Fourth Annual Symposium to Honor Robert Penn Warren

WKU's Committee for the Center for Robert Penn Warren Studies will host the fourth annual Robert Penn Warren Symposium Sunday, April 21.

Prof. James H. Justus, Warren Scholar, will present Warren's Patria at 2 p.m. in the Garrett Conference Center, followed by a reception at the Warren Center in Cherry Hall.

Also, the Center will host a Kentucky-style fund-raising brunch April 21 at 12:30 p.m. in Garrett Conference Center where the Kentucky Humanities Council will sponsor a presentation by former WKU Dean of Business and Public Affairs William M. Jenkins Jr.

Reservations are required and persons may call Mary Ellen Miller, vice-chair of the Warren Center committee at 5721.

Dr. Jenkins, retired from WKU, is a native of Guthrie, Ky., Warren's hometown, and the two were life-long friends.

Warren, America's first Poet Laureate, was born in 1905. After graduating summa cum laude from Vanderbilt University in 1925, he received a master's degree from the University of California (1927). He did graduate work at Yale University and at Oxford University in England as a Rhodes Scholar.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning author published many books, including 12 volumes of poetry, 10 novels, a play, a volume of short stories, a collection of critical essays, a biography, two historical essays and two studies of race relations in America.

He won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction for All the King's Men (1946). He also won the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry, the Edna St. Vincent Millay Prize of the Poetry Society of America and the National Book Award for Promises (1957).

This body of work has been published in a period of 49 years—a period during which Warren also had an active career as a professor of English.

Warren was the second Chair of Poetry at the Library of Congress and was elected to the American Philosophical Society, the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. In 1977, he received the Harriet Monroe Prize for Poetry, and he was a chancellor of the Academy of American Poets. In 1986 he was named the first Poet Laureate of the United States.

Warren died Sept. 15, 1989. He was 84.

The Center for Robert Penn Warren Studies at WKU is devoted to promoting the study of Kentucky's most famous literary son.

The Warren Room in Cherry Hall is furnished with photos, books, mementos and a commemorative quilt that honors Warren and his works.
Dr. Louis Marciani Is New Athletics Director

Dr. Louis Marciani, associate director of athletics at the University of Southern Mississippi, has been named to replace the retiring Jimmy Feix as Director of Athletics at Western Kentucky University.

The announcement was made by President Meredith at a news conference Monday.

Marciani will formally assume his duties with Hilltopper athletics July 1.

The 46-year-old Marciani has been on the athletic staff at Southern Mississippi for the past two years after serving stints as the athletic director at East Stroudsburg University in Pennsylvania (1986-89) and at Salisbury State University in Maryland (1984-86).

His duties with Golden Eagle athletics at USM include the direction of all external activities related to the program. He developed and coordinated the department's fund-raising, marketing and promotional efforts while also overseeing broadcast media coverage and public and community relations. And, he supervised the university's sports information and Eagle Club activities.

Marciani has been a member of the NCAA Communications Committee since 1987. He has also served on executive boards/committees for the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference (ECAC — 1988-90) and the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC — 1987-90). And, he spent 10 years (1978-88) as a member of the Sugar Bowl Committee. He was president of the National Intramural Recreational Sports Association in 1979. And, he has been involved with the State Department as a sports specialist for the department's professional staff in the Persian Gulf and Southwest Pacific areas (1985). He served in a similar capacity with the Department of the Army in West Germany (1976-77).

He has also been active in Chamber of commerce, United Way, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, American Heart Association and youth soccer programs.

Marciani began his professional career as the soccer and wrestling coach at Cannon University in Erie, Pa. (1967-70). He also directed that school's intramural sports program. In 1970, he began a four-year stint as soccer coach and coordinator of recreational sports at the New York State University College at Buffalo.

Ball State University Honors President Meredith With Free Student Press Award

President Meredith has received the John R. Emens Award for Support of a Free Student Press from the Ball State University Department of Journalism. The award was presented March 28 at the 1991 Ball State Journalism Awards Program.

The award stems from the resolution of a controversial recommendation, made prior to Dr. Meredith's arrival to WKU, to consider establishing faculty editors for the student publications. The College Heights Herald newspaper and Talisman yearbook. The recommendation also included giving a publications committee some editorial control over the publications.

The recommendations created cries of protest from students, journalism alumni and professional journalism associations from across the country.

In the citation accompanying the award, Earl L. Conn, chair of the department of journalism at Ball State, said Dr. Meredith "walked into the maelstrom with the issue still unsettled" when he came to the University in 1989.

"After careful study and consideration, President Meredith released his long-awaited recommendation in April 1990. With decisiveness and without ambiguity, he declared his belief that student publications should be run by students. There should be no editorial control by administrators or faculty," Conn said.

"It is fitting that we honor a champion of a free student press this year, the 200th anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights and the subsequent amendments to the Constitution. It is heart-warming to recognize that the spirit of openness and the freedom of student expression established at Ball State University during the tenure of the late President John R. Emens is shared and publicly renewed by a fellow university president many years later."

The award was last presented in 1987 to Dr. F. Jay Taylor and counts among its recipients Porter L. Fortune, former chancellor of the University of Mississippi.

NEH Rep To Visit WKU

The Office of Sponsored Programs will host a presentation by Dr. Carl Dolan, coordinator of the Office of Outreach, National Endowment of the Humanities Wednesday, April 24 from 2 to 3 p.m. in Cherry Hall Room 101. The program will provide information on each of the Endowment's divisions, with emphasis on the Education division. Individual 20-minute appointments may be scheduled by calling Sponsored Programs, 5853.

WKU Awarded Work-Study Funds

WKU has been awarded $165,000 from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority to provide $1.50 per hour reimbursement to Kentucky employers who hire Western students who are Kentucky residents in career-related work positions.

Judy Owen, director of the Career Services Center, has asked faculty and staff who may know of students or employers who would be interested in this program to contact Cindy Burnett, coordinator, Kentucky Work-Study Program, Career Services Center, Cravens 216, phone 5438.

Rodes-Helm Lecture Features Economics in the South

The Rodes-Helm Lecture Series will feature Juliann Tenney, executive director of the Southern Growth Policies Board, as its 1991 lecturer.

Tenney will speak on "Economic Development of the South" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 17 in Van Meter Auditorium.

Tenney holds a B.A. in English from UNC-Chapel Hill and a law degree from Duke University.

The Southern Growth Policies Board is an interstate compact charged with designing economic development strategies for southern governors and legislators.

The Rodes-Helm Lecture Series, named in honor of the late Judge John B. Rodes and Miss Margaret Helm of Bowling Green, is made possible by a lectureship endowment through the College Heights Foundation by the late Mr. and Mrs. Harold Helm of Montclair.

WKU Hosts Student Fair April 13

WKU's 19th annual Student Fair, sponsored by the Department of Teacher Education, will be held Saturday in E.A. Diddle Arena. Students in grades K-12 will have the opportunity to enter exhibits in the areas of elementary social studies, math, science, reading and language arts, library media, exceptional child education, health and safety, secondary English, social studies and industrial education.

For more details, call Dr. Reta Hicks, 2922.

Kentucky Museum Sponsors Trip to Catherine the Great Exhibit

The Kentucky Museum is sponsoring a weekend trip to Memphi, Tenn., May 18-19 for the Catherine the Great Exhibition which features 300 priceless art objects and treasures from the Hermitage Museum in Leningrad, exhibited for the first time outside the Soviet Union.

Cost is $135 for Kentucky Museum Associates and $155 for non-members, and the price includes chartered bus transportation, accommodations at the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza, lunch on the lawn at Audubon Park, tours of the Dixon Gallery and Gardens and Catherine the Great, and Sunday buffet at the Old Country Store in Jackson, Tenn.

A partial payment of $50 is required when reservations are made, with the remainder due by May 1.

For more details, call Earlene Chelf, special events coordinator for the Kentucky Library and Museum, 5263.

Celebrate Earth Day Every Day

April 22 will be the 11th annual observance of Earth Day. The Center for Math, Science and Environmental Education reports more requests this year for information about the environment than during previous years.

Joan Martin, center programs coordinator, says issues relating to the environment are also finding a home across the disciplines.

"In our personal lives, we can celebrate Earth Day by identifying one habit we can change to help prepare our community the Earth for the next generation, and that is by recycling, composting, changing buying habits or others," Martin says, and adds: "On campus we can further our knowledge about the issues of waste management, energy conservation or wildlife preservation and look for ways in which we can integrate it into our workplace or classrooms."

University Press to Visit

Jerry Crouch, editor-in-chief of the University Press of Kentucky, will visit WKU Thursday, April 18 to meet with faculty who have projects to submit for consideration by the Press.

During the past year, two WKU authors, Diann Watkins and Lowell Harrison, had manuscripts accepted by UPK.

Crouch will be in Room 221 of the Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts.

For an appointment, call the Office of the Dean, Potter College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, 2345.
Regents Discuss Budget at Special Meeting

President Thomas C. Meredith briefed the University’s Board of Regents on the development of the 1991-92 budget, at a special meeting March 28.

The University, on the heels of an in-depth look at itself, has reviewed every budget unit and is working on a budget that reflects the priorities set in the planning document Western XXI.

"What we are doing this year is not something we’re going to do every year and that’s go back and review every budget," Dr. Meredith said. "We almost went back to zero-based budgeting operational mode this year and you can’t do that every year. To my knowledge I don’t believe this institution has ever gone back to that ground-zero situation and worked itself out of it just to see where we were."

The budget committee discovered few dollars to be used elsewhere, he said. "It was not overwhelming, because what we found were operating budgets that had really not been impacted for some time now with any significant increases.”

Each unit has also developed a plan to help implement the recommendations made in Western XXI.

Dr. Meredith said every budget unit manager has been asked, "What are you going to do in your department or unit to make Western XXI come to life?" The budget committee will also take these plans into consideration when developing the budgets, he said.

In the 1990-91 budget of $102 million, the state contributed $50 million, about 49 percent, Dr. Meredith said. The 1991-92 budget will include an additional $4.06 million in state appropriations. Of that, almost $2 million is already committed for debt service on bond issues and retirement overmatch funds, he said.

Western will receive an estimated $2.2 million in additional funds through a tuition increase set by the Council on Higher Education, leaving the University a total estimated increase in available operating funds of $4.54 million, Dr. Meredith said, adding an increase in faculty and staff salaries would come from these funds.

Some of the items that will cost the University more include postage, health insurance, garbage collection and an increase in minimum wage.

Dr. Meredith said he and the budget committee are not ready to make a recommendation for salary increases, but hope to be able to make a determination before the spring semester ends in May.

The board set a tentative meeting for May 17 to approve a new budget.

Showboat Singer to Appear With Concert Band
April 23

William Warfield, the singer most noted for his rendition of O’Man River in the movie, Showboat, will appear in concert with the WKU Chamber Band Tuesday, April 23 at 8 p.m. in Van Meter Auditorium.

The concert will be conducted by Dr. Kent Campbell, director of bands at WKU, and tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students, available at the WKU Ticket Office and Royal Music Store, 1023 State St.

Warfield’s performance of the song, O’Man River, was said to have brought the famous MGM Studios Head, Louis B. Mayer, to tears.

In 1975, Warfield became a professor of music at the University of Illinois Campaign-Urbana.

He retired last year as department head.

For more information, call the Department of Music, 3751.

Read, Succeed is Focus of Library Week

During National Library Week April 14-20, University Libraries invites all students, faculty and staff to come to the library with a favorite book and be photographed in front of a larger-than-life book located on Cravens Fourth Floor.

Photo sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, April 16 and 17 from 10 a.m. to noon and Thursday, April 18 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Dr. Michael Binder, dean of libraries, says "We want to emphasize that reading prepares us for success—success in school and in life."

The theme of Library Week is "Read. Succeed."

For more information, call Melinda Pennington at 6154.

A Note About Blue Cross-Blue Shield

The Department of Personnel Services has had several questions from faculty members about how the two extra checks received in July and August of 1990 will affect gross earnings reported to the Kentucky Teachers Retirement System (KTTRS). The basic premise in understanding the method of reporting is to realize that earnings are reported to KTTRS in the fiscal year in which earned, not when paid.

To illustrate the method of reporting, we have prepared the hypothetical figures below. In this example, the employee would have received the last two paychecks for the 1989-90 fiscal year on July 15, 1990, and August 15, 1990, (the two extra checks), as well as having received the first two payments of his/her 1990-91 salary on July 31, 1990, and August 15, 1990, (the two extra checks), as well as having received the first two payments of his/her 1990-91 salary on July 31, 1990, and August 15, 1990, since the compensation was earned in fiscal year 1989-90. The 1990-91 contract salary would be the charges with Blue Cross-Blue Shield for reimbursement to you. In either situation, you must continue to file your charges for prescription drugs.

Therefore, the "new" system does not represent a change for Western's Blue Cross-Blue Shield group plans. Remember—the system is effective if your health care provider files all your charges for you.

If your health care provider declines to file all your charges, you must file the charges with Blue Cross-Blue Shield for reimbursement to you. In either situation, you must continue to file your charges for prescription drugs.

WKU Prof Receives Service Award

Dr. Vernon Lee Sheeley, a professor of educational leadership, has received high recognition from the American College Personnel Association for writing a history of the organization.

Dr. Sheeley received the Presidential Service Award in a surprise ceremony on campus and from ACPA at its annual convention.

Sheeley spent two years writing "Fulfilling Visions: Emerging Leaders of ACPA." The history is being released curing the celebration of ACPA's 60th year under that name. "The ACPA is indebted to Dr. Sheeley for his significant contributions to our association and our professional literature," said Dr. Laurine E. Fitzgerald, ACPA president.

The award was established in 1979 and was first presented to three individuals. This is only the second time the award has been presented, and Sheeley is the only recipient.

Sheeley, a native of Uhrichsville, Ohio, began teaching at Western in 1968 and has received numerous faculty awards. His professional credits include more than 115 publications, 25 teaching and research awards and more than a dozen research grants.
