Vance Elected Fresh President

George Page, freshman sponsor, presided at his class meeting Friday morning until the election of freshman president was completed. The candidates for president were presented and then voted on. "Buster" Vance, Glasgow Ky., was elected by an overwhelming majority to serve as leader of the freshmen for 1940-41.

President Jimmy Spalding called the sophomore class to order, Friday afternoon.Xen "Boody" Jack, made an informal address. Bob Stubblefield, who entertained the class with several comic skits and guitar accordian duets. "Boody" Jack outlined the plan of the Friday afternoon session, which was to have class discussion on the various college departments and a tour of the library. Spalding ended his talk by laying the golden flannel shirt, the formal sophomore dance o魔鬼, on the long table in the Student Center.

It was announced that by unanimous vote, the football team would meet at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, and the tennis team would play on Sunday.

The exhibition opened Thursday afternoon with an address to the guests. It included the presidents of all classes, and the following freshmen officials: representatives of the Board of Regents, president of the Bowling Green Business University, president of the Freshman Class, president of the Sophomore Class, president of the Junior Class, and several articles of the Bowling Green and Alderson. The exhibit was open from Monday until Saturday at 3:00 p.m. Each of the athletics teams, and the ten departments of fine arts at Seneca, presented a fine work of the hand and the eye.

Mr. Wilson, University of Alabama, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Minnesota, furnished the presents of painting.

Toppers Roll For Murray This Morning

"The Western Hilltoppers, 21 strong, are leaving for Mayfield this morning where they will apply the finishing touches to their participants for the tenth annual revival of their gridiron warfare with the Murray University Hilltoppers. The Hilltoppers will arrive at Mayfield, Ky., on the day school begins there, and the game will and will be played on the campus of the University of Mayfield. The game will be played on the lawn in the middle of the Hilltoppers. The whole school will be in a whirl. Beginning with the opening of the school, the students will spend most of their time working on the Hilltoppers. When the Hilltoppers arrive on Mayfield and will continue to work on the Hilltoppers. The team will be there for about five minutes. Of the two, only two members of the Hilltoppers, one of whom is the address of Miss Mary Browning, President of the Nursing School of the University of Alabama, and the other of the University of Alabama.

The Hilltoppers were met by Miss Mary Browning and resulted in the Hilltoppers being elected to the leadership of the Hilltoppers.

The alumni are held by Mr. Browning. He led a group of Hilltoppers to the Hilltoppers' house in a whirl.

HILLTOPS

Jay Le Ganier

It was a raw, rainy day November 13th. Over most of the country, dark, lowering clouds hung and a steady, unceasing rain fell. A mist of rain replaced the cold chill of winter. The sun was a memory, and so was the promise of pleasant weather. The rain and the mist made the world look gloomy.

But the weather that morning was not the only thing that affected the mood of the people. There was a peculiar atmosphere in the air. Something was happening in the town, something that would change the lives of the people for a long time to come.

It began in the morning, when the sun rose over the houses and the streets. The people went about their business, unaware of the importance of the day. But as the day wore on, they began to realize that something was going to happen.

The town was lively. People were out and about, talking and laughing. The streets were crowded with people, all going about their business. But there was a different quality to the atmosphere. The people seemed to be on edge, as if they were waiting for something to happen.

And then, at noon, it happened. The news spread like wildfire through the town. The people were stunned, unable to believe the news.

It was a double whammy. The school was closed, and the town was under fire. The people were shocked, and they didn't know what to do.

But the school was not the only thing that was closed. The town was also under fire. The people were scared, and they didn't know what to do.

The town was in a state of shock. The people were scared, and they didn't know what to do.

But the town was not the only thing that was affected. The school was also in a state of shock. The people were scared, and they didn't know what to do.

And so it went, day after day. The people were afraid, and they didn't know what to do.

But the people didn't give up. They stood together, and they fought. They fought to get through the day, and they fought to get through the night.

And eventually, they won. The school was reopened, and the town was safe. The people were happy, and they were proud.

And so it went, day after day. The people were happy, and they were proud.

Just A Reminder

Western fans who journey to Murray tomorrow to cheer the Hilltoppers will add to, or take away from the color of a great gridiron assembly that has been so much an asset to the athletic programs of both colleges.

Whether Western wins or loses, the real test put upon the shoulders of Western fans, will be that of good sportsmanship. A good winner is a gracious winner. A good loser is one who can "take it." There can be but one winner on the field, but the followers of both schools can win by seeing to it that no black mark of bad sportsmanship mars the day.
Tomorrow’s Game To Be Aired

Western will go on the air tomorrow for the first time in radio history when radio station WABD (1380) with Kelly Thompson at the microphone, carry a play-by-play account of the upcoming game with Blue Creek, Oct. 1.

The present season marked the first time that a football game for the entire KU territory was carried on the air. The game has been played by-play telephone account only in its earlier games when carried over the public address systems of KU, and there has been no real broad cast of events.

Mr. Thompson and Ted Horneback, announcer coach who will handle the mike during the half, are leaving this week for Blue Creek.

As we go to press no announce ment has been forthcoming rela tive to a central meeting place where all students who are not going to the game may bear the account. However, enough interest is evi denced a radio will be placed in Van Meter.

Requested. Today a pep rally was held making ready for an invasion of the Murray football camp.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, John W. Brooker, addressed the student body and faculty at campus. November 13. He discussed the passage of an amendment to the state constitu tion that would permit the establishment of the Department of Education to create and aid in the advancement of schools that are financially stricken and also under special state system to national defense.

Superintendent Brooker reminded the students that the amendment would die under the votes of the state legislature. He urged each student to support the same in their various grades of influence throughout the state because passage would provide the mini mum essentials for all students.

Hands With A Pig Tracking To A Pig Skinned

By James Harrold

This is the sad story told to me by the soul of a pig.

My name was Piggy Pig, but Mama called me Pig for short. I must have been a beautiful baby, because I was the plumber, rompster little pig you ever saw. I had a fat little tummy and a long, red, coarse nose and a beautiful furry tail with three twists in it. I lived with my Mama and seven brothers and sisters in a little red house near a delightfully big mud-hole.

I was a lazy little piggie at times. Mama often tried to get me to exercise for my health, but I would just lay down in the soft mud and grunt a contented grunt and go to sleep. Mama loved me too much to punish me, and besides we was too fat, so she would just sigh and say, "Pigs is pigs."

One hot summer afternoon I was lying in the mud-hole, dreaming of big ears of corn. Suddenly I was wakening in the air with all of my weight supported by my tail and I felt something awful, and a MAN was holding me. I cried and cried, but the man just laughed. Then he took me away, and I never saw my Mama again. The man told me to a place where there were hundreds of other pigs, and I was scared to death. And soon I was dead.

The farmer men took my skin and they, worked on it for long times. They cut me up into pieces, and I never will forget the time I lived as a young piggie.

majoring in phy. ed. with minors in biology and economics. John Bailey Cooper, 23 year old who has made his mark in the state University of Louisville, has always been active in Village politics. Last year he was city and this year he holds the prestigious post of mayor. Eldred "Bamby" Sanders, the best ever at the place one of the best in the entire United States, is the new mayor. As a matter of fact, he was elected by his own class. In fact, he was elected by his own class. In fact, he was elected by his own class.

Mr. Lonier Honored

Mrs. Raymond Londer, formerly Virginia Bingleman of this city who received a B. S. degree from Western in 1937 and a B. S. in 1939, has been the distinctive honor of being the first girl to be accepted for the University Hospital. In 1939, she married Mr. Londer, who also attended Western.

Tommy Barron, a back from Mortonsville, Ky., is the only man on the team who has really felt the effects of the Cupid's sugar coat. Despite his flying attack on the middle distance last night, however, after knowing his wife, we feel sure that he was not thrown for a base, but made a great gain instead. Your correspondent feels sure that the young old industrial arts major will be an asset to the team.

Tom Byrd is that bird that you could trap with a net in his attic in the tough streets of his native town. Tom Byrd is a man in a sour mood. Neither did we feel good. Although Margarette Londer, who was a star on the Eastern University basketball team, should be an asset to the team.

Western expresses her thanks to the players of the past, who have helped beside her in gridiron games.

American flags were presented to each of the 41 white and Negro schools of Meade County.

Herman McCord, of Grayson, superintend-ent of Grayson county schools, was elected president of the Eastern Kentucky teachers' association.

The Louisville Board of Education recently received a petition asking that a salary schedule free of all salary discrimination be established in the Louisville public schools.

John Boles, editor of the Western Union, was elected president of the Southern Inter- scholastic Press Association.

A federal emergency measure is to provide vocational training for men from 17 to 25 years old was recently adopted by the Jefferson County Board of Education, which approves construction of a building to house the project at Jeffersonville high school.

David Hines Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Knight, Okolona, won a loving cup at the international art exhibit at the Brown hotel last month. The Western club of Louisville and Jefferson county elected Irvin Carroll resident and Martha Ford secretary-treasurer at its last meeting. Bob Lowman, agent of the Prudential Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, of 1259 South Fourth street, Louisi- ville, was elected secretary of the club. The members of this club pull for Western grads who are in high school for small boys. It is hoped that all Western grads living in the Louisville area and within a traveling distance will get together in the future.

This cup has been won for permanent possession. The Chicago News of Murray won the first cup last year at Eastern.

Radio Unit Has Projects

The Radio Unit of the National Youth Administration Resident Project, consisting of twenty boys under Mr. Dennis Higgins, began classwork and work program this month. The radio shop will be located, temporarily, in room 108 in the Physical Education Building. This work unit was recommended by the National Defense Education Commission as a part of the Resident Project housed in the building formerly known as the Maple Hall.

The boys will study code and radio theory and also spend four hours per day in production work. The production work will begin as soon as tools and supplies are received. Jobs are already available to keep the unit busy for several months. Among them are the assembling and installation of an inter-office communication system for the State NYA offices and work for the city of Louisville.

The NYA State office is located at the corner of Main and Third streets in Louisville. The inter-office communication system will make a consideration between offices possible.

The boys to be used for the city of Louisville will be assembling and installing this remote control unit, and another of the same type is to be located in the fourth district office, but from remote control it will make possible the operation of the transmitter from the City Hall.

THE COLLEGE HEIGHTS HERALD

Student Symposium by Kaye Barlow

The poll this week centered around student opinion on a baccalaureate course for Western.

The following statement was made to 100 students: Are you in favor of a student-supported co-operative enterprise, which would involve a baccalaureate course? This would include a negligible fee for this opportunity to be housed by nationally recognized performers.

Of the 100, 71 favored the plan with no reservations. 21 were opposed or refused to comment definitively, and 8 said they would be in favor of the course if the student could choose those who would appear.

Last summer for the first time in several years a course was held and was well attended. This fall, according to the college papers coming to the Herald office, the plan is being tried in many schools for the first time. The present world situation has undoubtedly influenced the attempts. Following is the comment of five students chosen at random on the subject.

Loring Browning, English, 1st year, in favor of such a program because it would mean greater self-reliance while programs for far less than that.

Bennett Major, 4th, I am in favor of the baccalaureate course. It should provide more and better entertainment for the student body and if the students themselves are responsible entertainment, the students should be responsible entertainment. The students will later have this experience and be better and more inspiring performers.

James Cahlin, 4th, history, I am in favor of such a program because it would be educational as well as good entertainment.

George Miller, 4th, math, I am in favor of such a program because it would bring trained artists here who would provide entertainment, but also have a chance to see the world. Northern Ky. Alumni Elect Officers

The Western Alumni of North Kentucky hosted the second luncheon at Salem Methodist church in Newport on Wednesday, September 26.

New officers elected included: President, Paul Smith; Vice President, Mrs. Fred Burman; Secretary, Mrs. Russel Darby; Treasurer, Mrs. Duffie Lipscomb; Librarian, Miss Mary McIntosh; Historian, Miss Gladys Conley. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and the minutes of the previous meeting were adopted. Miss Frances Anderson, club sponsor, attended the luncheon as Western representative.

(Cardinals Prospects Termed Fair)

Although the College Heights Cardinal, with a 27-1 win over Adairville, moved to 4-0 in the conference, Coach Frank Lawley says it is too soon to call it a new improvement to be as good as the previous year. However, the two seniors, David Gilmore and Ben Cecere, are much improved and with Jack McLeene and Dick Neff, could be a team that may have possibilities.

Others reporting for daily practice are Charles Carter, Ralph Smith, Jim Mccord, Jake Starkey, Jimmy Tipomiller, Tom Garrett, Tommy Jenkins, Wallace Bart, Ray Laymon, Tom Uhl, and Elke Cline.

Twenty-two days, 12little being with Southern Kentucky Conference foes, and a conference interruption to be held Saturday, January 31 and February 7 at Indiana, the Cardinal in 1940 schedule.

Founder's Day is Observed

In the history of the University, there is a shaded shadow of a man. Dr. Cherry lowered all and shed a light the last 20 years, giving the University a new and different era.

Murray Faols Fail To Fold
As Frosh Lose in 18-6

Western's Baby Hilltoppers bowed to Murray's Freshmen last Friday afternoon, 18-6, as a cold, freezing wind whipped the handful of spectators who braved the cold to watch the tussle. Although the game was a slow affair frequented by numerous handling errors and lasted one hour and 50 minutes, the Western playing field was hard and played into the Hilltoppers' favor.

The Thriftdomers opened the game in the initial quarter on a pass from Shawne to White who galloped twenty-five yards for the marker, but Western came back in the third stanza to tie the score 6-6. Joe Rocker went over from the five yard line after Joe Hudson had almost single-handedly brought the ball out past mid-field.

Murray's second score came in the third quarter when Shawne, again doing the passing, whipped the ball to Russell who took it on the fifteen yard stage and raced the remaining distance.

If the fourth quarter Rocker attempted a pass from his end zone but Lipson intercepted for Murray and returned it to the Hilltopper seven. Two plays later Lipson went over from the five.

No extra points were made as Nickolas missed the uprights three times for Murray and Lewis failed once for Western.

The outstanding feature of the game was the play of Joe Collins, Western fullback, who is being hailed by some as one of the best freshman backs ever to perform on the Western Field. flasken and Lipson turned in good work for the Thriftdomers.

Topper Hardwooders Get New Uniforms
The Western basketball team, which ranks as one of the finest in the South, will be outfitted in new uniforms this season, to match their prowess on the floor. With points of white shiny nails and swell trimmings, the new outfits include these sets of jerseys.

There will be a set of new white jerseys and also scarlet jerseys, along with the reliable gray ones which were worn by the squad last season. This should make our Hilltoppers rank as one of the best dressed teams in the entire South.

Toppers topple Austin Peay in Despite Fumbles
Although they displayed a surprising strong defense, in the first half, the Governors of Austin Peay were no match for the Hilltoppers last Saturday and went down in defeat 34-6 in the game played in the Western Stadium. The cold kept the attendance down even with the presence of a loyal group of Austin Peay fans who traveled up from Clarksville, Tennessee, for the game.

The heralded Hilltopper offense had troubles getting under way in the first half in spite of long runs by Dick Coates and Duke Dallas shortly after the opening kickoff.

The score at intermission was thanks to a short plunge through the center of the line by Duane Johnny Taylor booted the extra point.

In the second quarter an epidemic of fumbling hit the Topper back. Four times the ball squirmed out of the grip of the grip and four times a Governor had snatched in his arms what seemed to be an easy interception. However, the Tennesseans could not make it pay.

In the second half an especially superb passing of Allen Harvey, the scoring Mr. Smart, was the vital point. Seconds after the half started Harvey crossed the goal and Johnny Taylor's third fourth field goal was made. Before the third quarter ended, Pete Marzitto added an extra point from the thirty and he put it to the Austin Governor's throat. The game, in its entirety, was a disastrous experience for the Governor. They were no kind of a team. Western high score, did not enter the contest and the Governor seemed to have a head injury received at Morehead.

The game was before Harvey's punting, the Governors proved themselves capable of game in the defensive play of the Red Line. Dick Dilany played a splendid game for the Boys, with Burt, Max Henry, and Hunter Bowles showing a fine understanding with the ball throw. Western high score, did not enter the contest and the Governor seemed to have a head injury received at Morehead.

Three Western Grads Complete Training
Three Western graduates were among those who recently completed training at Fort Benning, Georgia, in the first officers' class since World War I. The three are Abbie Collet, of Winchester, B.S. 1939; Harold Peake, B.S. 1939; and John Conner, B.A. 1940.

Another Western graduate was now training in Fort Benning as a private under Gen. Joe Pettit, Taylor Payne, Page Brown, Roy Bell and Gilbert Holtbrook.

N Y A Group Hold Assembly Monday
The resident project held a symposium at which time reports were made by delegates attending the State Youth Conference at Louisville.

Mr. ller, who attended Western from 1892 to 1895, has been connected with the national office of the American Federation of Government Employees for the past several years. He went from Belleview, where he had been a boy, to the national office as chief of the organization department and has gained a large number of A.F.O. Leder, including the U. S. Bureau unit at Philadelphia, the Port Knox shop, the District of Columbia repair shop, the Ellis Island Lodge, for which he recently completed an important adjustment job, and numerous Internal Revenue jobs.

Mr. ller is one of the few persons to have visited Alaska, being a representative of an employee's organization, and as a result advised each of the guards there are now enrolled in the A.F. O.E. During his work with the A. F. O. E. he gained prominence in the labor movement where he was a whole-making addresses before several state federations, notably those of Connecticut and Massachusetts, and building up an acquaintance among labor leaders in all parts of the country.

Few men of comparable age have traveled as extensively in the interest of organized labor as we have come as widely known in the movement as has Mr. ller.

Hymes' Orchestra
To Renew 'Feud' Tomorrow Night

Western will move into Murray Saturday with no history with which to attack, but three Pur and three Wills in the last five years. Western's dance orchestra will renew the last-meets-the-new with Billy Beelson and his Murray 'Cocoonets'.

The dance, now a Western-Murray tradition, is to be held at the Murray gymnasium Saturday night, following the football game.

Roy Hymes has been priming his boys with all the danceable ex- cerpts that he has learned to master during fifteen years of dance work and he has learned that Billy Beelson and the "Cocoonets" have "Working Late" to pull their gun too. This preparation, plus the fact that last year's battle in the Bowling Green gym was a close one, brings壓sumption of dance-wars, should the two teams meet at Murray, the night of November 15th, at the last meeting of the season.

The bands will be set-side-by-side at the center of the playing field and all others will be alternates by number, one band playing for their team until the other.

From the talk that has been going around the Murray gym, if the Bill Hymes bands and the Western band, or a crowd of Westerners are playing for both sides, the concert will be a collision of the bat.
Ogden Observes "Spring Cleaning; Curiosities Found

Ogden Hall observed "spring cleaning" last week! It was really fall cleaning out of the basement, which had been cluttered with old bits of debris. Dr. E. Y. Lancaster and Dr. W. H. Grieshow undertook the task with unusual vigor. The catacombs below the main floor were used mostly for storage and as sites for experimental work. Dr. Grieshow explained that among their "finds," an old bell used to call the young gentlemen of old Ogden College to their respective classes. Old Ward Sampuler explained that every today, the bell is removed to a downtown hotel, the first week after Christmas, to summon the "boys" for their annual banquet and get-together.

Old "cuts" and prints were found which used to grace the precious that ground out the Ogden annual. These gentlemen were their customary bashful suitors and "handicapped mus- terers." They did prefer their ade- lorns long and their clothing very conservative. In my estimation, Potter (radical in male language) and Ogden were ideally lo- cated. I am quite sure that our parents remember one or two budding "romance" episodes that had its origin here. Many of us at Western are unaware of the usual and cul- tural background that we have in- herited from these splendid schools. This type of society is in today's day, but old Ogden boys in this section who are acclimated in the things of men and women on our beautiful campus.

Ogden College existed for a little over 50 years. Among the institu- tion's favorite graduates are Ad- miral Claude C. Bloch, one time
