BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Curran Ralph Shelton was born on 18 February 1865 in Butler County, Kentucky, the youngest of Benjamin Harvey Shelton and Hetty Jane (McCoy) Shelton’s eight children. He attended schools in Butler County and matriculated at the Glasgow Normal School in Glasgow, Kentucky in 1888. He received a teaching certificate in 1889 and taught school for approximately fifteen years. He married John Annie Mayhugh (1878-1945) of Butler County on 4 January 1898. Her parents were John William Mayhugh and Mariah Brown Mayhugh. Curran and John Annie bought a farm in the Richland Community in Butler County. They were very involved in the Richland Missionary Baptist Church, where Curran served as deacon, church clerk, and treasurer for many years. The couple lived on their Richland farm until their deaths. They had four daughters: Hettie Lois (1899-1962), Neva Mariah (1901-1951), Era Ilene (b. 1903), and Annie Mabel (b.1911). John Annie died on 17 August 1945 and Curran died on 23 June 1959; they are buried in the Riverview Cemetery in Morgantown, Kentucky.

COLLECTION NOTE

Folders 1-4 of this collection relate to Curran Ralph Shelton. Folder 1 contains letters sent to Shelton while enrolled at the Glasgow Normal School (GNS), 1888-1889, from family and friends in Berry’s Lick and Townsville, Butler County, Kentucky. Later letters are from former classmates. Correspondents talk about family matters, church meetings, and the politics involved in hiring teachers. One letter from T.E. Givens to Annie Shelton, written in 1919, discusses the operation of a YMCA in Mexico and comments on the Mexican Revolution. Folder 2 is a diary kept by Curran in 1891 in which he talks about daily life on his farm in Butler County, as well as church and family matters. Folder 4 contains sundry essays composed by Shelton as a student at the GNS. Several relate to his home in Butler County and one describes the room that Curran occupied while at GNS; other essays of note relate to tobacco use and to voting rights for African Americans.

Folders 5-7 contain dairies kept by John Annie (Mayhugh) Shelton, Curran’s wife, for the following time periods: Folder 5 (1 January to 1 September 1935), Folder 6 (1 January to 5 April 1937), and Folder 7 (1 March – 15 April 1938). Her entries concentrate on farm life—gardening, her poultry operation, food preservation, and farm chores. She also lists the visitations of friends and family, church happenings and components of meal preparation and food preservation. In Folder 6 she mentions the great flood of 1937.

Folder 8 includes a listing of students in a school for 1890. The location and teacher is unidentified.
