Air ROTC Discontinued At Western

The Air ROTC program at Western has been ordered discontinued. In addition to this, similar units in 24 other colleges and universities across the country have been discontinued. December 11, college officials announced receipt of an order from Congress. David S. Smith, assistant secretary of the Air Force, was quoted as saying, "We consider the order to be in the best interest of the country."

General Smith said the reenlistment program is the result of "the main management problems that confront all other organizations and institutions."

To conform with the order, Western will begin "phasing out" as of the first of the year.

Initial plans for this objective were discussed here Friday December 11, when officials of ROTC met with Air Force and Army units.

"Western is extremely reluctant not to see the Air Force mission accomplished on College Heights. The association with the Air Force has been most pleasant, and the air cadets made highly profitable, not only from the standpoint of the student's training, but also in the citizenship training as well," President Thompson said.

"While we regret the program's discontinuance, we also require the best Air Force cadets in the country. In the final analysis, that uppercut, and that attention and emphasis can be directed to the Air Force," Thompson explained. The Air Force program has been affiliated with the ROTC program for many years.

Pickens Chosen Mountain Laurel Representative

Margaret Pickens

Miss Margaret Katherine Pickens has been selected to represent Western in the 1957 Mountain Laurel Festival, according to an announcement made from President Thompson's Chapel Wednesday.

Pickens, 21, was the only female selection from between four and five candidates. Miss Pickens, a junior at Western, majoring in music education and music, is a native of Cynthiana, Ky. She stated, "I was very surprised when Paul Pickens, my father, called me this afternoon. I was asked about my appearance, my academic standing and how well I carried my responsibilities."

Livingston, 21, was selected because of her poise and her manners, according to Mr. Pickens. Last year's winner was Miss Margaret Olson of Bowling Green.

The Mountain Laurel representative lives in each year chosen by members of the faculty on the basis of beauty, poise, and the way she represents her school.

If a miniature musical comedy, "A Mother Can Under the Basket," is typical of the popular American idiom in his book and lyrics, the author, Stephen Ransom, of Cleveland (Ohio) Playhouse, has added further to the interest of producing the play. The musical comedy is a composition of Frank Brutus.

Its director is Russell R. Miller, director of Greek Revival theatricals in Western, and is written by Ransom. It is a combination of a novel by Mr. Brutus, "A Mother Can Under the Basket," and the script for the musical. The cast is headlined by Miss Dora Briscoe, junior from Indianapolis, Maine; Muriel Cowden, senior from Springfield, Texas; musical director; and B. O. Library expansion plans for Western were announced here in the College Heights Herald Friday, January 19, 20, and 21.

"The Emperor's New Clothes," one of the best-known and best-loved children's classics will be presented at the Western Theater in collaboration with the board of directors of the American Association of University Women as a project in Children's Theater in Van Meter Auditorium on January 19, 20, and 21. Children's Theatre has come to have a prominent place in educational and entertainment activities in recent years. The production of "The Emperor's New Clothes" is another "first" for Bowling Green as it represents an initial experiment in Children's Theater.

Creshawn Speaks At Chapel

"People are more important than business," said the Rev. Crenshaw, of the First Presbyterian Church of Bowling Green, Sunday morning.

After services introduced by President Thompson, the pastor of the church, who was president of the church, said his speech would be based on the verse that forms the subject that he knows best, Jeremiah 32:38. Mr. Crenshaw said he had been a native churchman and had been in every county in the state for many years. From his contacts with people all over the state, he said, he had been drawn the following conclusion: "You are more important than business, and you are more important than anything else you have." He said that everyone who reads the Bible and has a conscience, has read his stories, has read the stories of the people, and has read the stories of other people, and has read the stories of the people. Mr. Crenshaw's column, "The Honolulu Express," is carried in The Courier-Journal Magazine.

By DON BELL

The period between Christmas vacation and mid-semester holidays always seems to take on the form of a kind of bugaboo for many college-ians. The days seem to be endless in this time frame, and many of us seem to get overwhelmed by the thought of having to get up ear the dawn to attend class and the suspicion that you cut classes, and miss out in order not to be late. But don’t! You are unlikely to allow enough time to get a toothbrush halfway in your hair before the rush, and you won’t be able to find the time to get a meal high in your stomach. For this reason, let’s all make up our minds to get up early and go to class.

Weather by auto, bus, train, or plane, travel is equally as bad or as good as it ever was.
Black Christmas

Black Christmas! These words greeted millions of people at the beginning of December, but it was not the only Christmas to be celebrated.

The holiday season has many traditions, from decorating the tree to trimming the cake. But this year, the tradition of giving gifts is in danger of being lost.

With the rise in cost of living, many families are finding it difficult to afford presents for loved ones. In addition, the economic downturn has led to a decrease in the number of people willing to spend money on frivolous items.

Despite these challenges, there are still ways to enjoy the season without breaking the bank. Here are some ideas for a frugal Christmas:

1. DIY Gifts: Instead of buying gifts, consider making them yourself. This can be a fun and creative way to show your loved ones how much you care.

2. Second-hand gifts: Check out local thrift stores, flea markets, and garage sales for unique and affordable gifts.

3. Handmade gifts: Consider giving a handmade gift, such as a knitted scarf or a painted picture.

4. Experience gifts: Instead of giving a material object, consider giving an experience, such as a concert ticket or a gift certificate for a favorite restaurant.

5. Share a gift: Instead of buying a gift, share your own time and talents. Offer to help a friend move, babysit a neighbor’s children, or tutor a child in need.

Remember, the true meaning of Christmas is not about the gifts, but about the love and joy we share with one another.
Toppers Bow To Murray
In Finals Of K.I.T.

The Hilltoppers of Western reeled in a 24-10 victory over Ohio University and then eliminated the basketball world with a 54-71 drubbing of previously unbeaten Louisville before bowing to Murray 74-86 in the finals of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

The Toppers began to find the energy in the final minutes of the game and were able to post 16 point victory over Ohio University in the opening game of the K.I.T. Class I played halftime had held a 3 point 34.32 halftime lead over Western.

The Toppers were led by the five-198-5 and 1-5 play of Murray and the 4-9 point of Murray. Ohio University had held the lead 1-1 with approximately nine minutes of play remaining, turned on the ball as Bonnie Clark and Owen Lawson started to connect. A push shot by Clark put Western ahead at 12-7 and the Toppers were never headed after that.

Louisville lost Charlie Tyra and Jim Morgan on trips, with Western looking Forest Able.

The Toppers, a 44-10 stroke against Murray came on with a rush in the second half, finally forcing Murray to start freezing the ball with 1.30 remaining in the game. Murray managed to hang on — and win 9-8 — as the Toppers fouled frequently in their efforts to win, but their violations allowed Murray to move more chances at the goal but the Toppers hit on only 27 of 77 shots for 34 per cent while Murray was sinking 33 of 50 attempts.

Eleventh Bird Census Completed

Dr. Gordon Wilson, head of the English Department and a member of the Kentucky Ornithological Society; Dr. Lancaster, of the biology Department; Mr. Richard Burress, new park master at Mammoth Cave National Park and Mr. Welling.

Tory Young, took their elevende Christmas census at Mammoth Cave National Park on December 15.

There were more startups entirely in Mammoth Cave in one day than in all other eighteens years in which the census has been put together.

Dr. Wilson remarked that it was the best they had ever had, counting forty-three species, which was the second best in species and one thousand six hundred and fifty-two individuals which was the best ever taken.

On December 25 here in Bowling Greens, Dr. Wilson, Dr. Lancaster, Mr. Taylor and Dr. Lancaster took their 25th census. They counted fifty-nine species and five-hundred and six individuals.

The census will be published in the Kentucky Wildlife and the annual from Bowling Green in American Field Note.

"Sheedy, you warm," chirped J. Paul's little chidkade, "your lack of confidence is driving me cock-eyed. If you don't do something about that messy hair I'1l never seek to you again!" So J. Paul hopped on down to his local drug counter and picked up a bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he has confidence in any situation because Wildroot keeps his hair handsome and healthy looking the way Nature intended . . . neat but not grossy. Contains fear of Lonol, nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. If you catch your own confidence, take a look at Wildroot Cream-Oil. Great for making your hair look good to other people.

"Next To The Duck-In!"
Toppers Clobber 'Breels In First O.V.C. Clash

Hold that tiger! This could well have been the sentiments of the bewildered Murray Racers last Saturday night as Western's All-America candidate "Frosty" Able descended upon the 'Breels with the venom stored up by three years of hatred. And "Frosty" must have been, as he slipped through, under, over, and around the grasping defense of the invading 'Breels to race home 24 sensational points in what is being hailed his finest performance of the star-studded career. Scoring on an astounding 71 per cent from the field as he scored 11 for 15 and pitching in 12 for 15 from the charity line, Able led the Toppers attack as they hit for over 70 per cent in two consecutive games.

The veteran crew from Murray was kept at bay most of the night as their big offensive guns were neutralized most of the night by the Chick-Fil-A defense and Fatback defense.

The new control, screening style of defense "The ole" Sid has been experiencing with the past five games shielded the 'Breels from the sensational play of Able along with the ballhawking abilities of Lawson and Back to back from the commanding lead at intermission time.

The gallant Racers raced back in the third period to catch the Toppers with 13 minutes still showing on the big clock. Then the screening-dominated strategy of the Toppers coupled with the经销 rebounding of Daniels and Holland proved too much for the game visitors as the Dillardmen pulled out to a commanding 13 point lead with seven minutes remaining. The "blind" screen, executed beautiful by the Red Men, resulted in a barrage of free throw attempts by Daniels and Able as the confused 'Breels charged into the Toppers' lane after time. This same screen set Able, Lawson and Back up for the jump shots from all angles of the court. With the backboard work of Daniels and Holland bordering the attack headed by Able and the Toppers' guards, Western pulled the winning margin away.

The Toppers, in winning their initial O. V. C. tilt and forcing to the top of the conference race, eliminated only one that came when Lawson fainted on way to just one minute remaining and was replaced by lighting Bill Clark.

The Toppers were also inspired by a balanced scoring attack. Lawson finished with 19, Daniels with 18, Back with 12 and Holland with 10 points. But Red Daniels was also a lower of strength on the backboards as he was 15 for 17 conversion.

The fast moving, cleanly played game was a spectacular dream as both teams played a flawless ball.

Miss Gayle Bryant, junior from Harrisonville, was awarded basketball homecoming queen during half time activities at the Western-Murray regular game Saturday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Gayle was escorted by Jerry Brandley.

J. Porter Hines Retires
After 28 Years Service

J. Porter Hines, center, retired January 1, as a mechanical engineer at Western after 28 years service. He is succeeded by Emmett Walton, left, Walton's son, Kenneth, right, is succeeding his father as assistant mechanical engineer.

Porter Hines, who has served as Hines' assistants for many years, was promoted to mechanical engineer, and Kenneth Walton was moved up to assistant mechanical engineer from the maintenance department, in which he has worked since 1943.

Hines joined the Western staff as a mechanical engineer in February, 1927, and has served at that position since then. Prior to 1927, he had served 19 years as a river pilot and engineer on steamboats operating throughout the Ohio River Valley. Incidentally, he is a brother to the famed Dunam Hines, a native of Warren County, who was born in Bowling Green, on March 4, 1934.

Emmett Walton joined the maintenance department at Western in 1933, when the present steam plant was under construction. A native of Tennessee, he had come to Warren County two years earlier as an engineer for an oil company.

Emmett Walton, son of the new mechanical engineer, is a graduate of the Coyne Electrical Institute of Chicago, and has been at Western eight years.

The school, in a statement pertaining to Hines' retirement, said: "Porter Hines has been one of the most valuable and respected employees any college could have. For 28 years, he has filled a position of responsibility in the complete satisfaction of the institution. His change of work program, while closely akin to retirement, means that Western will continue to use his help and advice."
