonight. Why don’t you come to some (if not all) of them?

Miss Emily Porter, cellist, will open this series with a recital on Tuesday evening, April 11. It is scheduled for 8:15 in the choir room. Her program includes the Vivid Sonata in four movements, the Lalo Concerto for Cellos in 2 movements, and the C etton C ello Sonata in four movements.

April 15 is the date set for the monthly student recital. The time and place are the usual 7:30 and choir room.

K.E.A. will be no holiday for some of Western’s music students and faculty. Since the purpose of the college and the music organization in it and in the Association is to help the teachings of the state, many Westerners will participate in the programs. Deonice Lilly, Helen

Whites Win As Gridders Play Intersquad Match

By Paul Shaver

After four weeks of spring practice, Howard's grid squad met in an intersquad battle at Russell Field last Friday night. The White team edged the Red by a single point, 7-6, in the exhibition game.

It was the scheduled end of junior guard Owen Blount's season as the piper through the pipes, but to give the Whites the margin of victory. The conversion followed a touchdown drive which carried the ball 70 yards to pay dirt. White's Watson capped the 12-play scoring drive as he took the ball on the one-yard line and swung around right end in the second quarter.

Reds Score

Not until the last five minutes of the game did the Reds score. They closed to within a yard but when they tried to break free, they lost no ground. In eight plays they covered 50 yards to reach the end zone and broke the score 7-0. Butch Glick's placement try was wide as the White line broke through to rush him.

Left half Gene King, a transfer from Tampa University, carried the ball over for the Reds as he slipped off 20 yards in two and runs to close the team's TD drive.

Watson was the game's outstanding performer, although he was named a first-stringer Thursday because of his height. His injury did not prevent his scoring off a run of 12 yards in the first quarter, nor did it seem to affect his rushing average as he picked up 160 yards in 18 tries, Bob Ebsen at right half with his 14 in 20 tries. Bob Ebsen at right half with the rest of the White backfield.

For the Reds, it was Lee Moyer, who led the groundbreakers. He accumulated 14 yards in 2 from the quarterback.

Relief Map of State

The Kentucky building contains the only large relief map of the state of Kentucky. This map is about four feet wide and nine feet long. It hangs on the walls of the rec room. This map was made in 1901 by W. D. Howell for use in the Kentucky Pavilion at the World’s Columbian Exhibition in Chicago in 1901-02. It was designed by Colonel H. T. Crump of Bowling Green. It was through Colonel Crump’s influence that it was brought back to Bowling Green for use in the geology department of Ogden college.

This map is amazingly accurate. Visitors from various sections of the state are able to locate the hills and valleys of their home sections. The only major change in Kentucky geography which is not shown on the map is Kentucky Lake, which did not exist in 1901.
