Letter, 28 October 1905, of author Alice (Hegan) Rice, Louisville, Kentucky, to Helen Keller. She praises Keller’s recent autobiography and reports on its popularity with the girls at a Japanese boarding school Rice visited the past summer. Rice encloses a composition of one of the students (not included in this collection) in which she writes that “the eyes of [Keller’s] heart are open.”

1 folder. 1 item. Original.
SC2014.43.1

SUBJECT ANALYTICS

Blind persons – Relating to
Keller, Helen Adams, 1880-1968 – Letter to