I've smoked Camel all over the world. For me, other brands just can't equal Camel's wonderful Mildness, Rich Flavor and All-round Smoking Pleasure. Comparatively priced in all markets. Camel's Agree with More People Than Any Other Cigarette.
When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. You're eating, doing, moving, seeing in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.I. & R.W. ten years on their leaf helps to eliminate excessive leaf bitterness. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste... always ground, fired, filled by hand, to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better-taste, and only from better-taste, the Happy-Go-Lucky Brand is the Scott Carton of better-tasting Luckies today.
Our Yearbook From The 'Vista' To The 'Talisman'

By Andy Reed

When the 1934 Talisman is distributed in May, it will not only contain another year's activities at Western, but will also mark the thirtieth consecutive year of a successful publication of the yearbook.

Since 1909, the Talisman has been published annually to record pictures of the faculty and students, to highlight social events, and to preserve friends' sentiments, which come to mean as much as the years pass.

Excerpts from the publication of the first Talisman, another yearbook, The Vista, were printed by the Normal School in 1913. The first and only issue of this abbreviated season was published. The Vista is filled with essays, writing, and cartoons by the students and administrative staff of The Visual and Humanities, and The Visual and Administrative Staff.

The staff of The Talisman has continued the tradition of the yearbook's introduction, but only every third year. They have taken the visual data, but they also found time to write about their lives and their world.

Choir Visits Seven Schools
In Annual Singing Tour

Western's choir under the direction of Robert Pearson, vocal director in the Music department, sang at seven Western Kentucky high schools while on tour this past week. The tour opened in Hopkinsville on Monday, April 12, at 8:30 a.m. with a program at the Hopkinsville high school. The choir sang at the Barret high school in Princeton at 1:30 p.m. on the same day and concluded the day's activities at Davison Springs at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday the choir sang at the Madisonville high school at 10 a.m. and at the Greenville high school at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, the final day of the tour, the choir performed at Barret high school in Madison at 10 a.m. and at Davison County high school at Owensboro at 1:30 p.m. This group has gained extensive notice as an outstanding concert choir. It has sung in opera, radio and concert performances before audiences throughout the Western campus and on tour. Many of the members of the choir are from western Kentucky and all looked forward to singing before audiences in their home high schools. Charles H. is from Madisonville, Jere Beck, William Link and many others are from Madisonville, Owensboro and Princeton. The choir's voice ensemble presented varied programs ranging from Handel to Schubert to the more contemporary composers. Among their literature will be "The Dips for Two Veterans" by Norman Lockwood, "The Sound of the Pioneers" by Schubert, "Prayer of the Exodus" by Paul Christiansen, "Dowland and the Trautweins" by Kostal.

The "Dips" is considered one of Whitman's finest creations and "Prayer of the Exodus" is Catti Smith's famous poem.

Directors Pearson and the Choir feel that some of the best music and sometimes the most neglected, is our American folk-songs. The Choir despite part of the program to special arrangements of this literature.

Western's Intramural program, which has always had large numbers of students participating but at times not received the notice such a large undertaking deserves, is making many improvements in the overall operation of the program.

Intramurals have always occupied a prominent place in the athletic program at Western in order to give all students an opportunity to play their favorite sport against equal competition. Over the years some of the Hilp's finest athletes have been uncovered in intramural contests. Some of the best coaches to receive their training in this field of competitive sports, pool, foul-shooting, badminton, chess, and golf. If you would like to have participated in one or more of these tournaments, you may not be too late yet, see Coach Griffin, and find out who is in charge of each of these events. Now is the time to find out if there is still time to get in on the fun. All particiapants certainly aren't vastly skilled, and this gives everybody a chance to participate in this favor-ible sport.

In addition to all of these and many other popular activities going on here at Western, there have been many tournaments, run off, or are presently being run off in basketball, volleyball (girls), ping-pong, softball, handball, and tennis to name but a few of the activities.

Gene Rhodes Named Head Basketball Coach At St. X.

Gene Rhodes, one of Western's all-time basketball greats, recently was named head basketball coach at St. Xavier High School in Louisville.

Rhodes was hired to replace Joe Hauser, who had resigned as the Tiger coach. The fiery Rhodes moves to St. X from Holy Cross High School in Louisville, where he took over as basketball coach when the new school opened in September 1958.

The 32-year-old Rhodes is probably the youngest coach ever hired by the Catholic basketball schools. He has had three years of coaching experience in high school and college.

Before coming to Western in the fall of 1958, Rhodes was a star basketball, football, baseball, and track player at Male High school in Louisville. He played in three state tournaments, and the team he helped build has a running mate with Ralph Beattie at guard when Male won the state title in 1948.

The Male High雷达 moved to Western after serving two years in the army because he was one of the best players anywhere to wear a Hilltopper uniform. When he was introduced as a senior, playing his last year of basketball, baseball, and track in February 1952, Rhodes received one of the greatest ovations ever given a graduating Hilltopper. He played in 16 games for Western, the most contests ever participated in by a Hilltopper. He was the high point of the Western team in almost every game. His scoring power was outstanding, and he was a team leader who could score at will.

Louisville All Opponent Team

Tom Marshall, John Harbin, Don Miller, and Bob Schaffer. That is the tremendous all-opponent team that the University of Louisville All Opponent basketball tournament has been able to develop. Marshall, Western Kentucky's most outstanding basketball player all season, was voted the outstanding player of the tournament and voiced the most important checking. But the Hilltoppers in 1952 - Rhodes was also a star basketball player for Western. He led his team to victory in two OVC basketball championships. His skillful handling and ball control in the oddness were sensational.

Rhodes always a dynamic never-say-die performer, who never seemed to lose. He was remembered by all Hilltopper basketball fans for his last-second 36 foot 3 inch shot against the Bowling Green, Ohio, University Press that phenomenal shot gave Western a thrilling 76-75 triumph in the game ended in the final regular season meeting of the 1951-52 campaign. It is also the longest shot ever made by a Hilltopper and ends as the longest shot ever made in the history of the OVC.

This is only one of Rhodes' many great accomplishments, for he was one of the greatest competitors ever to play for Western.

Netters Defeat Evansville Team

Bryant Brooks moved all the way to Evansville, Indiana, and whipped Evansville's top team, 74-65, in a thrilling match for the Evansville tournament. This is only one of Rhodes' many great accomplishments, and it ended Evansville's record season of 23-2 as the best of the frontiersmen's team.

Marshall, Spoelstra Named To Wesleyan Opponent Team

Kentucky Wesleyan College named Western's Tom Marshall and Wesleyan's Skip Spoelstra to the All-state team. The two players were selected as the outstanding team last season. In the Western Wesleyan all-state game, Marshall was the top vote-getter.

Potter Pitches No Hitter

College Highb's Dick Potter won his season's game in a row as he notched a no-hitter against Serena-wood Saturday afternoon. It was the first no-hitter of the young season in this area and possibly the state.

Potter defeated Russaville 7-1, last Friday after losing to Kyrock 14-3 in the season opener.

In Potter's no-hit performance, he also strung out 14 Bunnish batters and batted two of the Cardinals three home runs.

The Cards scored both runs in the first inning and Mike Baxnet's single, a walk to John Garnett and a double by Joe Morgan.

Suttam scored its lone run in the fourth on two errors and a stolen base.

batted out four hits.
