Three Speech Contests Set

Three of the outstanding academic activities at Western each year are the oratorical contests conducted during the second semester of each college year. These are the College Oratorio Contest, the Robinson Oratorio, and the American Association of Women's College. Each contest consists of a debate on the topic of the current event that is open to all students. The oratorical contests are open to all students.

Post Lands Coach Dibble

Most of us no doubt have by this time read the article entitled "Winningest Basketball Coach" in the January 1957 issue of the National Educational Digest, a magazine. It is about none other than our own basketball coach, Ed Dibble. The article, which includes his work and record here at Western, shows that the man's reputation is well-deserved. This year's team, it is well written by Fred Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner who visited the campus this past fall to compile the article. Waterbeds pride is also introduced by President Thompson at the Eastern-Western game.

One thing is certain, the Hillbopper squad under the leadership of this great coach is headed for even bigger and better success, and we here on the hill are pulling for them one hundred percent.

HAVE A REAL CIGARETTE...have a Camel

The most important thing to me in a cigarette is flavor. Camel's always rich, never thin, or that they're my gauge.”

MARGARET HICKS

Discover the difference between “just smoking”...and Camels!

Taste the difference! No fade, drizzle, or fancy stuff — simply the finest taste in smoking, Camel are rich, full-flavored, and deeply satisfying.

Feel the difference! The exclusive Camel blend of quality tobaccos is unequalled for smooth smoking. Camel never let you down.

Enjoy the difference! More people smoke Camel today after than any other cigarette of any kind. Try Camel — they’ve really got it!
What a MATHEMATICIAN can do at IBM

Mathematics is an ancient but ever-advancing science that contains many forms. It shouldn’t surprise you then that it took some time before John Jackson discovered the one brand of mathematics that seemed customized to his ability and temperament. John is an Applied Science Representative, working out of the IBM office at 122 East 42nd Street, N. Y. C. mathematical background in both of those areas. It was not until he was interviewed by IBM that field computing whetted his scientific appetite. A few months later, John launched his own IBM career as an Applied Science Trainee.

Promotionwise, John has come a long way since that time. He’s now an Applied Science Representative in one of the busiest, most responsible offices in the IBM organization— mid-town Manhattan.

With his wife, Katherine, and daughter, Lisa, 20 months, and John, Jr., 6 weeks, he enjoys his suburban Fort Washington home. He’s happy and he’s satisfied. And too, John knows a few vital statistics about IBM...such as the fact that the Applied Science Division has quadrupled during the past three years, and that in 1956 alone, over promotions were conferred. If ever a future held promise, here is one.

IBM hopes that this message will help to give you some idea of what a mathematician can do at IBM...there are equal opportunities for E.E., M.E., M.P., and Liberal Arts majors in IBM’s many divisions—Research, Production Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Technical Services. Why not drop in and discuss your IBM possibilities? He can supply our latest brochure and tell you when IBM will feature your campus. Meanwhile, IBM will be happy to answer your questions. Write to Mr. P. E. Bradley, IBM, Room 3000, 100 Madison Avenue, New York 16, N. Y.
The senior home economics majors residing at the Home Management House have entertained several informal tea parties recently.

Thursday, January 3, the following guests were entertained: Misses S. B. Barnow, Jane Lovell, Joyce Kirby, Joyce Marsch, Barbara Murrell, Anne Blumper, Mrs. Wayne Donson and Mrs. Harold Bradford.

Another tea party was given on January 13. A pond and a cornfield served as the scene of the picnics. Participants came from the white stock and with others from the Home Ec. house. Approximately forty guests were invited.

Hilltoppers Lead OVC; Hold Season Record 9 Wins, 4 Losses

Western's Hilltoppers finish the first night of the Ohio Valley Conference with a record of 9-4; 9 wins and 4 losses. For the season Coach R. D. Ludlow's team has won more games than all but four as the campaign is half over.

The latest victory came last Tuesday night as the Hilltoppers whipped the Ohio State Buckeyes, 82-70. Ellis, from Tennessee Tech, 83-74, for the second straight win. Coach R. D. Ludlow's team has won more games than all but four as the campaign is half over.

The difference in the final tally came by virtue of the Hilltoppers' ability to outplay the Buckeyes in the second half of the game. The Buckeyes led by 18 points early, but the Hilltoppers fought back and took the lead with 40 minutes to play.

The Hilltoppers, led by Ellis, from Tennessee Tech, 83-74, finished the game with a record of 9-4; 9 wins and 4 losses. For the season Coach R. D. Ludlow's team has won more games than all but four as the campaign is half over.

Association Of Debators Meets Jan. 29

The Western Debate Association will hold their first meeting for the new semester at 4 p.m. on January 29 in the heart center. All students interested in inter-collegiate debating are urged to be present for this session. It is hoped that the activities of the squad can be enlarged to include in addition to debating, other types of public speaking for the members of the organization.

Many of the tournaments for debates include events in various other types of speaking activities; public speaking, impromptu, extemporaneous, oral interpretation, after-dinner speaking, poetry and dramatic readings, etc. In order to prepare for larger participation in the festival and tournament events, a regular meeting time and place is to be arranged.

Western debates came through the first semester with a record that was more impressive than in 1948. Western teams were narrow or non-existent in the Kentucky Tournaments in David Lipscomb College here on November 15. Debater Jim Owens was victorious of four outstanding debaters in the Kentucky State Debate Tournament held here on December 1. At the meeting of the group on November 30, Jim Owens was chosen captain for the debate season. Bill Rogers, alternate captain, Bita Jackson, Record editor and Henry Stone, Public Relations Representative.

A special invitation to the meeting on January 29 is extended to those interested in the activities who may not have been able to participate during the first semester. The Western Debate Association welcomes new members for the new semester.

Would You Believe Sanitone DRY CLEANING DID IT?

BEFORE

Well...Here are the FACTS: We did dry clean, kill dust, come back home as black, soft and silky as ever. Jump up in the car, head out only the dirt, but it certainly does get ALL of it. Three unhindered, constant, steady brushes are fully restored to store-bought beauty—yet never a hint of tell-tale dry cleaning odor. Please for service today.

Physics Colloquium Hears Thornberry

"If it is possible to attain a velocity up to 10,000 miles per hour," was the highlight of the speech presented to the Physics Colloquium by Ronald Thornberry, a senior physics major.

Thornberry, along with Prof. George Page, a physics department and some other members of the physics department, had recently visited the Arnold Engineering Development Center (Air Research and Development Command) at Trichiana, Tennessee.

Thornberry's speech was about the wind tunnels at the Development Center.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The next meeting of the Physics colloquium will be at 3 o'clock, February 13.

Movies Highlight Biology Club Meet

Wednesday evening, January 5, the Biology club held its monthly meeting in Good Hall. The program consisted of two educational movies, which are as follows—"Helping in the Cure of Tuberculosis," a story of the physicians and administration of one of the two most effective anti-consumption used in preventing tuberculosis; and "The Greatest Gas," a story dealing with the entire manufacture of explosives. The second movie, which is part of the "Get Tough" series, was shown principally in curing some of the diseases of the world.

A group of business discussions was held and refreshments were served after the movie.

Mrs. E. A. Moore Dies Yesterday At Local Hospital

Mrs. Clee Myers Moore, wife of Dr. Earl A. Moore, 1250 Normal, died at 9:45 a.m. yesterday at City-County Hospital after an illness of several months.

Private funeral services are set at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Bowling Green Presbyterian Church. Dr. Angus N. Gordon will conduct the services. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetary.

The body will be at the residence until 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Moore assisted for many years in the Department of English at Western. Before teaching at Western, she headed the Department of English at Bowling Green Business University.

She spent most of her life in the teaching profession. After teaching in the elementary and high schools of Albigala and New Castle, Pa., she taught English and Speech at Wayne College, Beaver Falls, Pa., before coming here.

A few years ago Mrs. Moore and Dr. Moore collaborated to broadcast a series of Sunday school lesson reviews.

The husband-and-wife team also collaborated in a series of 400 programs entitled "Invitations to Heaven.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the Bowling Green Presbyterian Church and until recently served as teacher of the Ladies' Bible Class of that church.

Dr. Moore is in his 81st year.

I. A. Majors Plan Trip To Eastern

A trip to Eastern Kentucky State College is planned by several Industrial Arts majors. They will leave early Saturday, February 2, allowing time to visit Baker's Shop before attending the Western-Kentucky game that night.

THE '57 CHEVROLET . . . sweet, smooth and saucy!

It doesn't just look like it loves the road, clings to curves and laughs at hills. That's the way it goes. Come on in and see what it does for driving fun.

It's not just a coincidence that Chevy handles and acts like a sports car. Chevy engineers planned it that way.

They set out to build a car that would take to the road with crisp, solid steering and quicksilver responsiveness. A car with up to 245 h.p. Come try it!

Thompson Is Speaker At N.C.A.A. Meet

President Kelly Thompson addressed the delegates at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual convention held in St. Louis last week at the college's round table session and at the graduation of the College of Education.

"President Thompson and L. T. Smith, head of the industrial arts department and chairman of Western's faculty athletic committee, flew to St. Louis on Jan. 9 and returned Jan. 12. Fred Russell, nationally known as associate editor of the Nashville Banner, had this to say in his column Friday, Jan. 13, in the Banner. "Many NCAA delegates acclaimed the speech by President Thompson of Western Kentucky as the most informal and best delivered of the annual meeting."

The Nashville Banner sports editor, who wrote the article for Saturday Evening Post on Death Ed Diffie which appeared on Thursday of this week, devoted most of his daily column to President Thompson's speech on Thursday of this week.

declaration to oratory and now, too, is an original speech by the entrant, ten to fifteen minutes in length of delivery.

The A. A. U. W. Contest is newer than the other two. Members of the local branch of the American Association of University Women originated the contest five years ago to recognize and encourage participation in speech activities by young ladies of the college. This competition is open to girls of all four classifications. The original oratorical and time limit is the same as for the other contests.

As director of speech activities, Russell E. Miller, of the English department, serves as director of the contests. The dates for this year's competitions are tentatively set for A. A. U. W. March 6, Ogden March 13, and Robinson March 18. Students interested in participating in the contests are urged to contact Mr. Miller for further details regarding the contests or to the subjects if they have been chosen.
