Dusty Miller Scheduled For Chapel Address Wednesday

Dusty Miller, nationally known humorist who has probably filled more rainy day gibbers and groans of a speaker in the mid-west, is scheduled to deliver an address in Van Meter Hall at 11 a.m. today, under the direction of Mr. Charles Mason, of the music department. This is the first recital of its kind to be given in this program.

A program of the finest examples of original vocal recital will be given Tuesday in the music department, according to an announcement by Mr. Charles Mason, of the music department. The program will include selections from the works of Italian, French, German and Russian composers. Many of the songs will be sung in the English translation of the original texts, which will be explained briefly before each group.

Five original student groups are appearing in this recital. Desiree Barlow and Jean Keith, both seniors, whose singing is known to many students, will both sing songs of music of their own choosing, coming from the Russian and German composers. Elizabeth McElhenny, daughter of Professor H. Y. McElhenny, and a Western graduate, will sing arias from Rossini and Handel, accompanied by her and a group of songs by Franz Schubert, Marilyn Johnson, sophomore, will sing a group of Italian airs from the early operas of the seventeenth century, which will be sung in the original language and be sung in the English translation. The program will be started according to the original texts, which will be explained briefly before each group.

Several members of the Western faculty will also appear. They are Dusty Miller, a former graduate who has heard Dusty Miller on previous occasions, and who will be in town here will be his first appearance on the Western campus. We have heard him speak many times and find that Dusty Miller is funny, cheerful, clean, and original. We are sure you will find the beginning of his recital to be one of the highlights of the present semester.

Religious Survey Reveals Student Thoughts, Trends

Western has cooperated with the various churches in town in cooperation with Dr. A. M. Stickles, who has been a member of the university faculty for thirty years.

Information blanks were given to every student in the fall, asking the student body on which questions they were most interested in discussing with the church members and to whom they were most interested in discussing with the church members and to whom they were most interested in discussing with the university faculty. The students have been discussing the student body on which questions they are most interested in discussing with the church members and to whom they are most interested in discussing with the university faculty.

Our Community Of Western

A community is as good as the citizens and the organizations within that community. It.

The Cherry Country Life Club has launched upon a program this year for the betterment of our campus in general. Already, they have taken steps to remove paint and other blenishes from the walls of the Italian Gardens. They are spading up ugly paths, sowing grass seed, and covering these spots with brush. The club attends every chapel program in a mass body.

Many years ago the A.M. Stickles History Club started the Kentucky Collection by removing rights from nearly Indian mounds and preserving them. They also erected the marker that now tells the story of the old art.

1941 Football Season

The Thanksgiving game, which ended the 1941 Hilltopper football schedule, gave this year’s aggregation a record of four wins, five losses, and one tie game. This places 45 per cent of the games in the win column. This is far below the average mark made by all Western teams since the inauguration of organized football on the Hill two decades ago. For the period 1922-41 these figures indicate a percentage of 70.5 which is a record that any college should be proud to posses.

Previous to this year, Coach Terry had a record of twenty-one victories, four defeats and two deadlocks for his three years of coaching on the Hill. Few Southern coaches can present a record such as this.

Only two other Western teams have left lower averages in all of our football history. Shall we consider Coach Terry, the 1941 grid squad, and the spirit of the student body? Certainly not. The 1941 team has had to face what Coach Diddle termed “the toughest schedule ever played before a Western football team.”

Coach Terry, we are behind you in believing that it is better to lose to a good team than to win over a weak foe.

Values Of Chapel

Dr. H. H. Cherry frequently said that during his long connection with Western, he had noticed that those Western graduates who received most successful were those who attended chapel regularly.

What are the characteristics of this assembly that prove such a valuable challenging and inspirational power in later life? Through the years chapel has been the core of our school spirit—the home of that enhancing “other thing” that has given this institution distinction and individuality. It has been the place where students have accepted the challenge of life—the challenge to do something for humanity.

It is at this hour of convocation that Westerners are instilled with the ideals of democracy. The variety of programs gives students a broader conception of life. It cultivates a taste within them for the finer things of mankind.

Alfred, Lord, Tennyson said, “I am a part of all that I have met.” You are not a part of Western unless you have met the challenge, inspiration, and spirit of this institution in chapel.

Our Football Band

The guests of the football season a number of nice compliments have been justly directed toward our football band. At this time the HILLTOPPER would like to extend congratulations to this organization for the quality of services that they have rendered.

We believe that we are expressing what is almost an unconscious feeling on the part of the student body, faculty and alumni.

The other day I met Red Gray, freshman from Corbin, Kentucky, to a left a classroom having finished a mid-term exam. The test inspired him to write the following:

Oh plant of ambition.
Aware am I now.
You are earnest only.
By sweat of the brow.

Hilltopics—

There is no doubt but what many a dad admired the father of Joe and Lou Cullen as he was introduced at the half of the Dads Day game as father of these two fine athletes. They certainly would have been none more envied than Herb Cullen remained in school here. Herb was a freshman in 1928 and a topflight guard on that year’s freshman team—he would have been a senior this year. How would Mr. Cullen have looked adorned in three numerals?

Hilltopics—

All of the ballyhoo we are reading now about the major bowl football games recalls to memory Western’s bowl game—the Deep River. This was a post-season clash between teams representing the band and the military department. From the way these two teams passed, the title was very appropriate for the day.

Hilltopics—

Contact in the air—the Military Band is only two weeks off. Research, prompted by curiosity has uncovered a number of interesting facts about this gap affair.

Even though the first Military Band was held in 1892, a queen was not chosen for the festival until 1927. The first queen was crowned by popular bulletin and elected by the student body. The students sent the name of their favorite on a ballot clipped from the HILLTOPPER, signed it, and deposited it in one of the ballot boxes which were located in the Western Lunch Room, Goal Post College Inn, and Tip Top. Cordelia Egan was elected queen.

Esher Warren wore the crown in 1938. Mary E. Puryear in 1939, and Eleanor Ford last year.

Previous to 1938 the Red and Grey formalized the music for the occasion. In 1930 Archie Genese provided the rhythm. Francis Craig assisted the following year, and last year Joe Venard was the master.

Hilltopics—

Even though James Gilliam father of the Hospital, and is unable to attend any of his classes, he is still pursuing his military education. One of Sergeant York’s sons is located in the adjoining room.

Hilltopics—

John Severs, head postal clerk at the College Heights Post Office, reports that mail is not only received with utmost time for Western to be on hand, but that unusual names for individuals are also written on these letters. Frequently Mr. Peters Hall or Coach W. L. Gander receives a letter.

After The Ball Is Over

The old Red and Grey Maxwell from Corbin, Kentucky, as he left a classroom having finished a mid-term exam. The test inspired him to write the following:

Oh plant of ambition.

You are earnest only.

With Dr. Bert Smith of the edu-

Gedde Wilson, Cullen, and Crough, and each team of boys participating in the day's game, were introduced at the halftime.

One, "The Violin and the Bird," which is written on a sheet music, and the other, "Love wins," which is among the most popular poems. The price of the new volume will be ten cents. The junior edition and six-cent edition of the book are also available.

Miss Baughner completed a two-year course at Western in 1933 and taught English for a number of years.

"Right now you are enjoying a mild Kentucky winter and we of the last two to be by this time. While the foliage is still green down here around the 40th degree to a snowy white. There are skiing on the fumes, snowmobiling, hockey and basketball games on the frozen lakes. For excitement, we have dog races with races.

For a jolly pastime, we have sleighing, and the campers are busyly engaged in extricating maple sap from the trees. Here in large vats the maple syrup is boiling. As it becomes a thimble syrup, we stick it on a fork, roll it in clean snow and then it is all delicious. Poole, don't forgive me for this, we like our Customs Winter. If there is one thing that we just don't understand your Kentucky weather— it is so cold. Ouch!" While talking to Bill Nash and Joe Baxter, this reporter found that they were the last of the land of ice and snow. Nash Baxter and Nash served as guards for the King and Queen of England when this state was a part of the United States. Then too, the boys enjoyed the feel of biting in the cold of the war games of the first army which was under the command of General Hugh A. Drum. The northern border held the enemy in the camp and they were kept out by the defense and the army. Nash Baxter came to inspect the army camp and to enjoy the winters. According to Bill and Joe, the then President of the Queen of England, and their men, the enjoyment of all was the meeting Western. And what's more, they mean it.

Prof. Jack Sanders Sells Education And Then Helps Folks Pay For It

When they want something in the Greenburg High School and the school board doesn't have the money, they simply put on a program and the community pays the cost. For several years it was the Sanders family that gave the programs. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders and their six children, Margaret, Bill, Bob, Elizabeth, and Tommy, all talented musicians, but now that the children are grown, the schools, churches, and school fairs pay for extra-curricular school undertakings.

Jack Sanders was superintendent of schools at Greenburg. In 1920 he made his entire family to Greenburg. There he was Miss Margaret, Bob, Bill, and Elizabeth all enrolled in Western Teacher College. He was graduated from Western in 1924 and that same year started in Green County. His earlier college education was gained at Lebanon College and in a M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky. His home was formerly at Bowling Green.

Harry Bowling, Jimmy Salato
May Be Honored
By Mack Ishik
The Courier-Journal and the Associated Press will soon be making their annual selections for their all-K.I.A.C. football teams. Neither the Courier-Journal nor the Associated Press has selected an all-state team in recent years which did not include one or more Hilltoppers players. This year should be no exception for Harry Bowling and Jimmy Salato Western. Both have two candidates who, we predict, will receive almost unanimous support from the voters throughout the state.

Bowling, senior guard on the Hilltopper eleven, has been outstanding in every game this season. A solid blocker on offense, he has made him stand out in every game which the Hilltoppers have played.

Salato, Western blocking back and signal caller, came to Western from Chicago, New York, and is in the opinion of Westerners one of the best blockers ever to wear the Red and Gold. He is five feet ten inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. An injury keeps him from the Western lineup for a short time during the season, but he is expected to spark the Hilltoppers to a great start at Murray Thursday. They led Murray 15-0 last week.

Gridmen To Be Feted
Coach W. L. Terry said last week that in all probability the 1941 Western football team would have their banquet as a part of the annual all-linemen banquet, to be held later on.

Athletic officials attempted this system of felting lettermen in all college athletics for the first time last year.

Sureshots Chalk Up Initial Victory
An independent baseball team coached by Alex Dowling, famed Hilltopper of the past, and composed of players from the Western Lunch Room, rode to Richardsville for opposition Wednesday night.

The Devoting quintet brought home a 24-8 victory over Richardsville's team. "Beaver," Sanders, Crotchell Allen, Jim Earl Stover, Ben Allen Murray and Will Kim Smith each figured in the scoring while Devoting led 13-0.

This was the Southern initial game but they would look to back any other high school team or an independent quartet in neighboring territories.

Sparrow Leaves School
Eugene Sparrow's college career was abruptly brought to an end when he left Western last week to go back to his home at Bumpus, Kentucky. The scholar, a junior, passed the physics examination and while waiting for the call, he attempted to enter another class. The call came and Sparrow, a 160 lb. back feld star, is between his 10th and 11th years and is five feet eleven inches in height.

Walter Pearse, A.B. 38, who is now located in Camp Lee, Virginia, visited the Hill this week. Mr. Pearse attended the University of Mississippi in 1939 and took his master's degree there. He is in the quartermaster corps and is included in a cadre at Camp Lee.

Western And Murray Deadlock at 0-0
Western's Hilltoppers and Murray's Indians left 5,000 fans thrilled and chilled here Thanksgiving afternoon as they managed each other all over a soggy gridiron but emerged from the game without scratching the score sheet and thus recording what is termed a "deadlock" in the history of the rivalry.

It was early in the second period when Carrile, Western wing back, tore off 25 yards for a reverse for the longest run of the game and Cuevas, Murray wing back, on six more yards to give the Toppers a first down on the Red 38. This was the end of the line for the Western threat.

Meanwhile, the Indians were in an attempted reverse and Tip Downing, Murray halfback, after taking a pass from Cuevas and Levandovsky towards the goal line, was stopped and forced out of bounds. The Indians were then on the three yard line.

Murray was first in the game in the 12-12 tie. Though devoid of scoring the game was not without its share of thrills as each team threatened often enough to give the fans of both schools some titillating moments.

It was another good game that is about all the comment that is necessary for the Western-Murray football game played on the Western gridiron last Thursday. The score was a tie of, 0-0. Murray didn't win but did Western, so both teams should be satisfied. Punny thing is that both teams are not satisfied, because they both think that they should have won. Murray made mistakes, and so did Western make mistakes, but regardless of those mistakes in the eyes of the spectators, the game was one of the best that could have possibly been played without either team scoring. Again, it is another great game; maybe the dispute of who is the better team will be settled next year when the two Western Kentucky rivals meet on the gridiron for their twelfth football battle.

WKTC

- Like the changing of autumn leaves from green to the gayer shades of fall, the sports scene changes from the green-grass gridiron to the brown-colored hardwood. The Western net season will soon be under way although it is hard to realize that the football season is over, and now it's time for the king of the hardwood, basketball, to reign for the winter months.

Coach Ed Diddle has been putting his 1941-42 Hilltoppers through their paces for some time. Again this year Coach Diddle has a limited squad of twelve men. The big difference between this year's twelve-man squad and the squad of last season is that there are no as many experienced men this season. But, regardless of the size of the squad and the experience we have every right to believe that this year's team, as all of the teams in the past, will possess that same old fighting Western spirit that all Diddle coached teams have possessed. Coach Diddle, to you and the Hilltoppers, under power to you, we're behind you.

WKTC

Coach Diddle has already been trying his boys out and giving them a little practice and pre-season experience. The Hilltoppers played the Simpson County Teachers November 17 and defeated them 87-21. Earl Shelton was the night's high scorer with 15 points.

Last Monday night the Hilltoppers defeated the Allen County All-Stars at Royceville 46-29. Sydor chalked up 15 points for the Western boys.

The Hilltoppers are scheduled to play the Letcher Independents tomorrow night in Letcherfield.

TOP TOPPERS

This time it was impossible to pick two outstanding Toppers for the week. The Toppers batters because they have all been "tops" this fall in their gridiron play. Coach Terry, his staff, and 1941 gridiron warriors did a swell job last Saturday afternoon, despite the strong opposition they met. Especially to those that played their last game of football for the Red and Gray last Thursday we say thanks, boys, for giving Western and your fellow students and readers your best while on the gridiron. You played a great game all the way and you made many «R and Gray" fans happy and have that team management. Those seniors of the Western gridiron list will play their last game of football this year, the Dowling, Pete Marcus, Harold Hunter, Howley, Dick Crouch, and Jimmy Nakay.

WKTC

The boys that have returned to the Western hardwood this year with some experience on the squad last year are Billy Day and Earl Shelton, both having two years of experience in their sport. "D dance W.

Outcasts Tops

In Tennis And Softball Loops

Second only to the Arts and Crafts team in the touch football league, the Outcasts turned out to be the sensation of the out-door intramural sports by winning the championship in both the tennis and softball leagues as the out-door season ends on these activities until next spring when the tennis court should be in a better humor.

In the softball loop the high-flying Outcasts continued their winning streak to run their consecutive wins in this loop to four in a row. The Black Phantom organisation also was present, but it has not been compared with the visitor's clean slate. This loss gave the Outcasts a half game margin over the runners-up.

By handing the Outcasts their second losing of the season, the Arts and Crafts outfit pushed the Outcasts into a tie for second place while it was grabbing the number-one spot in the touch football league.

The Black Phantom won two games while dropping one to continue to share the number-two spot. The N. Y. A. team dropped in from New York for second down to sixth place as a result of losing their last three games.

Heavyweights, the Hilltoppers, cancelled all games not to get the competition under way in either the tennis or softball leagues, which start play Monday afternoon, when the team managers to sign up immediately with the committee with which they wish to participate.

Both of these sports will be played at the gymnasium under official rules.

Howard, Tarrant Stop Hilltoppers

The Western Hilltoppers disappointed a Dade Day crowd of 3,000 people Friday, November 14, by dropping a 26-7 victory over the Carlisle and the Howard County Bulldogs.

The Hilltoppers were unable to stop Jimmy Tarrant, one of the nation's sparkplugs ever to play on Western soil. The outcome would certainly have been a happier one for Coach Terry and his boys if Tarrant and his boys had missed the Bowling Green train. He repeatedly scored when the game was tied, and he did a fair job of kicking when necessary. His successful passes hit 24 receivers out of 26 attempts.

The Birmingham boys were early. In the first quarter with Williams playing defense from the line of scrimmage, Carlisle have missed the Bowling Green train.
