Westerners Appear In Cave Capers

Fire Westerners students were members of the cast of Gypsy, a musical comedy show produced this season of plays which are regular employees. Performances were given on the following dates: 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th. Some of the cast included: Bill Miller, a senior majoring in electrical engineering, Alex Jones, a junior in sociology, and Don Cohen, a senior in education. The master of ceremonies was Mary Alice Harrison, who is a senior English major. Mary Alice also sang in a quartet with Beverley R. Deux, Mary Ann, and a fourth member of the quartet. Mary Ann, Deserio, and Hyun have all been active members of Westerners Players. Although technical staffs and performances were crowd in self-defense Westerners players, the cast was adequately rewarded by the production of appreciation from the Park visitors.

The Heiress' Is Challenging Play

The Western Players' fall production of Ruth and Augustus Goetts' 'The Heiress' was presented in the Van Meter Auditorium last night. In every department 'The Heiress' was one of the most challenging selections the players have presented. The gripping dramatic material is in excellent taste. It presents the plight of a girl, rich at money and nothing else, who must buy everything she wants, except the things that mean the most to her. She needed love desperately, she did not dare believe in friendship or in hope of a future with a man she loved. The cast was prepared through long experience.

Scene 1 - the sensitive girl who turns cruel and bitter when she is first taken in by a man she later played with feeling and understanding by Alice Alton. James H. Jones, as the tyrannical father who cruelly destroys his daughter's chance for happiness; and Jerry Olnick as the amiable uncle of a plain girl who's all too ready to fall when her father threatened with a threat. The play presented many problems in stage design in the recitation of Dr. Cooper's fashionable home in the Washington Square of a century ago. The direction of Russell H. Miller was seen in the贻mond moving that "The Heiress" is Western Players' most elaborate production. The direction of Hila Cooper caught the spirit of the period and the play. The design and the setting of the characters was by Shirley Hines. The scenic artist was Jean Boett. The script assistant was largely responsible for the efficient handling of details that made "The Heiress" a production for all the Western Players who had served in not a few. The first and most successful dramatic experience in theater presentations of the audience.

Nineteen Western students gave their lives in World War I.

Art Dept. Head Visits Europe

Miss Ruth Hines Temple, head of the Art department, was the last part of the summer abroad in many places of unusual interest.

On August 8, at 1:00 a.m., she departed from the shore of Montreal, Canada, on the Canadian Pacific ship "Empress of France." After sailing for 1,000 miles on the St. Lawrence river, viewing the many falls and towns along the way, she reached the open sea. Upon reaching the Northern shores of Scotland and catching a glimpse of the Isle of Skye, Miss Temple again took to the open Irish Sea, bound for Liverpool. From Liverpool she traveled by train to London, where she spent the night at the famous Hotel Pla cadilly, which was a fine modern walk from historical Buckingham Palace.

The next day Miss Temple flew to Paris, where she stayed for some time, and then flew to Rome, where she visited some of the most beautiful cities of the world.

The next day she visited Bordeaux and Fontainebleau. On Monday she joined a small group for a tour of famous chateaux in the "Valley of the Loire." Miss Temple arrived in Chambord, Chambord, Blois, La gers, Azay-le-Rideau, Chenonceau, Ambo
e, Reims, Sully-sur-Loire, and other places throughout the region of royal living in the 16th century. Other trips were to Pierres, Pierre Lot, Pirre Parc, and Pierre Monta Chateau. She also spent some time at the Louvre, and then visited an old friend. A day in the country followed with a visit to the Chateau of Versailles.

Next Miss Temple drove to the Swiss Alps, then to Geneva, and then to Bruges to see the Van Dyke and the Brabantia. The tour continued into the next day, cruising the Channel from Oi den to Amsterdam, to the North Cape of Sweden.

On the way home from England, the trip was completed. On these days she spent some time in Switzerland, with a week in Winter or, St. Moritz, and at the Swiss Alps, and spent one week in Egypt with its beautiful e center.

A cold return trip on the ship was made, with an interesting view of the hostility, the scenery, and the climate, of the country.

The trip ended with a lovely week in the Alps, with a visit to the Fribourg and Lausanne.

Western Grad Receives Copy of Stuart's New Book

Milton Jesse Stuart's newest book "Kentucky Is My Land," came up recently, Mrs. Mary Dixon, B. S, '36, M. S. '39, was one of the first to receive an autographed copy.

Mrs. Dixon is Stuart's most consistent biographer, and the only one who has written specifically about his educational contributions. The biography is in the form of a dictation which was required by his master's degree in education. The biographer, which is spoken by Mrs. Dixon as "one of my many pictures in college," and by Mr. Stuart as "like a novel," was bound by Harvey Dixon, the son's husband.

Mrs. Dixon, who was new teaching at People School in Jefferson County, at the first fell that there was a great need for this work, as Mr. Stuart no longer taught, and she realized now that she was the most active people through his speeches. Mrs. Dixon is pleased that the book can produce such great results for her.

The first line of the preface of biographer's "Science and Education," establishes her purpose thoroughly in this important work being to the attention of the public. The biographer has received warm appreciations of Jesse Stuart," she says.

It took about a year and a half to reach the goal she aimed for, working for over a year and a half her husband to go to school. The push, demands, and efforts of her husband's work helped greatly in completing her job. Mr. Stuart's term on the thesis was, "I'll say something that I don't know."

Most of Mrs. Dixon's material came from the Files in 1919 and 1921 Kentucky files of the Louisville Library, Miss Frances M. Kinnard's "Kentucky" collection, and the Kentucky Library.

The biographer also wrote to Dr. A. J. Williams, Dr. S. H. M. Vanorden, and much material was received from Jesse Stuart through the years.

The biographer of course asked permission from Mrs. Stuart before beginning her project, and when he learned of her interest in it, he visited and Mrs. Dixon, to spend the I.E.A. week-end of last school year as his guest at W. H. Stuart's home in Greenup.

The editor and his biographer spent the week-end going through the personal file, and discussing the thesis. Mrs. Dixon says that W. H. Stuart is one of the most peaceful and enjoyable places that she has ever seen.

As her writing progressed, "The pieces fitted together like a puzzle." Joe Conahan, friend writer of the Courier-Journal, managed to get some old photos of Stuart from the Courier, and with them Mrs. Dixon placed a few that she and her husband took while at W. H. Stuart, using them throughout the book.

Mrs. Dixon is trying to make a complete collection of the book that Stuart has had published. There are fourteen altogether but some are out of print. Her first book was "Man With the Bull-Tongue Pipe," published in 1934. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, who now live at 4060 Highland Parkway in Louisville, were graduated in 1934 and 1939 in Louisville. In 1949. They were married June 14, 1942, and out of the past six years, Mr. Dixon has spent three in the Coast Guard.

At Western, Harvey majored in industrial arts and Mrs. Dixon majored in elementary education and minor in English. Harvey is working on the Master's degree at Western during summer sessions.

Mrs. Dixon taught at Center Street school, Bowling Green, while working on her Master's degree. She was president of the Faculty club there in 1931-32.

Both were also members of the education, Council while at Western. Last October, Mrs. Dixon was elected to the Third District Education Association, being chosen a member of the I.E.A. planning board.

Mr. Dixon, a member of the Arts and Crafts club during his stay at Western, is the only person who has ever held the office of president three terms in that office. At present, he is teaching shops at Southern High school in Louisville.

Mrs. Dixon, who was Miss Dains, a 23 standing in the 12th grade.

Materials Plans Small Music Ensemble Programs

Western is again this year em- phasing a small ensemble program to enrich the music depart- ment and to show students a definite value in music. Five ensembles are now practic- ing regularly, and several others are in the planning stage. Each of these ensembles receives college credit and is supervised by a fac- ulty member.

The brass section, which was organ- ized three years ago, is now com- posed of Howard Mier, and Charles Thompson, Norma Ruby, Russian, French, French Musi- cian, Beulahsee, Beulahsee, and William Linde, bandmaster. Donald McAllister, assistant band director and woodwind specialist, di- rected the woodwind quintets and the two clarinet quartets, Walter Green Fluhr; Gene Lawton, this year; Brian Scott, clarinet, James Jensen, ban- nom; and Norma Ruby, French horn, are members of the woodwind quintet. The two quartets name Brian Scott, Charles Ross, Joa Henry, and James Jenkens as members of the first, and Joanne War- ren, Jim Poitee, Jo Andlai Denis, and Bob Ellis as members of the sec- ond. These ensembles have been established for several years and are often asked to appear public- ly.

Piano Dept. Head Travels in Europe

Everett Barwick, head of West- ern's piano department, spent the three summer months traveling, sight-seeing, and studying in Eu- rope. He sailed for a two weeks trip in London on the French Line, Le De France June 4. While there he studied with Claude Albas, now to spend a week each in Holland and Belgium. For the next month Dr. Barwick established his headquarters in Paris, taking time to visit Madrid, Barcelona, Seville and sev- eral other cities in Spain, as well as the tip of North Africa. While in Be- rgin he visited Vienna and Salz- burg, and he also took time for a one day trip to Munich, Germany. Dr. Barwick attended concerts of the opera in many of the cities it visited, most important of which included the opportunity to attend part of the famous Salzburg Festival. He sailed for the States on the Le De France and arrived at River- green in time for the beginning of the fall semester.
Western Expecting Another Tough Game Tomorrow

While the Western Hilltoppers were absorbing their first defeat of the season last Saturday night in the Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles, a powerful Dallas State football squad was taking down a good Murray State team down in Cleveland, Mississippi. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p.m. this Dallas State squad will be in town to clash with the Hilltoppers in the Western stadium. This game will be a tough one for the Hilltoppers to win.

Intramural Football To Be Scheduled

The intramural football season is scheduled to start this week, and it will be interesting to see how the teams fare. There are good intentions to make the games competitive, and the teams will be divided into four groups: A, B, C, and D. Each group will consist of four teams, and the championship game will be held on Saturday, November 4.

New Sports Group Elects President

Patty Thompson has been elected as the president of the new group at College High. The organization is called the College High Sports League. The officers are Mary Dixon, vice-president, Terry Anisa Mayer, secretary, and Frank Wallace, treasurer. The purpose of the club is to assist in the feeder school for College High, the Hilltoppers. The league will award letters to its most active members.

Tech Hands Toppers First Loss Of Season

The Western Hilltoppers, after four straight wins, and high hopes of the greatest season of any Toppers team, went down to defeat last Saturday at the hands of Tennessee Tech, 21-14, down in Cookeville, Tennessee, virtually deciding the Ohio Valley Conference title in football.

Western still has hopes of a great year, however, with four games remaining on their schedule including two in the conference with Eastern and Murray. Most critical of all is the Big Red game scheduled for this Friday. If they should win, the title would be theirs. And if they lose, the league hopes to see Western remain undefeated.

Western knocked off Middle Tennessee in the first game of the season 33-12, and as such hopes lie in the clutches of a tie for first place. The first game of the last half of the season gave the two teams pretty well even, the ball staying between the two 30 yard lines for the whole period.

This is a little over a minute gone in the second frame. The first time of the game came in the Golden Eagles. With Western trying to get in front of the defense, the Eagles ganged and a pass was recovered by Jim Feis and carried to the 5 yard line. After being held to gain the first down, Paul Bernstein, another favorite, carried the ball over from the 5 yard line and the Eagles were in the end zone.

Nose, Throat, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields — 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continuously from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-month period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated:

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
