Stone, Ford Head Staff
Of College Heights Herald

Two English majors who plan to make journalism a profession are at the head of the 1950-51 staff of the College Heights Herald. Vernon Stone is starting his second year as editor-in-chief, and Bill Ford is making his debut as business manager of the bi-weekly publication.

Western Enrolls 1720 Students

At the close of registration September 13, college officials announced an enrollment of 1720 full time students. In addition there were enrolled in the Training School and at the Western Trade School, bringing the total in all departments to 2600.

This figure, about 100 less than last year, is in line with the trend throughout the nation. The decrease is due in part to an almost total lack of freshmen enrollment under the O. E. Billings plan and to the departure of one of the last returning graduates in Western's history.

The new faculty includes 24 students, graduated last June and an additional Ed in August.

Concert Series Tickets
To Go On Sale Monday

The seventh annual Membership Campaign of Community Concerts, for 1950-51, will begin on Monday, October 2. The campaign will continue through Friday, October 14. Will D. Hill, vice president and general manager of the series, announced the concert season has been announced.

Students desiring to buy tickets for the concerts should contact their student union secretary. Student union secretary will have prompt delivery. Parent tickets are available through the mail box office in the foyer of the College Heights Student Union.

Students are given priority seating in all shows. A group of 12 or more students are entitled to a 25 cent discount per student. A group of 25 or more students are entitled to a 50 cent discount per student.

Seven Added To Faculty
As Fall Semester Begins

Seven new members joined the Western faculty for the fall semester to fill vacancies in the two departments. Their names and qualifications, according to Dr. Stuart, are:

Dr. M. L. Billings, of the psychology department at Western, has been in teaching and research for 25 years. He was in the service in World War I.

He was graduated from Central Michigan College of Arts and Science in 1918 and, in 1939, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. The following year, he received his Master of Arts degree from the same school.

At the time of Dr. Billings' death, his family requested that all of his friends send flowers to the funeral. The request was made in order that money ordinarily spent on flowers might be sent to a fund to help worthy students in his college with contributions to the Mary Lee Evans Billings Memorial Fund. In case of death, the College Department of the College Committee on Sickness will be appointed to administer the fund.

The committee is made up of Dr. William H. Jordan, Dean, Miss Frances Richards, Dr. C. H. Jagodzinski, Dr. William E. Knapp, Dr. William E. Thompson, E. H. Johnson, and President Paul L. Garrett.

Dr. Billings was a native of Susquehanna, Pa., and a graduate of Susquehanna University, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree.

At the time of his death, he was employed in the automobile department of the University of Illinois and served as an instructor in the Department of English.

Dr. Billings was a native of Susquehanna, Pa., and a graduate of Susquehanna University, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree.

Will Be Remembered

The death of Dr. M. L. Billings removes from the ranks of White Mountain one of its strongest and most influential leaders. The community as a whole loses an outstanding citizen who contributed freely to numerous causes. The many, many friends that Dr. Billings' energy and devotion to public organization tell of his influence and the thought of his passing away was what Dr. Billings' energy and devotion to public organization tell of his influence and the thought of his passing away was.

To Boe Or Not To Bore

When one is forced to read a book, it bores him. This problem was solved at Iowa State University Press, where the Pleasures of Publishing of the following books at the ten most beloved classics:

1. "Fight of Presidents," Bunyan
2. "Pendleton Case," Voltaire
3. "Paradise Lost," Milton
5. "Life of Samuel Johnson," Boswell
6. "Pamela," Samuel Richardson
7. "Billy Budd," Melville
8. "Tristram Shandy," Laurence Sterne
9. "Don Quixote," Cervantes
10. "Paradise Lost," Milton

I have read only four of these, but I found them to be fine books. This may be due to the fact that I was not required to read a one of them.

Looking Backward

Twenty-five Years Ago—Orientation sheet distributed to freshmen says, "Look at the view from college, and see how far you have come.

Fifteen Years Ago—Western starts weekly radio series over WHOA, Lambertville. First programming features "The Bob Hope Show," "The Blue Network," and "The Big Broadcast." Audience for the program is Dr. Earl A. Buehler, President of Western University.

Five Years Ago—Historic event in the life of the little labeled "a thing like this happened."

NORMALS are very easily explain why the College Heights Herald is breaking an all-time record this issue. Never in the life of our little labeled has a thing like this happened."

"This is Middlemore Madness," Shakespeare comments has been the leading line in today's world of gay times,周转blood, and winged eggs. A Madrigal for the new school year was heard:

"If he know the world, for one thing he knows that there are about 62 weddings, that's when the record books are left for the junior." It's the last word, the last word.

Statistics are revealing, says Dr. Kimble, and this lady of 58 should have some Freudian meaning. Just as a notice at this sort of thing, however, all I can do with statistics is to say that 62 ceremonies would cost about $50.

"To Bore Or Not To Bore" by Evelyn Bailey

Most of the pleasures and excitement connected with the beginning of a new school year come from the meeting of new people. However, many do not find this enjoyment in full because they are scared into solving that strange animal, Mr. How Do You Do.

It is impossible for one to avoid Mr. How Do You Do because he pops up anywhere at the most unexpected times. Therefore the best thing to do is learn to meet him face to face and show him you have the manner of the situation.

Getting down to common sense, we realize that the matter of introduction is an obstacle too small for us to let come between us and our friend-making. What to say and how to say it are the ingredients of an introduction, and their qualities must add up to make a tasty product. The informal brands seem to be more popular on campus corner than the formal ones when it comes to selecting introducing words.

The best informal words are similar to these: "Mrs. Jay, this is Miss Ray" or "Mrs. Jay, do you know Miss Ray?" Perhaps you will be able to meet Miss Ray? Or Mrs. Jay, shake hands with Miss Ray." They are bad forms and carry one of those "don't know how" atmospheres.

Will Rogers once said, "No American introduction is ever complete unless one of the parties is a Miss." So doing you open a way for conversation between the two—a gracious act well appreciated.

Now a few words about what you say. A boy is introduced to a girl, making the girl's name to come first. (Chivalry, you know.) An example is "Sara Street, this is John Jones." Of course an exception is made if the sir is a more distinguished person. The other way around, his name would be given first in the introduction, but girls, don't be tricked.

A guide for order of introductions besides that of boys and girls (pardon, girls and boys) in mother's name, then girl's name, woman's name, then man's name; married woman's name, then unmarried woman's name, then young man's name.

If you happen to be one of those being introduced instead of the one doing the introducing, you also have a little problem of the best things to do and say. Have you ever found yourself in such a situation standing "in your mouth open and nothing to say? I'll give you some help for such a case when I get around to doing this sort of thing again. Until then, pleasant meetings and greetings!

Addition to the Hilltopper's baseball team this year is the latest in a series of exciting stories about the team's progress. The recent addition, an "old-timer," is Andy McCormick.

While at Pikesville Andy met Mary McCormick, a student at the University of Maryland. She was a student at Pikesville, where she stayed in more than 100 games and was named "Pineapple" of the week while Mary McCormick was only 50.

Natural enough, his favorite place is the pitching mound. His best pitcher's record is 8-1 for the season. His good throws are: strike and a change. Andy does his best to teach and to coach baseball.

ry's education department, who has been granted a year's leave of absence to teach in North Carolina.

PMSGT Promoted

Lieutenant Colonel Ogles A. Brown (former Major professor of military science and tactics) received the promotion to lieutenant colonel this summer. Colonel Brown, a graduate of West Point, served several years in Europe during World War II. This is his fourth year at Western, having been assigned here July 21, 1947.

Mr. L. T. Smith, head of the industrial arts department, went to Atlanta, Ga., during the week of September 30.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 3...THE FLICKER

"One question... Where do I flick my ashes?"

D. Don't think our neat-plastered friend with the drapeshape doesn't know the score! He's plenty hip to all those tricky cigarette tests! If you're in the groove, they're not fooling you, either. You know, from your own smoking experience, that just one puff of this brand ... then one puff of that, it isn't going to give you the answer you want. What can you possibly tell by a quick inhale and exhale, a whiff or a sniff?

The sensible test — the one that gives you the proper answer — is a day after day, pack-after- pack tryout for 30 days. It's the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test! You judge Camels for 30 days in your own "T-Zone" (T for Thrust, T for Taste) — the real proving ground for a cigarette. Once you've tested Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why...

Music Notes

By Edith Lee Hawkins

Here we go against School of a longer score of concertos, reci-itals, handel concerts, and choral concerts. But don't think this is a cold spell. They have in—life hose, roll checkings, and all.

"I know that He shall reply with justice." If you're not very careful this is the confused impression that you may get from these choral songals. We begin work on the bi-annual production of "The Messiah." But that is one thing not in the least confusing. That is the fact that everyone will enjoy working on such a notable work.

"Takas" were tuned last Thursday evening when the first recital of the year featured faculty members as performers and students as audience. As a rule, the faculty members nid comfortably while their pupils did all the work. Secretly, we believe the instructors enjoyed displaying their obvious talents.

The usual order of things will prevail in October, though. A student recital is in the offing.

Earl Petti and Bill Miller, both of whom have been among music majors this year, are classmates at a different school, it seems. Uncle Sam has broken a close-bachelor circle, and in two years' time will be manifested by the Navy Musical League at West Point.

Dr. Gunderson is to be a judge of the U.S. States Marching Band Contest. It is to be held in Tullahoma, Tennessee next week.

As usual at the beginning of a school year, there is some school missing, and there are some new questions which are supposed to place, them. New this year is the postal score scheme of a business which sparking new signs tell us will prevail in October. All this year will be as bright as the reac-clusion.

You And The Draft

Student Draft Regulations

By Charles L. Hollins

How does the draft affect you, the college student? A partial answer to this question is contained in blunt language received from the Berea, Kentucky, Selective Service director.

In recent releases sent by his office to the Herald, the following information was included:

College Requirements

"Local boards may consider the following conditions when all three exist in the case of any registrant as warranting consideration for selection:

(1) The registrant has completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or school of learning.

(2) The college or university at which the registrant has completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction certifies that the registrant, academically qualified, is among the upper half of its class.

(3) The local board is satisfied by the record of the registrant's actions in making normal required arrangements that he had fully intended to enter college as of August 1, 1966, to enroll in a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning for the academic year 1966-67, or in the Spring of 1967.

Graduates Head Programs In Peru And Bolivia

Dr. Raymond C. Gibson AI997 MA35 and Mr. John E. Harker, MA36, have been appointed in the office of Pan-American Affairs. This Institute operates under the Peru Ministry of Education and underdeveloped countries. His purpose is to promote those of the communities and peoples of the Western Hemisphere, by starting and promoting education of the student body and by promoting the academic year 1966-67, or in the Spring of 1967.

Dr. Gibson was appointed to head an educational program in Peru. He left August 12, going first to Ecuador and then to Peru.

Dr. Gibson, 49, a native of Clark- son County, Kentucky, received his degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He was a high school principal at Yarnell, Fill- dale and Bureau, Kentucky.

Prior to the South American appointment, he was president of teachers college branch of the University of South Dakota.

Mr. Harkin has been appointed "educational consultant" to the Office of Peru and Bolivia. He will be an ad- viser to the Peru Ministry of Education to improve their teacher-training program.

Mr. Harkin, a native of Pope County, taught in his home county from 1932 and later moved to Louisiana. Since then he has taught at Hallmark High School, Louisiana. He worked for the Pharr High School in Pharr, Texas, and has taught in the high school of the University of Louisiana of Baton Rouge.

He will leave Louisiana October 15 for two weeks of orientation in Washington. Then he plans to return to Louisiana, collect his family and fly to La Paz.

BE A LEADER!

Leaders of tomorrow are being made today — on the college campuses of America. And the Army ROTC is training the best of them.

Prepare now for leadership in national emergency and in the competitive world after graduation. Get your U. S. Army Commission, and learn to be a leader of men in civilian life while you earn it.

Point your path toward success in business and industry — success the leadership in the duty of citizenship — by learning in Army ROTC courses to make the quick, sound decisions that count. Of such stuff is leadership made.

More Than Thousand Sign Freedom Crusade Scroll

The Crusade for Freedom, a national drive led by Dr. Lincoln D. Day, got under way last week on registration day.

Early Thursday, Assistant Minister to President Paul L. Cherrett, is the chairman for the Crusade for Freedom in Warren County. He stated that there is all over the state the Crusade has been an overwhelming success.

He estimated that 4,000 signatures for Warren county have been secured, and Mr. Thompson explained that the contributions now being received by his office would make an excellent showing for the county.

"More than 100 students have taken part in this campaign for world freedom by signing the Freedom Crusade Scroll and about 50 in similar donations to the Crusade have been made. Each donation contains the Declaration for Freedom and speech[sic] of Dr. King.

Signatures of the Freedom Crusade Scroll are now permanently enshrined in the base of the Freedom Bell in Berlin. The bell and the sword will stand as a symbol to the people throughout the world of the fact that Americans are vitally interested in freedom."

By General Clay, the national chairman, appeared this week.

The General added, "By working together, the people of this land can form the true freedom and the free world as the crusade of the living fighters." All contributions to the Crusade help make it a crusade of the living fighters.

By "independently operating radio stations and wireless, we can spread the fatal propaganda by beaconing the truth to the people inside the Iron Curtain."

At a meeting on Thursday evening in the auditorium of Kentucky College and University at Frankfort, Mr. Cherrett was introducing the coming of the Crusade Scroll.

He has been chairman of the Committee of the officers committee from 1955-56.

Toppers To Meet Marshall

By A. Tucker and G. Hunter

Western came out of an enforced layoff, which ended with a 5-0 win over Evansville in Tuscaloosa, on Stadium Field, University of Kentucky, K".

In Evansville, Sept. 30.

In a hotly contested T-7dugout battle, the Hilltoppers lost 1-0 in an early morning encounter produced by Toppers star Clint Exhibit. Mar-20auk's back of Joe Un-20d's on his own 30.

Winners Score

The 5-0 victory stung up the five balls and moved it three yards closer to the dugout scenes. In two tries Bell retired the needed yardage to 14, which fell-back Willie Watson furnished on the next play in a failed attack. Burke Gilbert booted the vital extra marker. The score remained 5-0 at the intermission, which came on the heels of a Western score that was nullified by a penalty.

In the third period Max Stearns put an intended Ace receiver of a pass on the Western 60 and made his way to the opposition 27. Nothing materialized and the Ace took over once again, only to file a fumble to end James McMeansener. Watson picked up a first down to put the ball on the Evansville 8 short side and Watson reached the 3 on the following play.

It was then and another of that total of 12 Evansville penalties by the Hilltoppers. One of these penalties negated a possible touchdown, which was negated by a penalty.

As the Ace took position on their own 20 Toppers have been penalized on their cause, on an infraction. Yes, it is 7-0, but they did frequently in the latter part of the game, and the Hilltoppers, installments moved to the Western 5. Awarding dissimilar 12 yards were forfeited by the settlers for infractions.

The Evansville defense attack moved on with another completed bomb coming to run on the Western 10. Then the Ace moved on to the Evansville 2.

Ex-Topper Killed

TOPPER TO MEET Continued from page 11

I'll never dig in the mud for a rock that was rugged and determined throughout.

Rough Game Predicted

Tomorrow night’s OVC game with Marshall promises to be difficult. Frank Griffin, Western line coach, who has coached the Marauders, reports, “It’ll be tough as any game on our schedule. They’re big and they’re tough! And they’ll be loaded for bear.”

As to the last remark, Griffin was alluding to the fact that Marshall has lost two OVC titles this season and must fight for survival in the division’s upper ranks.

Western again will be without the services of the street lifted, charge-of-pace artist, Don Chapman who is still inactive with a sprained ankle. It is also doubtful if Dave McDowell, who has an injured hip, will see action.

Sociologist Booked for Department Talk

Dr. Edward W. Beers, head of the rural sociology department of the University of Kentucky, will be the chief speaker at the social science division of the Third District Inter-University Association, on October 12, at the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Dr. Beers’ subject will be a glimpse of Greece. Slides will illustrate his talk.

RAMSEY WITH ROTC

Lieutenant Richard G. Ramsay of Lexington is with the Army ROTC program at the University of Kentucky. Mr. Ramsay is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and received his master’s degree there in 1946.

In 1948, the educator was named dean of the arts, Hume C. Clements as one of three men to certify as license curricular psychologists in Kentucky.

He also was worthy partner of park City Chapter No. 180, Order of the Eastern Star, and held mem- bership in Grand Command of Knights Templar of Kentucky, the Knights Templar, A.A.O.N.M.S., of Medi- cenville, the Masonic Fraternal of Kentucky, Chapter No. III, Royal Arch Ma- son, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

In addition to his work, surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert B. Scott, Coffeyville, Kan., and Mrs. Harry R. Wood Jr., Columbus, Ohio; one brother, A.D. Billings, and a sister, Mrs. B. D. Bixler, both of Adrian, and three grand- children.
