Ann Lamb Selected
Miss Ann Lamb, freshman, was elected sponsor and honorary captain for Company B of Western's Women's Fraternity last Tuesday in the Kentucky Room.

Miss Lamb comes to Western from Henderson, Kentucky, where last year she served as sponsor of the Barrett High School Band of Henderson.

Toppers Face First State Foe in Morehead

Terrymen Left This Morning For Crucial Battle With Eagles

Thirty-two members of the Western Hilltopper basketball team, assisted by coach and trainer, left Bowling Green Monday morning at 7 a.m., bound for Morehead, Kentucky, where they will meet the Morehead State's Eagles, first state opponents this winter season. The game will be played by the Kentucky, and is to be played at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Morehead gymnasium.

Morehead is a very warlike town, and student body paraded down main street and to the lower football field where the pep rally was climax with a football, fireworks, and a number of roaring homecoming calls. The students finished off the last section of the program by singing to the rhythm of Miss Lamb's orchestra at the annual "Terryman Reunion".

The Western-Morehead game tomorrow will be broadcast over radio station WFBZ (1320) Col. Rowland C. Rowland, manager of the station announced last night, that the game will be made by Kelly Thompson and is due to begin at 1:45 p.m.

Irene's Brunch last Saturday 25-4 in one of the most successful coverings of the season. Ralph Goddell, substitute, who had been out for six weeks from a fractured, was the only Hilltopper injured.

Last season Western won over the "Western Outbound" of Haynes.

Hassel Buberti, editor of the yearbook, reminds all freshmen that they are to have a picture taken at the Cedar House at practice every day of the year.

The photographers, John and Jack, who have been taking pictures at the Cedar House for the last six years, have already taken pictures of all the freshmen.

Richardson And Adkins Improved

The conditions of Thomas Adkins and Melvin Richardson, both of the Green Business University students, have improved, respectively, who were injured in an automobile accident last Tuesday.

President Fixes Thanksgiving Date

President Garrett announced at chapel October 30 that Western students should inform their parents that they will be home to celebrate their Thanksgiving Thanksgiving November 28. Dr. Garrett reached this conclusion after reviewing the consideration of the student body and the individual problems that present themselves in the unique situation.

Due to the fact that the Murray Thanksgiving weekend has been scheduled for the 23rd, it is impossible to dismiss Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24. Therefore there were only two possible solutions: one was to meet the problem by Murray had to be dismissed for the first Thanksgiving at 23 and 24, and then the following Friday and Saturday of the following week, but the other was to dismiss the old Thanksgiving and the two succeeding days.

President's Day To Be Observed November 18

On Monday, November 18, at 9:08 in the morning, the tenth President of the college, Dr. M. C. Park, head of the College Department of Science, in a Founder's Day program of speeches and greetings, will be the speaker. The origin of the late President H. H. Cherry, president and president of the college here until his death in 1927.

Heralding a new day of looking backward that we may more truly look forward to the future were the words of the late Dr. M. C. Park, head of the College Department of Science, in a Founder's Day program of speeches and greetings. In 1920 the board of directors of Western Kentucky Teachers College designated the 16th of November, the anniversary of the Founder's Day and directed that it be observed as Founder's Day and services each year thereafter. They sang the "Song of Light" and "Song of Victory" in the chapel with the group in a room of community and singing. The group then returned to the starting line and proceeded to the library for the Founder's Day program. The program included a brief address by Dr. Park and a reading of the "Song of Light" and "Song of Victory" in the chapel.

Two especially noteworthy programs were in 1927 and 1929. In 1927 Morehead and New Albany had a reading of the "Song of Light" and "Song of Victory" in the chapel at which time the bronze statue that

America's First Line Of Defense

Just as vital in the plan of American defense as planes, tanks and dreadnoughts today is education for American youth.

It was only twenty-two short years ago, next Monday, that man laid down his guns in a shattered, weeping world. The lessons he took up books again so that he might build on the ruins of the old, a greater, more lasting foundation.

Today in three of the world's five continents the situation has been reversed. But in the U.S., although preparations are going forward on record schedule, such is not the case.

The national lottery which took place last week called no college undergraduate to the colors nor will future drawings break into the scheme of any student who has yet to complete his pre-service training, unless the Western Hemisphere is actually invaded or occupied and comparable to our allies.

For that very reason a challenge and an opportunity unequaled -- by that very condition.

Mr. Herald Has An Inspiration

Mr. Herald blew in the office again the other day. We heard him come wheezing up the stairs and barely had time to slam paper weights down on all the copy before he hit the door in a cloud of smoke and inquisitive enthusiasm.

It seems he has been attending rehearsals for the Players' Fall show, OUTFIELD BOUND, the last few nights and he's had another one of those periodical inspirations that take him back to our past. Mr. Herald said he has never been able to understand why the Players go through six weeks of long and tedious preparation and then limit themselves to one night before an audience. He said he knew there probably weren't enough students interested in drama to make a good company play on the hill. But he pointed out that there were plenty of near-by colleges which put on a couple of theatrical exhibitions each year which, he felt, should be approached on the subject of exchanging plays.

Mr. Herald argued that with a pegible crew to do the work the fall play could perform at some neighboring campus and have the visit returned at such time as would be mutually convenient. Of if that didn't work out, he added, one could get even less expense the same agreement could be reached with the local Players Guild.

Mr. Herald said he knew that short of criminal to let such productions as OUR TOWN, AGH 26 and a great host of others be thrust into the realm of memory after only one performance on campus. And he said he was sure there must be many who agree with him and that he was going to sound out Mr. Stover.

And then, having had his say, Mr. Herald went wheezing and puffing back down the stairs again.

We Are Peculiar Breakers

Elsewhere in this issue under the heading "Instant Interviews" appears the result of a poll conducted by the Herald among Western undergraduates relative to the question of Thanksgiving holidays. Complete data on the poll is available and will be printed in full when cleaned up. But so here will be mentioned only the fact that 78% favored the 25th and 26th rather than the 23rd and 24th as students in general are in favor of the 25th in both poll and personal opinion.

The poll was confined to student opinion on one of the two propositions submitted for voting, which was in favor of students being excused from classes during the Thanksgiving, the argument being that, as the Herald has pointed out, the matter involves a selection of the the current students in the Thanksgiving holiday in preference to the 23rd and 24th.

The proposition, simply stated, is this: Why not observe one day, Thursday, in recognition of the proclamation of the President; governor, or the mayor as a holiday, report back to school Friday evening and have an additional day of vacation at Christmas?

The campus has been all set with rumors for more than six weeks now. Largely have been sung by the students, "when will it be over?"

Some said it was the work of the fifth columnists, others that students have been observed whispering furtively. But one thing is sure, we only have four columnists.

Others insisted that students have been observed whispering about the war and would soon pass away. One of the girls, for instance, is so well informed that she got panic-stricken, thinking it was the American invasion of the country.

A student in the philosophy class burst into tears of joy when the girl said, "I'm so glad!"

But the stringed instrument player of the orchestra only added, "You're not the only one!"

And the student in the art class, who is also an artist, only added, "I'm so glad!"

Chapel Program Are Announced

On Athletic Day at chapel Chieftain B. R. Chieftain of the Department will present the annual Athletic Program. This will be on Wednesday, Superintendst of Pub- ic Instruction John W. Brooks will make the chapel address and on the succeeding Friday the various classes will meet. The新鲜生 class will meet at Run Muter and the sophomore class at Beulah H. Newton ingle church, the junior class at Cedar House, and the senior class at the Little Theart.

The annual Founders Day program will be presented on Jenuary Monday, November 18, and the next Wednesday November 21, will be the celebration of a hoped for charity. Mr. Morgan will be held on Chapel November 22, in the form of a pay play.

President Paul L. Garrett presented one of his "Odda and Enda" talks, that he presents once or twice each semester. Wednesday, November 28. Due to the fact that the annual pictorialism "Homecoming" chapel was held the following Saturday, there was no chapel on the previous Friday.

Dr. A. M. Stickles presented an- other of his interesting analyses of the situation in Korea. Monday, November 4. The following Wednesday, November 6, the City presented some moving pictures in nat- ural colors of Korea. Today the "chapel-goes" are being shown the Kansas Gold in the orchestra and Mr. J. H. Reiter.

Miss U. T. Miller Is Phi Beta Kappa Pledge

Miss U. T. Miller, who was formerly in Western's Teacher Training school, received her Phi Beta Kappa medal, which is a standing honor, Miss Miller was one of the 39 students of the Kansas City High School who are pledged to Phi Beta Kappa.

Miss Miller like her profes- sional as a comics journalist, and as a editor of the "Kansas City" which has been in circulation for many important con- tent on the "Kansas City". The present war in Europe prevented Miss Miller from entering the schol- arship for social studies in France. This scholarship is given to an outstanding Kansas high school student.

Miss Miller later attended Western.

Social Studies Group Chooses Hill As Convention Site

At the fourth annual meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Council of Students, that was held at Harrodsbury. October 18. It was dis- cerned that the fifth annual convention of the Council would be held on the Hill next fall, with Western and the Bowling Green Junior High school acting as joint host.

The annual meeting of the Mrs. Mary T. Moore, librarian of the Library of the Kentucky Building, was presiding. Mrs. Moore represents the Eastern Kentucky College of Students. The Hill is represented by Dr. D. D. Sonnichsen, Dr. Mary C. Cyrus, Miss Emett J. Egbert, and Miss Francis Anderson. Miss Gladys Shaver and Miss Ethel Hulsford, of Bowling Green, attended the meeting.

Mr. Leo Achilles, a Western graduate, is teaching at Rich Pond. Mr. W. A. Retter in Western normal, who is teaching at Bowling Green. Mr. Retter is a member, respectively, president and vice president of the council for the coming year.

"MR. ADVERTISER!

Figure 1 is an advertisement that the college students of Bowling Green spend more than one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) a year in Bowling Green. If you are merchandising products that you would like your students to be aware of your business. The ad says that "I pay to advertise" was never more true. However there is something more to it than just advertising—there is the important question of whether or not the advertising message is one which you pay for in a way that you are in a position to read. The College Heights Herald has just been reorganized and is now in a better position than ever before to serve you well. Our reorganized plan calls for the Herald to be published every other Friday morning on an exact schedule. It will have a guaranteed minimum circulation of four thousand (4000) copies. It will be delivered by carrier to every student and to hundreds of students in Bowling Green. It will be mailed to all of the members of the Alumni association, and to hundreds of students in Bowling Green. It will be filled with timely news and will be as clean as a pin in makeup.

We solicit your advertising because the Herald must have advertising in order to sustain itself, but more than that we solicit your advertising because we are in a position to give you an advertising medium that is in a direct contact with a million-dollar market and an advertising medium which, we guarantee, will get results.

Carnegie Library Has 1000 Records

The Carnegie Library of Record, music which was established on the third floor of the new music hall last spring, now contains more than 1,000 records which are at the disposal of Western students. Also in- cluded in the library equipment are their art eddy phonograph, speaker cranes, index file, books on musical subjects and magazines.

The records include 34 complete symphonies, seven entire operas, 23 string concertos, 20 suites, more than 100 choral works, 14 hand recordings, 18 chamber-music com- positions, 20 organ selections, or- gan music, and several selections of antique music.

To the set are 145 minutes scores, four vocal scores and a "Dic- tionary of Music and Musicians."

The purpose of the Carnegie Music set is to inspire and influe- nce the music-minded through the phonograph recordings and to de- velop an appreciation for fine music. Western was fortunate in receiving one of the libraries which are back- ed by ten years of selected research. All students are invited to come and hear their favorite selections.

Leo Elrod who has made an outstanding record as a natural teacher, recently resigned to accept the assistant professorship at Oberlin College.}

Western Has Well Qualified Military Head
The professor of Military Science and Tactics, Learned T. C. Chafft, who was recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the United States Army, was among those well qualified to direct Western's outgoing leaders to the Commanding General of the Training Corps.

The largest graduating class in the history of Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1917, he was appointed to the rank of First Lieutenant in the regular army and ordered to the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, in 1918. Here he commanded the 53d Company of the United States Military Academy Training Corps until June, 1919. At this time he was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant and transferred to the Reserve Medical Gun Company in the Thirteenth Infantry Regiment. In 1920 he was ordered to report to Capt. June, 1919, and placed in command of the reserve Third Infantry Regiment, the following of the Thirteenth Infantry Regiment.

After the armistice he was stationed at Camp Walker, New York, and then moved to Camp Devens, Massachusetts, where he served from 1921. From there he transferred to Panama and served three years with the Thirty-third Infantry, commanding Company B and Company D, and acting as post adjutant.

In 1928 he was appointed to the United States Army and commanded Company F in the Panama Canal Zone. As a result of this service, he was promoted to the rank of major, in 1928. Later he was stationed in San Francisco, California, commanding Company B of the Thirteenth Infantry Regiment, at Camp Libby, Idaho, and acting as post adjutant.

He was ordered to H.O.T.C. duty for two years in 1932, and was stationed at the United States Military Academy, where he remained until retirement in 1947. In 1936, he was appointed to the rank of major, and was stationed in the Philippines Islands, serving there until March 1939, when he returned to the United States and was assigned to the Bureau of Instruction and Cadets at Adjutant General's Office.

He returned to the United States and to H.O.T.C. duty in June, 1939. He is now stationed in the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, 1940-41, but due to the war situation, these orders were cancelled.

Gradiuates Fail To Agree On What Draws Them Back
Why Do Western Alumni And Ex-Westerners Come Back For Homecoming? The answer is probably not to be determned, however, by the fact that actual reasons that visitors gave for returning to the fall festivities. In general, alumni are more likely to have been graduated a few years ago than are the students of today, and have more than just a vague idea of what has been happening to them.

"I am one of the older graduates of Western and it certainly does make me want to come back here and feel the old school spirit again. I still feel I can live with my white shoe while here."

"I've always been a fan of the school. I'm just getting old, but I'll tell you, there are a lot of clever things that have been going on in the school this year."

The big feature of the program was a concert composed of "The Student" and "Red" McCracken for the old grads. The next event on the program was the band concert, which consisted of "On a Deserted Beach" and "On a Beach," according to each member with number following by 10s. During the closing minutes of chapel several former graduates gave short speeches from the floor.

Throughout the day a number of clubs and other organizations held their own events to match. Miss Clausen presided at the French, German, and Drama clubs. The Craft Club included arrangements planned for a meeting at H. R. D. and the French Club held short talks from the floor. The German Club under the foreign language, and A. M. Brinker's leadership, handed a book of "Moore's" Moore: former members of the German staff met with N. B. Adelstein, at the French Club.

The big feature of the program was the appearance of Miss Clausen, who was observed at the dormitories and the student union. Miss Clausen finished off with a shadow of the "Tiger."
Prize Flowers Of Dr. Smith Win Gold Star Award

Dr. Jeff Smith, 584 Normal Road, whose backyard is growing chrysanthemums of the large Hardy variety, has been awarded the gold star by the Bowling Green Garden Club, not for any one specimen of his eastern varieties, but for a horticultural development of many specimens. Besides receiving this honor, never before given, his chrysanthemums have received many ribbons.

Although these flowers have been grown and developed by Dr. Smith's family for twenty years, not until about five years ago did he bring them here to his yard. This year over one thousand hills produced approximately ten thousand blossoms. These many pictures and many still pictures in color have been made of this spectacular array of brilliantly colored blossoms.

Approximately eighteen hundred people have visited the garden in the past five weeks, 700 from Bowling Green and 500 from Louisville, 200 from Bowling Green, 100 from local flower lovers, visitors in the neighborhood and 400 from the Garden Club, Women's Clubs, the Bowling Green Garden Club, Western Kentucky University, the Bowling Green Area Garden Club and the Western Kentucky University chapter of the Horticultural Society.

Western Boy’s Club has Curriculum Laboratory

A curriculum laboratory has been established in the Training School, in order to keep up with the development of school curriculum. It is a vital teaching aid, and it is directed toward developing professional teachers. The Laboratory, which was inaugurated in the Training School this fall. It has been organized as a laboratory for the purpose of observing and understanding the educational needs of the students and the teachers. The Laboratory is also designed to make observations on the new methods and materials which are being used in the various schools.

Sixteen Western Students Attend Convention

Sixteen Western students attended the Third Annual Regional High School Students Union Convention which was held at Western Kentucky University. This convention is a Joint Junior Colleges as host, October 16-18. Seventeen Kentucky and Indiana high schools were represented at this meeting by approximately 600 students.

Those attending from Western Kentucky are: Glenna Drayton, June Dunham, Alberta Wells, Barb Graves, Doris Hines, Salome Hines, Bob Hulston, Burlin Willard and Daniel Eister. Four students from the Bowling Green University and C.C. Stovall accompanied the delegation.

Sam Bragg, who represented Western Kentucky, was elected chairman of the state convention. His choice received the unanimous approval of the state D.S. P. publication.

Mrs. Mary Moore, Kentucky's local editor for the Louisville Courier journal, was impressed with the Bowling Green Kiwanis Club.

Two Hilltoppers Entered In Race

Cross country, a minor sporting event of the fall season, is now well under way. This sport which was introduced at Western three years ago started out to be what once looked like an unusual good year. Out of six contestants there still remain two who will represent Western in the annual cross-country meet at Louisville. These two are Robert, junior, and Edward, senior, Both of the University. Edmaston, Ohio, and University. Edmaston finished seventh out of a field of 10 at last year's meet and are considered one of the best prospects Western has ever had. The annual invitational meet is to be held in Shaker Park, Louisville, Oct. 19. The game which starts at 10:15 a.m. and is expected to finish around 11:45 a.m.

Dear Reader

New Slogan

"Give the readers what they like," appears to be the basis of Chesterfield Cigarettes' newest advertising series, appearing in newspapers throughout America beginning this week. Personal and colorful events carry out the plan, a series of twelve full-page ads, with an audience of over four million smokers in the nation.

There are many who will wish to address the public in their next week's copy, but such an address is not in the nature of the case. The request is made in the hope of helping those who are unable to attend the meeting, and who wish to express their appreciation of the public's support.

dean C. Grise was among the new college nominees for the commission on colleges and universities elected for the three years at the seven-growth annual Kentucky Educational Conference held at Lexington, October 22 and 26. Other nominees included President E. B. Patterson, Bethel College, Hopkinsville; President R. C. B. Howard, University of Kentucky, Lexington; and Dean F. H. Heston, Asbury College.

Dean T. A. Hendricks of Berea College was elected president of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He was chosen to succeed Dr. James L. South, president of Berea College, Williamsburg.

dean R. P. Ford, of the University of Kentucky, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Other officers chosen included W. S. Milburn, principal of Lafayette Male High School, vice-president; Charles Henry, Maysville school superintendent, and J. W. Boyles, Owensboro High school principal, executive commit-tee men for a two year period.

Dean Charles W. Wimmer of Union College and Dean A. A. Beatty of Transylvania have been elected chairman and secretary, respectively.

The new officers will be installed on college and universities.

In a special football release, Mr. Vincent has selected a group of singers from the college chorus who have been at work on the song for the last three months. The select group of members will represent Western in the season's events and will also represent the chorus, as the support of the school administration. You will be proud to claim any of Mr. Vincent's organizations as a part of your school.

Several of the students' organizations have already made plans for the season's events.

Janet Rhea, a student of the music department, was guest speaker at a patriotic celebration held Wed- nesday, October 22, at Mount Pleasant. Miss Rhea played four violin numbers.

Nelle Oocho Travelled was host-ess to a number of her music stude- nts at an outdoor supper held re- cently to pipe the season. The evening's entertainment consisted of looking at an open book performance, building, and outdoor games.

The first of a series of student recitals was given Thursday after- noon, October 24 to the choral room of the music building. These re- citals are given by students in the music department. All recitals are free and the performing artists will appreciate the presence of anyone who enjoys good music.

If any of you have time, attend these recitals. Any artist performs better before a large audience. So come and support our local talent at the same time you are supporting your local school bands in Cherry Hall and the other bands.

Middle Tennessee Melts In Last Half As Western Wins

In a game dominated by strong defensive play on both sides, the "Toppers annexed their fourth win of the season against the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee Teachers College by 12 to 0 on Saturday, October 31, before the smallest crowd of the year in the Municipal Stadium. The offense of both teams was sluggish because of the mid-season heat. The first two periods were consumed in a punting duel with the ball changing hands almost every other play. Times were taken every few minutes to allow the players a rest from the incubating heat. Only three first downs were made before the intermission, two by Western and one by Middle Tennessee on a 15-yard run off tackle by Bill McCurry. Dick Dickens, the Harlan County bugler of the "Topper attack as Tom Zoretic seemed to be savaging the line of scrimmage.

Midway in the third quarter, Western got its first break of the game when Sandy Sanders blocked an attempted punt by Tom Byrd recovered on the MTSU 20. In the fourth quarter, Western scored on a 15-yard pass to. . . .

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By Dr. Perker

Appearing for the first time on Western's roster—schedule next Saturday will be the Governors of Austin-Peay Normal School at Clarksville, Tennessee. Up until this year Austin-Peay was only a two-year school and they made a regular appearance on the Fresh slate in both football and basketball, but going last year to the Western yearnings I'd in Florida, but bringing them twice in basketball 29-22 and 40-38. This year, however, the curriculum has been enlarged and consequently, the football team will receive the full attention of our varsity squad next week.

It is with deep regret that we glance over the record of the Governors for so far this year. The first five games were all defeats administered by such teams as Milligan College, Memphis Teachers, Union U., Middle Tennessee Teachers, and the Nashville Air Base at Pensacola, Florida. This Naval Air Base team in the same one that could beat air Fresh only 21-7 last year. In the sixth game, however, the Tennessee break into the win column with a crushing 10-0 victory. Against whom? The U. of Tennessee Junior College at Martin, Tennessee. Last Saturday the Governors gained another other stronghold. This time over the Junior College by a score of 27-7, so it looks as if the Tennesseans are improving. Let's hope so. It'll be a shame to waste one of the Hilltoppers few home games on a team that the Fresh took into camp only last season.

Bandy Sanders, Port sports editor of the Austin-Peay All-State. "We are planning to bring one or possibly two big bands of students to the Governors-Hilltoppers game. There is also a good chance that our neighborhood club will accompany the band. Apparently the school is not lacking for players and the ability of its football team.

Sports Highlights

Michigan: Minnesota. It's Tommy Harmon against George Kropf and I'll take Harmon. Michigan is quite a team. Fordham has one of the strongest teams in the East.

3. Fisk vs. Carnegie Tech. Fisk is No. 1 in the South and Carnegie Tech is No. 1 in the East. It's something good for both sides. 4. Nebraska over Oklahoma. Cornhuskers are on their way to the championship.

3. Auburn over Clemson, Auburn is the No. 1 in the South, while Clemson is the No. 2. 4. Alabama over Tulsa. Alabama will be tough, but this will be good preparation for the Big Ten and the Big Eastern.

3. Georgia Tech over Kentucky. Good game with both teams good.

3. Slipping over Washington. Washington is going to try to stop the Rose Bowl and should remain unscathed.

3. Texas A. M. or S. M. U. or both. Not much mentioned in the Big Ten, but the Aggies have a chance.

Reflections From Western's

Question of the week: How many of you can name famous bandsmen underdressed at center? If Coach Clinkscales keeps on leading the band, perhaps his basketball boys will put on a show dressed like this winter. The press box was his own last week during the prose of Jimmy Jones, ace Courtier, when he was in charge of the Bisons. Jones went from the coaching booth and asked me, "Bill, who are you?" The band was playing "Front Men" and Jones headed for the press box.

Ghosts of Sadie Hawkins! Horrid Sight Is Unfolded

The football fans at Western's homecoming game Saturday witnessed a rare treat in the form of a visit from Sadie Hawkins, the college's leading actress and sorority leader. Her appearance created a stir among the students, and her dancing and singing performances were met with cheers from the crowd.

Sadie Hawkins, clad in her usual sorority attire, walked onto the field, greeted the students, and began her performance. Her voice resonated throughout the stadium, and her movements were graceful and elegant. The audience was captivated by her charm and beauty, and many took pictures and videos to capture the moment.

Sadie Hawkins' performance was a highlight of the homecoming game, and it was clear that she had prepared well for the occasion. Her presence added a touch of excitement to the event, and it was a fitting tribute to the spirit of Western University.

Herald Reporter Pulls Scope of Ages: There Is No South

The majority of the people in these United States shrug their shoulders in response to the question, "What is the South?" It is a question that has been asked countless times, and one that has no easy answer.

The region known as the South is often considered to be a place of tradition and culture, with a rich history and a unique way of life. However, the definition of the South has evolved over time, and it is not as simple to identify as one might think.

In recent years, there has been much discussion about the role of the South in American politics and culture. Some argue that the South is still a distinct region, while others believe that it is more integrated into the national fabric.

Regardless of the definition of the South, it is clear that the region plays an important role in American society. The region's history, culture, and politics continue to shape the nation, and its influence is felt throughout the country.

Gleanings

By Waldo, Westerner

The Harvard College mascot, Deepwater, Arkansas, says: "Our friends see the West as a hole, and the East as a hole, and we feel the same way about the South."

Despite their differences, the Harvard and Western football teams have a long-standing rivalry, and the annual game between the two schools is always highly anticipated. This year, the game was held at Western University, and the Westerners were able to claim the victory.

Western's players were elated with their win, and the team celebrated with a victory dance on the field. The crowd was jubilant, and the atmosphere was electric.

Overall, it was a great day for Western University, and the team's victory was a fitting end to a memorable season. The future looks bright for the Westerners, and they are excited to see what the next year will bring.
