Speech Contests Are Announced

The three speech contests which the English Department has scheduled for this year were announced at an oriental meeting that has been held in the English Department and attended by students in the competition.

The capture of one, or sometimes two, of the English Department's debate teams was acknowledged as a mark of distinction and academic achievement with the presentation of the medals at the college commencement. The winners are honored annually by the Latin Club with formal presentation.

Dates for the final competition in each of the three contests have been set for the current school year. The Oxford Union will be used for the debate on March 26 as the program is celebration of Oxford Day. The Oxford Union is the second oldest, open to the student and senior boys. The competition is based on original composition and the use of evidence, and the winners are expected to be the best team from the School. Entries in this competition must be received by the English Department by April 10.

A third debate contest for boys is the Robert Robinson Memorial Debate Contest, which is sponsored by the senior boys. The competition is based on the Robert Robinson Memorial Contest, which will be presented in the regular season on dates, entries in this competition must be received by the English Department by April 10.

WBNF Radio will sponsor a 15-minute debate competition for boys on the Robert Robinson Memorial Contest, which will be presented in the regular season on dates, entries in this competition must be received by the English Department by April 10.

Bowl All Star In Concert

Miss Slavens, internationally popular Polish-ballerina who was the triumphant guest star of the recent New York season of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, now heads her own distinguished company, "The Slavens Ballerina Varivade," which will be presented in Van Meter auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 26, under the management of the Bowling Green Community Concerts, Inc.

Miss Slavens was born in Slaven'skis, in Russia. She received her training at the Royal Academy of Music in Paris and in the United States and has appeared in all leading opera houses in Europe and her performances are entertaining and choreographed by herself.

One of the new great ballerinas, who is a member of the company, of the Slavens Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, dancing in the company under the direction of Miss Slavens, is Miss "Swan Lake," "Scheherazade," and "Scheherazade.

The program includes 423 Enroll In Air ROTC At Western

Publishers and thirty-two young men have enrolled for Air ROTC at the Western Kentucky State College at Bowling Green. The students include 12 seniors, 9 juniors, and 12 sophomores, 55 juniors and 42 seniors.

Intramurals Are For All Of Us

Intramural basketball is scheduled to begin in just a few short days. This will bring a program of interest to the student body. Everyone at Western is invited to take active participation in the program.

This, of course, brings on a great deal of work and work is the last thing we feel like doing right now. The time is too short and we are not up for a team. However, we should at least attend matches, the basketball, tennis, track meets, and the rest.

The basketball program will mean a lot to many students as they will give them a lot of experience and a way to keep in good physical shape.

These intramurals should be enjoyed by everyone, but that they are a representation of the whole student body of Western.

Make It Known

If you are planning to make it out to this year's intramural basketball games, please make sure to announce it to your friends. This is a great opportunity to get more people interested in the program and it will help to make it a success.

Looking Backward

ONE YEAR AGO—Alice Morgan, young baritone of the Conservatory of Music program, Western being away from a ten day fall vacation, was mentioned in the Columbia harvest season.

FIVE YEARS AGO—John Deering crowned queen of the annual Christmas pageant held in Lindsey Hall. Miss Jocelyn Snider, titled Miss America in the Columbia Community Contest.

SEVEN YEARS AGO—Purifying filters to prevent the spread of typhoid fever were turned on at St. Mary's Hospital. The filters are being used to provide pure drinking water.

TEN YEARS AGO—The University of Minnesota sold its library of over 500,000 volumes to the University of California.

HILLTOPICS

By William Ford

During final test week last semester there was a noticeable decrease in the number of students who were present in class. This will not mention any names but this is what took place.

The cause of this was a "student party" which was held on the last night of classes to celebrate the end of the semester. The party was attended by almost all of the students who were present in class the previous week.

Despite this, the student body still managed to get their work done on time and the final exam results were released just in time for the holiday break.

The student party was a huge success and everyone had a great time. The party lasted until late into the night and the students left feeling refreshed and ready to start their winter break.

The students were all very excited about the upcoming holidays and were looking forward to spending time with their families and friends.

Mind Your Manners

By Evelyn Bailey

More and more, women are coming to be recognized as the equals of men in the workplace. However, the behavior of women in the workplace is still an area that needs improvement. Many women have been observed engaging in rude and impolite behavior, which is unacceptable.

Without doubt, women are becoming more assertive and confident. As a result, they are starting to feel more secure in their jobs and are becoming more assertive about their rights. This is a good thing, but it would be even better if they could learn to express their thoughts and feelings in a more positive and professional manner.

I've been using the term "mind your manners" because I believe that it is important for women to learn how to behave appropriately in the workplace. This will help them to be more effective in their jobs and will also make them more respected by their colleagues and superiors.

One thing that I would like to see more of is women's ability to express themselves clearly and concisely. This is something that is expected of men in the workplace, but it is often overlooked when it comes to women.

Another thing that I would like to see more of is women's ability to listen to others. This is something that is essential in any workplace, but it is often overlooked when it comes to women.

I believe that if women could learn to express themselves clearly and concisely, and also learn to listen to others, they would be more effective in their jobs and would also be more respected by their colleagues and superiors.

Kentucky Building News

Editor's Note — This is a compilation of excerpts from an article in the February 17, 1950, issue of the Kentucky Library Journal. The article was written by Mrs. Mary T. Moore, Library Director of the University of Kentucky Library. The article discusses the progress made in the library's efforts to provide better service to the reader.

The history of this branch of library service began in 1932 with the first issue of the Library Journal. The current issue contains some 4,000 pages of photographs and articles, as well as many other documents, that have been compiled by the staff of the library.

The library has been open to the public since 1932, and it is now more than 50 years old. The library has changed many times over the years, but it has continued to provide the same high-quality service to the reader.

The Kentucky Library Journal is the official organ of the Kentucky Library Association and is published quarterly. The journal contains articles on all aspects of library science and is distributed to members of the association.

MUSIC EDUCATION
Mr. Robert Powers, of the Western music department, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Music Ed. club, Monday, February 4.

Mr. Pearson discussed the Western Choral Society, of which organization he was a member for two years. He talked of other choirs, teaching on touring, rehearsal methods and programming. Questions concerning choral methods were discussed.

NOTE, CLEF & STAFF
Charles Hall was elected president at the first meeting of the newly formed Note, Clef & Staff club.

Other officers elected were William Ritterford, vice-president; Barbara Ryder Diness, secretary, and James Henry, treasurer.

This club's recent re-organization was brought about through the initiative of several of the music students with the aid of some of the faculty, and it is given the school its first club of this kind since the Piano J. Stroud Music club was discontinued in 1927.

The club is open to any Western student who is interested in music, and its main purpose is to sponsor and support the musical activities of the school, and to open new musical vistas to those interested.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB
Election of officers was held at the last meeting of the Geography club, January 28, at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Trettel, 150 Calwood Avenue.

Ottomany was elected as the last meeting of new officers were Richard J. Kit, president, Donald Roes, treasurer. Mary Ruth Sumner, secretary, and Joe Murphy, sergeant at arms.

There was a tie for vice-presidency between Roger Sumner and Maurice Warren.

The meeting will include the election of a vice-president and the forming of plans for the coming semester.

SPH Club
The "SPH" club room located in the gym has recently been painted and refurbished. Its members continue to invite all visitors.

Visitors will find relaxation in the gym, where there is a radio and television set for entertainment.

The club would like to remind all persons who have brought a ticket to a play to take their seat before the show's beginning to assure their place for them in the club.

The club also invites in extending these privileges to those interested.

CHEMISTRY CLUB
At the last meeting of the Chemistry club, Dr. Ward C. Stumper discussed the topic "Chemical Literature".

The members of the Chemistry club have also attended the last two meetings of the American Chemical Society which were held at Yankton University at Yankton.

The first meeting held December 3 was a discussion by Dr. John H. C. Neilis of the Philadelphia Quarterly Co., who spoke on "Apparatus for Baking, A dable and Pliable Material."

The January 14, meeting, Dr. Walter D. Schilberg of the Tissue Corporation delivered a lecture on "Chemical Analysis, A Source of Chemistry from Pyrites".

Dr. Alfred Strauss of the United States Forest Products Laboratory spoke, February 4, on "Flammable, Nonflammable, and Fumes of Combustible Materials".

CONGRESS DEBATING
Charles Shields, a junior at Western, is the new president of the Congress Debating club. He was elected at the club's last meeting, January 14. Mr. Shields received the president's gavel from former president Raymond Craven, and will assume leadership of the club this semester.

Other officers elected are William Eimi, vice-president; James Bryan, secretary-treasurer; Robert Dimpson sergeant-at-arms.

The club program consists of a formal debate—"Resolved: That Western Should Adopt Government," with Jerry Parker and James Bryan defining the affirmative side of the issue; Leo Mayor and Arthur Racenstein, upholding the negative side.

Transfered
Second Annual James H. Soutball, 1927, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Soutball, this city, has been transferred from Oakland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, to Fort Benjamin Harriot, Ind., for training in an accounting and disbursing officers' course.

Lieutenant Soutball received his A.B. degree from Western in 1927.

Kelly Thompson, assistant to the president of the Western Kentucky State College, spoke at the 75th anniversary celebration of the Western Kiwanis Club on January 28 at the Brown Hotel.

Mr. Thompson has been a Kiwanian for 15 years and is a lieutenent governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee district, three times; he was elected governor of the district at the Kiwanis convention in Louisville last October.

Birds I View
By Betty Hartley

By Tyler Diemer

I've always been a bird-watcher since her home and says that the not only enjoy the outdoors at the N.Y. High School, but she even graduated. As a freshman at Western, Tyler planned to major in Zoology. She also has a younger sister, a sophomore at the same school. Her school record is quite good. Some of her major classes include Reading, English, and Math.

Once she was asked what major she would like to be eligible for the Rockeys, or grow up to be a professional bird-watcher. She said, "Just can't stop all this med-di-um, and place it in the hands of the experts." She was interested in learning more about birds.

After she graduated from Western, Tyler planned to go into the field and study birds. She hopes to continue her studies in zoology and become a professional bird-watcher. She enjoys watching and observing birds in their natural habitats. She dreams of becoming a professional bird-watcher and spending her life studying and researching birds.

She has been a bird-watcher since her childhood and enjoys spending time outdoors observing and photographing birds. She believes that birds play a crucial role in maintaining the balance of nature and enjoys sharing her knowledge and passion for birds with others. She hopes to inspire others to appreciate the beauty and importance of birds and their impact on the environment.

A production that should be in-terested to the students of Western is the Bowling Green Community Theater's offering of "The Shop at Sny Corner" to be presented in the Bowling Green High School Auditorium on Tuesday, evening, February 16.

"Crime on the stage always makes me feel so moral," this statement comes from one of the characters in "The Shop at Sny Corner" may possibly be the secret behind the high popularity of the dramatization of crime. In a way, whether it be in the ten-cent de-sc-c-ey story magazine or given the grand presentation of a Colman Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes." The gangster, emerging as a maj-o- or American menace in the '30's, had made movie millions and esta-blished himself as a movie type—often a hero one. Marshall Leads in 79-63 Win Over Cincinnati

The Western Kentucky State Hilltoppers moved out in front in the OVC race for first place as a result of their victory over the Eastern Maroons on January 19. Here at Bowling Green, in quite a 32-point lead at the half, the Maroons fought back in the second half to pull within six points of the home team at the gun, but the final score was 79-63.

Western's fast-breaking, quicksilver offense from Nashville failed to come up with a point in the first quarter, but suddenly moved out into the lead in the second period, and pulled the Maroons off the ground by 18 points in each of the final two sessions.

Behind 18-11 at the end of the first quarter, and 18-20 at the end of the second quarter, practically nobody moved out into the lead in the second period, and pulled the Maroons off the ground by 18 points in each of the final two sessions.

Track Team Schedule Meets

Coach Turner Erholtz has revealed that this season, Tennessee Tech, a triangular meet with Louisville and University of Kentucky and have entered the track finals which will be held, at the University of Kentucky.

Team practice will be delayed somewhat, a spring practice in football. The boys not participating in football will start working out by the 1st of March or 1st of April. Those taking part in spring training will start track practice about two weeks later.

Intromental Basketball

Coach Frank Griffith, head of the intramural activities, revealed that intramural basketball would start practice on Monday, Feb. 13.

To make a reasonably good start out of the gate, it means that they will have to work hard this year.

Lecturers Presented By Economics Club

Three lectures were presented by the recently formed Economic club during the week of January 13. Mr. J. H. Gillam, independent oil expert from Northwestern, was the first lecturer on January 15 at 11 a.m. in Room 325 of the Cherry Hall. His subject was "The Oil Industry in the Industrial Economy."

Mr. B. B. Williams, Chief of Field Service of the American Gas Development Board at Frankfort, spoke on "The Fuel Economy of Gas" in Room 325 of Cherry Hall on the "Industrial Revolution." in the same room.

Dr. Fred T. Brown, official of the "Marshall State Department of Education at Nashville, spoke on January 26 in Room 325 of Cherry Hall. His subject was "The Federal Social and Moral Program."
Toppers Take 2 Victories, Miss All Time Mark 1 Point

While most of us were spending our short vacation between sessions either stuck in traffic or just chilling out, Hilltopper basketball team was busy. The team was up against a tough opponent in the form of a degree-winner in nearby Florida. The game was a close one, with the Hilltoppers barely edging out Florida 76-75.

In the first three minutes of the final period the "Toppers" scored 10 points, leading the Spartans into a 26-23 situation. The final score was 76 to 75 in favor of the Kentucky Hilltoppers.

Mr. and Mrs. Audley Hoofnail narrowly missed death in a train wreck December 23 when sixty-five miles south of Indianapolis while on a trip to see their daughter at Waterford, Iowa.

 igured Night," which she recently received in the gaiety New York season. She is chosen personally by the costume designers for the leading role in the play "The Chapper," which is being produced this fall. She prepared the programs for her present tour to include works based on the music of "Pirates." She is the daughter of former President of "Pirates." She is the daughter of Bohemia, and a new soloist of American folk dancing.
