"Congratulations, look at me!" This remark will be common on the campus after next week's Senior Day. C. This suspicious occasion and August day, carol lated by the senior class, will be considered another "enefit" to our campus notables. These innocuencies will signal the beginning of the last year of a student's college career.

With the tension and strain gone, it is interesting to reflect on the many changes that have taken place. In the person who has reached the climax of his educational career of some years, there are few people who are not involved in a psychology of the occasion. Even the most unimportant person will be prone to see in himself an increased self-consciousness.

The final emotions are those of happiness, and the reason for happiness may be seen in the actions and the smiles of the students.

The final emotions are those of happiness, and the reason for happiness may be seen in the actions and the smiles of the students.

This is the beginning of the last year of college life, and the occasion is marked by the departure of the seniors, who are about to leave for the real world of work.

The seniors will then have the opportunity to reminisce about their college life, and to reflect on the changes that have taken place during their four years of college.

The new quarterly, "Library Notes," is now available for purchase from the library. This publication contains articles, reviews, and information on the latest developments in the field of library science.

One of the most unusual, and most interesting, aspects of the library is its vast collection of rare books.

In addition to the traditional classification system used in most libraries, the library uses a system that categorizes books by their subject matter. This makes it easier for patrons to find books on specific topics.

The library is continually expanding its collection, and new books are added every week. The library also offers a wide variety of programs and events for patrons to enjoy.

TO A MEMORABLE DAY

PLEASANTLY REPLENTISHED

To many Western graduates, the memory of High School Senior day stands out as one of the highlights of their college life. In fact, many have taken advantage of the chance to renew old friendships and see old friends on campus since this day is an annual event.

Western students have this tradition priviledge again last Friday when the first High School senior day since the beginning of the school year was held. The success of this day, and the general feeling on campus is that this day should definitely continue because it provides a chance to make more friends. Seniors will probably be in the fact that many of them are graduating as a class to attend Western.

The success of High School Senior Day was made possible by the generosity of the student body and faculty. Their friendly interest in the visitors and participation on the various programs of the day was a great contribution to the success.

In conclusion, the committee responsible for High School Senior Day should be congratulated for the excellent work that they put in the planning and preparation of the program.

A Fitting Climax

TO A MEMORABLE CAREER

Last Monday and Tuesday night a Western cordial bid farewell to a student who had already made an indelible mark on the life of Western, in an unforgettable talent as an actress.

When the final curtain of the Western Playhouse's annual production of "The Importance of Being Earnest" was let down, the final note of the key was let out of the Western University as gloriously as it entered.

Eliza Doolittle's career at Western has indeed been fabulous one. Since her first year on the campus, she has taken every opportunity available to her as a woman at Western. She has become Western's representative in the state, participating in state-division tournaments and speaking events, and has put the Hill on the map in speech circles by winning this year's Grand National Speech Festival.

She was also chosen to represent the school at the United States College of Young Men, and she attended A. year, and she represented the student body recently at High School Senior Day.

Unfortunately, she is a student who is willing to use her talents so freely. The President of the College congratulates Elizabeth McMorrith on tripping the true spirit of Western.

McWhorter And Embry Give Final Performances

"You have never had a child Argus," Elizabeth McWhorter makes her last public appearance as Western in the Western Players production of MEDEA. Also seen in the picture from left, Janis Baker, Carol Cheadle and "Cherie" Cheadle. MEDEA was given in Van Meter Auditorium May 7-8.

By Betty Spreafico

As the final curtain was brought down on Western Player's production of MEDEA it also was a finale to two of Western's most popular plays -- Jay Embry and Elizabeth McWhorter. Both of these seniors have been a great asset to the Players during their years of service.

MEDEA in all its glory was presented Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. It was the last production of the year and was a fitting finale to about 1,200 of the dynamic productions they are capable of.

Jay Embry in the role of Jason was cast as a legendary hero for whom Medea, played by Miss McWhorter, killed her brother and brought the wrath of Colchus, her father, on her head. As the nurse, Jean Reid-Smith played with intelligence and the sense of impending doom for all.

A new comer, Miss Reid-Smith showed her versatile talent as an interpreter of modern verse. Hillie's fine production.

HERALD USES NEW TYPE HEAD LINES

There is a new look in the College Heights Herald. This new look, centered around the Herald's headquarters, is a result of a major expansion of the mechanical department of the Post City Daily News. The Daily News publishes the Herald, and the new fonts are being used in the Herald for the first time in this issue.

The expansion program, announced late last year, is intended to improve the newspaper's service to readers and advertisers. Installed recently and already in operation is the new Model 30 Linotype machine.

Manufactured by the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. of Brooklyn, N. Y., the machine represents the latest developments in type-setting machinery.

It is equipped with a large selection of attractive, modern type faces designed to make the advertising display more readable and to improve the appearance of the news and editorial content of the paper.

The new machine brings to the number of linotypes now in operation in the Daily News composing room.

As a result of its installation, several older fonts of type that have been used in the Daily News now will be discarded in favor of the newer, more attractive faces.

WILSON HOLDS EXHIBITION

An exhibition of paintings, by Mr. Jean Wilsch, of the Art Department, was held for the high schools of the area, and was held, in the Art Gallery, Cherry Hall. The exhibition displays the work of students in water colors.

"Audible Silence," is a winter scene, and purely imaginary. It was painted approximately three years ago.

"The Kentucky," is typical of Kentucky in the Autumn.

"Canadian Rockies" illustrates the mountain area of Canada through which Mr. and Mrs. Wilson traveled in 1956.

"Barracks of Water Color" is one of the few watercolors that is not imaginary. This is because it was painted with the class. It is near a colored person's home close to Bill Harms, who painted the picture.

These are few of the ten paintings. To quote from Mr. Wilson, she made and his work.

"We tried to avoid the use of the window and setting the country in the background. The colors are all over impressions of the picture. My aim is express myself in an authentic atmosphere, with purely photographic or abstract, and to capture life and the spirit of the world around me."

Smith Hurls Three Hit Victory

Southpaw Wayne Smith gained large measure of revenge last Thursday as Western tipped Evansville 6-4 on Smith's flawless first performance. Just one week before, when Evansville had bottled Smith and his crew to a 1-1 tying 9-4 deadlock.

Smith pulled his game out of储存 when he plugged to the plate in the fifth inning and stroked the curveball. This was his first appearance of the season. Thus Pryor's victory was a well deserved one for Evansville, who had allowed only 1 hits in 15 rounds prior to last Thursday game. Now he now heored a 1-0 record and that loss came in the hands of a three hitter to Murray.

Evansville had their big inning in the third as they langed three hits and picked up four runs. Jim Rich, the top-rated first sacker, tagged 2 for 3 at the plate to lead the Hilltopper attack.

Beats 70 Top Golfers

Western's Don Wood, a sharp-shooting Brinkmanville product, defied seventy of the top golfers in Kentucky in winning the Glasgow Institutional Championship last Sunday. The diminutive leftyman fired an 88 par in a 36-hole stroke showing Green's Most Troubles and Louie's J. G. Brown.

Wood, shooting beautiful golf, grabbed his best two succession before mid-season. These impressive shots included a 36 foot putt for a birdie on the 9th hole. The 91-foot birdie on the 10th.

Thomas made his bye at Birdie, in 13 footer for a drive in the first hole while Wood only managed a 20 yard. Wood slipped home to the hole when Thomas faded to into 2 hole.

Thomas defeated J. G. Brown in the play off for second place with a second hole par.

The big tournament was Wood's biggest hit of glory in his young career. The 18 year old Hilltop golfer won the Kentucky Junior Tournament at Glasgow in 1954 and also captured the Kentucky Junior Junior title and the Hopkinsville Country Club crown in his same year. But his three titles served as warm-up for his starring on last Sunday. Wood hopes to participate in the Kentucky open next week which will be held in December.

Men's National Tournament Sunday hit 15 greens in regulation, including two hole-in-ones. Still, he has a chance. For any golfer.

The 24th pound lineman has been hitting this season with a good shoulder but seems to have that little something more.
