Debate Grows Hot As Students Campaign

By Jane Winchester

Just as the elections of class officers and Senate candidates were nearing completion, the highlight of the campus for the students came last week with the student union debate. At least the student union debate was the highlight of the campus for the students last week. The students wanted to put on a good show of school spirit to show outside observers that they were student government. The debate was held in the auditorium at 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 14. The debate was sponsored by the student union and the student union had paid for the whole affair. The debate was advertised by the student union as a way of putting on a show of school spirit and to show outsiders that the students were on the job. The debate continued throughout the whole night and the students were very pleased with the results. The students were very pleased with the results of the debate and they were very pleased with the results of the student union debate. The students were very pleased with the results of the debate and they were very pleased with the results of the student union debate. The students were very pleased with the results of the debate and they were very pleased with the results of the student union debate. The students were very pleased with the results of the debate and they were very pleased with the results of the student union debate.
New Pep Club Organized
One of the best ways to derive better results from school spirit is through a pep club. Western's newly formed Pep Club met for the first time Oct. 14, and in spite of the bad weather about fifty students attended. At this meeting, cheerleader Bobsie Jones displayed the importance of the club by acclaiming the importance of school spirit. Besides getting the students together, it was the largest organization on the Hill at that time. The club was dissolved, however, and since that time, no plans have been made to organize a new group.

If successful, the new Pep Club will encourage students to sit in a group, to form lines on the field, and to bring cowbells and whistles to the games.

Support Your Officers
Last week, Western students selected class officers for all other classes, and the results of the election were close, others were landslide victories. in every case the students in office received the majority of votes. Whether your candidate won or lost, support those in office if they are members of the right class organization. Not only should the class members cooperate fully with their officers, but also those who voted against political candidates should fulfill the obligation to their fellow students.

Put Away Those Letters
A number of students who have won high school letters have been wearing them on the Western campus. As far as the writers can see, the practice in the past that only Western varsity letter winners are entitled to wear the letters on the chest.

Being a college letter winner is an honor. Let us all hold these honors high. Stop wearing any letter which has not been earned at Western.

Music Notes
By BARRIE KURHAN
If your windows rattle it is not because of feta flying over but the assigned choir is rehearsing, blending, and polishing the new freshman class of music students. Large audiences turned out several excellent talent, and we are on the another fine year of music at Western.

Announced for the Oct. 7 faculty concert in the Memorial Coliseum, the students will perform as a prelude to the Motet Society concert. This will be the first time the students will assemble on the campus for a performance. The program will be presented in full concert dress.

The Mute and the Trumpet

The trouble with books is that they are filled with antiquated mandates. They put notions in a reader's mind, which the author, if he is a good one, does not mean to put there. The Library furnishes books and a place for our intellectual reading. The library books provide background reading, those preparing for teaching and those preparing for writing good citizens in general. We can get our own books read! We can have the library furnished with the best books, except the public library, and we can use this library as the means of raising the interest of students in the field.

Five novels have been especially popular. These last few weeks, and the movies have encouraged their reading. They are: "The Front Page," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Wind," and "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Among the most popular novels have been "The Sane," by T. H. Let's get the ball rolling so that Homecoming this year will probably be the biggest and most effective ever held on Western's campus.

Western's annual Homecoming game, on Saturday, November 6, is designed to welcome back the old graduates as well as entertain the present students. Pep rallies, theHomecoming Dance, a parade, a church, and several plays will precede the game.

Western fans and all Easterners at the Homecoming game. No one wants to miss the excitement of the present in these days! Homecoming coronations feature the queen and her attendants that will highlight the half-time program.

Following the football game there will be a large party, and the Shadow Hop will complete the weekend activities.

Planes are already being made for the Homecoming Parade, which promises to be the largest parade that ever has been made up. New floats, mostly made by student artists and Bob Hillson, students from Bowling Green and Cadiz, will be part of the parade. This parade will be joined by several high school bands as well as bands from other cities. The floats of the parade will be decorated by local merchants.

The Hill will be decked out in multicolored crafts, paper, signs, and character decorations as the downtown business district, in keeping with the theme of the week, and we'll see you tomorrows night in Cookeville!

Colonel Hanks Returns To Western ROTC

By Russell Ballinger and Melly Joe Howard

Serving Western this year as an assistant military property custodian is Alger Hanks, retired Army lieut. colonel and veteran of thirty-nine years military service.

Colonel Hanks was an instructor in military science at Western from 1934 to 1940, during which time he was the only man to serve from a junior unit to a senior unit. Among his students were Maj. W. H. Bowen, Col. Gilbert Durham, and Col. Sally Carpenter, who are still serving with the regular army. Another of his students was Bob Cochran of the public relations department.

Not only has Colonel Hanks had an illustrious military career, he has also had five sons in the service, two of which are now in the Air Force.

Four of his eight children attend Western. His sons, Joe, Gene, and George are former students and his daughter, Patricia, is a junior in the law school.

Colonel Hanks entered the army in 1918 as an enlisted man. He was in the Philippines from 1918 to 1921 and was with the first troops that were stationed on the Philippine island of Negros. In 1926 he also took part in the war along the Mexican border in 1916.

After receiving a commission, Colonel Hanks attended the Army Cadet School at Fort Snelling, Minn. Colonel Hanks has been Overseer's aides in charge of all military property.

In 1938, he came to Western as an assistant military property custodian and remained here until 1940 when he was ordered back to his native city as a captain. During World War II the officer saved a possible aircraft from being destroyed in nearly a month's time. He returned to Western in 1946 and returned to Bowling Green in 1950. He was graduated in 1950.

Colonel Hanks retired in 1946 and returned to Bowling Green. His interest in and associations with military life have brought him back to Western's ROTC as an assistant military property custodian.

Mae Sweeney

Is Panelist

May Sweeney, junior from Kirklin, attended the annual program of the Kentucky Tobacco Foundation convention at Hunt-Both Field, on Oct. 15.

Accompanied by Dr. J. R. Whitten, of the biology department, she gave a panel discussion on health education with emphasis on the importance of the P.E. and Physical Education in Daviess County who gave the state requirements for health courses: president of the local district Parent-Teacher Association, who gave the parent's point of view on the state's health education; and the executive secretary of Daviess County Tuberculosis Association, who outlined their program for the coming year.

A chapter of the Sunshine Sewing Guild also met with Mae Sweeney, who gave the lecture part of the program.

Debale Squad Meets Today

Today Western's Intercollegiate Debate squad meets to complete arrangements for the team's tryout which are to be held in the near future. Approximately fifteen students are candidates for the team positions, and negotiations are now in progress with other Kentucky colleges for contacts to exchange debates with Western.

In the absence of Mr. Raymond G. Miller, who is on leave of absence to do graduate work at Columbia University, Dr. Karl A. Moore, of the History Department, will represent Western in the Intercollegiate Debate association. Among the members are Raymond Moore, student, and Mrs. Raymond Cravens, student.

Any students wishing to try out for the team, please contact Dr. Moore.

Homecoming No. 6—Goal of 500 Life Members; Ballots Now In Mail, Return By Nov. 5

Life Memberships continue to pour in. Since the launching of Issue 5 of the "T'break, three new memberships have been received in the Alumni Office. This makes a total of 41. The goal is 6,000. Send in the application and do not worry about your alumni dues anymore.

New members: Mrs. Merwin Ray, B.B. '24, the former Miss Ray, now resides at 3 East Wilson Circle, New York, N. Y. Her husband, J. H. Ray, is stationed at Port Monroe, N. J.

Harvey J. Dittman, B.B. 32 and M.A. '34, saw an Industrial Arts Instructor at Southern High School in Junction City, Kansas. You were married to Ada Brinker's sister, Mrs. Ada Dittman, B.B. '31 and M.A. '34, who is now Assistant Principal of the Valley Elementary School in Junction City, Kansas.

Miss Mary Taylor, All '12, member of the Auxiliary Science department at Western, left to report to the Church in the next issue of the "T'break which comes out November 4.

A meeting of our Alumni Association's Board of Directors was held in the Student Union Building on Oct. 10. Nominations for next year's officers are expected. Ballots are being mailed to all members of the Association. It will be returned to the Secretary by Nov. 15.

It is planned that the new officers elected be announced at the Homecoming dance on the morning of Nov. 6. An informal reception of the new officers will be held at the evening dance on Commencement Day next June.

The following is a copy of the letter which Alumni Association President H. H. Sundstrom sent to each of the county representatives:

Dear: Our Association is trying to become more effective in promoting the work of the Alumni Association. We need your help in this work.

The appointment of several county representatives is made necessary. You have been selected as the representatives of your county, and your appointment will be solicited at the next meeting of the Association. You are advised to see that you are in the meantime that you cannot afford to neglect.

In order to secure the maximum cooperation of the presidents and secretaries of the county organizations, we are asking for their suggestions as to their activities. This will be an effort to make our work more effective and will enable us to better serve the alumni who have chosen to be associated with our organization.

We also hope that you will pass this letter on to the members of your county organization and keep up informed of all meetings of the board of directors and the various events which deserve publicity. It is the desire of the alumni association to attend to the organization of a county association.

If you desire to meet with the president and director of the Alumni Association will be held on November 4 in the main auditorium of the University of Kentucky. The meeting will take place at 4:00 P.M. and will be open to all alumni and friends of the University.

Herman Lowes visits Europe

Herman Lowes, a recent alum of the University of Kentucky, visited Europe in the fall of 1944. He was engaged in teaching and research at the University of California and the University of Michigan, where he received his Ph.D. in 1946. Lowes then went to Oxford University, where he taught as a visiting professor for two years. In 1948, he became a professor of history at the University of Wisconsin, where he remained until his retirement in 1980.

Lowes was an accomplished writer, producing numerous textbooks and articles on European history. He is best known for his book "The Rise of the Kaiserreich," which was published in 1950. The book received widespread critical acclaim and was widely praised for its insightful analysis of the political and social forces that led to the rise of Nazi Germany.

In addition to his work as a professor, Lowes was also a prominent figure in the academic community. He served as editor of the "Journal of Modern History" for many years and was a frequent contributor to other scholarly journals. Lowes was recognized with numerous awards and honors throughout his career, including the Guggenheim Fellowship in 1953 and the National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowship in 1960.

Lowes is survived by his wife, Betty, and their two children, John and Mary. A memorial service will be held at the University of Kentucky on November 5.

November 6th is the day set aside for the oldest football rivalries in the state of Kentucky. The game to be played between the two schools has become the biggest in the state for the past 31 years. Each year, the game is eagerly awaited by fans from both sides.

Neither team has been beaten or lost a game in the past 25 years, yet both sides have a perfect record. The Maroons and the Westerners have met 21 times in the past, with each team winning 11 games.

CLAYTON’S COMMENT: Coach Jack Clayton has asked us to pass this on to you, the Western fans, as a reminder to be on your best behavior. We will have the police around, and the coaches will be watching to see if there are any problems.

Homecoming: Western will play Eastern on Saturday, and the game is expected to be a tight one. The Maroons have won the past five games, but the Westerners are looking to end that streak.

Drill Squad Will Perform at Game: The Drill Squad will perform at the Western University of Louisville football game this weekend.

THE GOAL POST

WESTERN 18, M. R. LOUISIANA 8

Western moved in its fifth straight victory last Saturday by beating Louisiana in a hard-fought game to win a Big Four crowd of 9,000 in the stadium.

The undaunted Hilltoppers lost no time in crashing the scoring barrier set by the Toppers. Their attack kicked in-second quarter and lasted for the first half. It was Shirley, of the Western coaching staff, working for a 23-yard kick-off from the second 15. When the Westerns made the extra point on the last touchdown.

The Maroons, who lost their last game to the Westerners, are now looking for their first win of the season. They will be in full force to take on the Westerners in the game this Saturday.
