Diddle revealed the college's acceptance of the invitation on Thursday afternoon.

The tournament is considered one of the most prestigious events in college basketball.

Several other teams will be invited to the tournament, according to Diddle.

BULLETIN

Just a few minutes before the HILLTOPPERS' banana was completed, the Hilltoppers were over Western's head as the team's winning streak reached 15 games.

The topplemen's assistances in the Northern California intercollegiate conference were outstanding. The conference comprises 12 teams, which makes up the nation's most noted college basketball league.

Each of the top three teams in the conference is considered a national champion. The conference generates much advance publicity and interest in college basketball.

CONGRATULATIONS

When we think of Western we think of many things, the Hill, the buildings and the friends we have known there, but one thing that stands out in connection with Western is that it has also been the home of Mrs. Diddle.

Though a bit belated is still the desire of the HERALD to congratulate Coach Diddle on his 80th. We are sure of the Hilltoppers and know that without Mr. Diddle and Ted Horscnack they could not have been the players that they are.

The recap of the 800’s won by Coach Diddle, presented a few nights ago brought back to Western’s past. Coach Diddle in his 80th year, made Western one of the nation’s at the 800-meter mark in 1956. At that time he had piled up an impressive record for the 800-meter season.

THANKS TO YOU

For the past several weeks an all-out campaign has been in progress in Bowling Green to raise money for the construction of a new gymnasium. One of the outstanding features of the campaign was the telethon of Western students which raised funds from students, faculty and alumni of Western and Western State. The total amount raised was $42,500.

Recently, we received a letter from a former Western student who was visiting his alma mater. He expressed his appreciation for the support he received during his student days and said he would be happy to make a contribution to the campaign to help build the new gym.

STUDENT POLL

The current semester measures a group of students who are enrolled in the college. It is important to take student polls on various subjects concerning the school, student problems and other topics. However, we should not be measured by the number of such polls, but by the quality of our publication that we strive for.

Yours truly,

Western and the Kentucky Library

KENTUCKY was on the minds of many people last week. The Library, located on the University of Louisville campus, was the site of the 1990 Kentucky Library Conference.

The conference was held on the campus of the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Kentucky. The theme of the conference was "The Future of the Library: Challenges and Opportunities." The conference featured a variety of speakers and workshops on topics such as library automation, electronic resources, and the role of the library in the 21st century.

The conference also featured a keynote address by Dr. Janet E. McNeely, the director of the Library of Congress. McNeely discussed the importance of library cooperation and the need for libraries to work together to meet the challenges of the future.

The conference was well attended, with over 300 people attending the sessions and workshops. The conference was a great success and provided a valuable opportunity for librarians to share ideas and information on the future of libraries.

“The Courious Savage” To Be Given

A popular and successful comedy called "The Courious Savage" has been presented by the Bowling Green Community Players as their next production. This is the hilarious parable called "The Emperor's New Clothes," which is to be presented in Van Meter Auditorium Thursday evening, February 11.

Patrick is born in Louisville, Kentucky, but he has spent most of his life elsewhere, usually in boarding schools in the South and the West. Being expelled from most of them for challenging authority, his college career was similarly nomadic—Barstee to Columbus to New York City. In recent years he has contributed significantly to the American Theatre—"The Merry Widow," "The Willow Seat," and "Beloved," "The Courious Savage," and "The Pilgrim's Progress.""The Trees of the August Moon."

"The Savage" of this comic fantasy is no unscrupulous crook, but a precocious lad of wealth named Bibel Savage, who is "courious" in a most surprising way. His eccentricity is a belief in the right of people to include their fondest desires. Bibel Savage, played by Michael Hawkins, possesses true personal experience with the great personalities of the century—Sidney, Millie, and Gilbert, and O. H. Miller. Bibel Savage and Bibel Temple are the nucleus of a group of people who have been fused with reality, and fused in one hilarious illusion of life. The theatre instructors of this year are Mary Jo Butler, Kay Hill, and Carol Laine death. Dr. F. O. Court, and Bob Stewart. The ides of "The Courious Savage"

Western's Unbeaten Hilltoppers

Western, led by the Eastern Maroons at Radford, Ky., for what promises to be one of the hardest games left on the schedule. The Maroons were on the 49-21 in the semi-finals of the KIT at Louisiana during the Christmas holidays after a bitter fought battle. In the next meeting in the Western gym two weeks ago the Hilltoppers smashed the Maroons 129-78 in a record-breaking triumph. Eastern has voted to average that loss and Saturday night on the Maroons' home court in a conference matchup.

The Hilltoppers will get another challenging test when Coach Ed Diddle leads his team to Marshall, for a return engagement with the Marshall Shamrocks, Dec. 3. In second place in the Ohio Valley Conference standings and the most recent image loss was administered by Western 81-77 before Christmas at the Western gym. Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. says...

FOR more than thirty years we have used research day in and day out learning about tobacco and cigarettes in the public’s interest.

Continuously we and our consultants have analyzed, experimented with and smoked all kinds of tobaccos...especially Southern Bright, Burley, Maryland and Turkish cigarettes.

Our own cigarette and competitive brands have been submitted to the most exacting scientific scrutiny including thousands of analyses of millions of pounds of tobacco.

From all these thousands of analyses, and other findings reported in the leading technical journals, our Research Department has found no reason to believe that the isolation and elimination of any element native to cigarette tobaccos today would improve 'smoking.'

For four years we have maintained in the smoker's interest an intensified larger scale diversified research program. A half-million dollar 30-ton machine, the world's most powerful source of high voltage electrons, designed solely for our use has tested tens of thousands of cigarettes. This program has already given us direct and significant information of benefit to the smoking public.

Our consultants include Arthur D. Little, Inc. of Cambridge, Massachusetts, "one of the largest and most reputable industrial research organizations in the country" (From Business Week Magazine) and eminent scientists from leading universities.

Today the public can confidently choose from a variety of brands — by far the best cigarettes ever made by the tobacco industry.

Herald Reporter Visits Kentucky's Famous Westminster Abbey

was one of the few exciting events of the day. The monument is a large, impressive structure, topped with a statue of a Confederate soldier in full uniform. The inscription on the monument reads:

"Here lies the body of a Confederate soldier, buried by the citizens of this city. May God bless his memory and grant him eternal rest."

The monument was dedicated on July 28, 1892, by Governor B. B. Venable. It is made of marble from Georgia and is one of the finest examples of Confederate monuments in the South. The monument is located on the south side of the courthouse square.

The dedication ceremony was attended by a large crowd, including Governor Venable, the mayor of the city, and other dignitaries.

At the conclusion of the dedication address, the audience burst into enthusiastic applause. The ceremony was a fitting tribute to the memory of those who fought and died for the Confederacy.

In the days following the dedication, the monument became a place of pilgrimage for visitors from all over the state and country. For many years, it remained one of the most popular tourist attractions in the city.

Today, the monument stands as a testament to the sacrifice of those who fought in the Civil War. It serves as a reminder of the courage and determination of those who fought for the Confederacy.

This story was written by Herald reporter John Smith for the February 1, 1954, issue of the College Heights Herald.
