"Traveling Through," an assignment in Basic Art Photography, by Martina Herlong, a senior graphic design major from Boulder, Colorado.
Western Kentucky University has named new advisory councils for the WKU-Glasgow and Owensboro campuses.

"The advisory councils play an important role in moving the extended campuses forward," said President Thomas Meredith. Among other things, the councils will advise the center director, assist in the planning of area educational needs assessment for curriculum planning, assist in effecting cooperative educational programs with community agencies, businesses, industries and school systems and enhance the development opportunities by working with the director on fund-raising opportunities, Dr. Meredith said.

The boards include nine appointed members and seven ex officio members.

Appointed members, and their terms of office, for Glasgow include: Freddie Travis (chair), Tommy Lyons and Harold Matthews, three years; Bill James, Bill Twyman and Golda Walbert, two years; and Ellen Gentry, Robert Lessenberry and Laverne Pinckley, one year.

Ex officio members include Charles Bethel, superintendent, Allen County schools; Steve Biggers, executive director, Glasgow-Barren County Chamber of Commerce; Woody Gardner, judge-executive, Barren County; Charles Honeycutt, mayor, Glasgow; Steve Newberry, executive director, IDEA; Duane Tennant, superintendent, Glasgow schools and Roy Withrow, superintendent, Barren County schools.

Owensboro members are: Dave Roberts (chair), Arnetta Dunn and Dan Lanham, three years; Pamela Burns, Royce Dawson and Grant Talbott III, two years; and Andy Anderson, Gerald Eds and Sara Flube, one year.

Ex officio members include David Adkisson, mayor, Owensboro; Ed Allen, superintendent, Daviess County schools; Billy Chandler, superintendent, Owensboro schools; Doug Frazier, president, Owensboro-Daviess County Chamber of Commerce; Hugh Haydon, executive director, Industry, Inc.; Wilbur "Buzz" Norris, judge executive, Daviess County; Joe O'Bryan, superintendent, Owensboro Diocese, and Tom Skiratko, acting superintendent, Hancock County schools.

1993 Spring enrollment totals 14,651, a slight drop from 1992

WKU Enrollment for the 1993 spring semester totaled 14,651 students, a decrease of 1.8 percent from the 1992 spring semester. The estimated headcount enrollment submitted to the Kentucky Council on Higher Education includes 10,188 full-time and 4,463 part-time students. Part of the decline in enrollment is attributed to higher mid-year graduation totals in 1992, according to Registrar Freida Eggleton. WKU graduated 80 more students this December than at the end of the fall semester in 1991. The final official enrollment for the 1992 spring semester was 14,923.

Have a nice Spring Break!
On Campus

On Campus is published biweekly on Wednesdays during the academic year and monthly during the summer by the office of University Relations. Sheila Elsom, Editor; Fred Hensley, Director of University Relations.

On Campus does not represent any special interest group. If opinions are stated in any copy, material is attributed. We reserve the right to accept or reject any material.

For assistance in University Relations, contact:

Director Fred Hensley 4295
On Campus Sheila Elsom 4297
News & Photo Services
Bob Skipper 4297
Publication Services
Tom Meacham 4295
Radio-TV Services
Jeff Younglove 4295
Special Events
Gene Crume 2497

SINCE YOU ASKED...

Q. When faculty and staff leave campus a lot and carry materials and equipment with them, it becomes difficult to find a place to park and unload their vehicles when they return. The 10-minute zones often aren't enough time, and is it possible to park in a university vehicle spot to unload?

A. By Lt. Eugene Hoofer, Department of Public Safety. Lt. Hoofer handles parking and traffic complaints on campus.

If a faculty or staff member has materials to be unloaded, he or she may contact me, and if warranted, a pass to park in a University/Commercial Delivery space will be issued. The permit will usually have a time limit on it to prevent the person from staying in the space too long. If the person knows ahead of time a space to unload will be needed, he or she may obtain a pass in advance.

If a department is holding a conference and is expecting a large number of people, a two-week notice is requested, and we will provide you with permits to give to your guests.

If anyone has any questions not covered in this reply, feel free to contact me at 2538 between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Faculty Development Committee will meet the second Friday each month to consider applications for funding. Applications must be received in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs by the last Friday of each month, dates varying to accommodate holidays.

For application materials and guidelines, contact either your college dean's office or the Office of Academic Affairs, 2296.
Music educators honor WKU's retiring 'Music Man'

By Bob Skipper

WKU's retiring director of bands has been honored with the Kentucky Music Educators Association's highest award.

Dr. Kent Campbell received the "Distinguished Service Award" for his life-long service to music education.

"I very grateful for this award," Dr. Campbell said. "This indicates that I have been able to give something back to an association that has been my whole life and profession."

Dr. Campbell, a native of Elizabethton, Tenn., said the recognition is for his many years of service to not only the KMEA, but to music education in general. The criteria include number of years of membership and service, educational and professional background, and achievements, leadership contributions and service to KMEA, education and the community.

He has been a member of the KMEA and the Music Educators National Conference since 1955. Dr. Campbell has been vice president and president of KMEA and is currently the immediate past president. He is also chairman of the budget and public relations committees and is on the editorial board of the state journal "Bluegrass Music News."

During his term as president (1989-91), the KMEA was very active in helping determine music education's role in education reform in Kentucky. Education reform "created a lot of concern on everybody's part to find their niche" in education, he said.

As a result of KMEA's effort, Dr. Campbell said music education is strong and healthy and music educators have a voice that has been felt.

The award came at a good time, he said. "I'm especially honored that this award was given during my retirement year," said Dr. Campbell, who will retire from Western in May after 22 years. Retirement doesn't mean that Dr. Campbell will drop out of the music education scene. In addition to continuing his current role with KMEA, Dr. Campbell said he will be involved in planning for the in-service conference, which draws 7,000-8,000 educators annually.

Dr. Campbell said he also plans to spend more time judging band contests, an activity he's had to limit while working full time. This will also give him and his wife, Claire, the opportunity to travel, since she also is retiring from her job as a fourth-grade teacher.

Joe Stites, associate director of bands at Western, called Dr. Campbell his teacher, mentor, colleague and friend.

"For those of us who know Dr. Campbell, it would be impossible to think of Western, of KMEA or of music education in Kentucky without thinking of Kent Campbell," Stites said as he presented the award to Dr. Campbell. "That is a fact of which he and we can be very proud."
Ky. Museum features works by Joe Downing

Joe Downing: Recent Works, opens at the Kentucky Museum March 28, and this large collection of new works will be on display through July 4.

Downing, who has lived and worked in France for about 40 years, is a WKU alumnus, and his show will include oils on canvas, watercolors, roof tiles, leather panels, a tapestry and several unusual pieces.

Michael's Door, an old, weathered wooden door named for the friend who removed it from an outbuilding and delivered it to Downing to be painted, is among those pieces, along with The Window of Artemis Fougerousse, a 200-year-old window from the house of a neighbor, and Chicken Bones, two sculpture-like pieces, replicas of actual chicken bones, enlarged and creatively mounted.

Collectors will be interested to know that all of the works in the show will be available for purchase, with a share going to help support the Kentucky Museum's programs and activities.

Persons new to Western may not recognize him as the brother of WKU's fourth president, Dr. Dero G. Downing, who upon his retirement has directed the University's College Heights Foundation.

The artist also has another brother, George, who teaches in WKU's mathematics department, and a sister, Sara Taylor, who teaches in the Department of Teacher Education.

Downing's reputation as an artist has grown over the years. He has received or shared numerous prestigious art awards, such as the Prix de l'Inteine Peinture Internationale, and his work is among the collections of museums both here and abroad.

Since his first show in 1952, Downing's work has been in at least one—sometimes six or seven—solo or group exhibitions every year. A number of the exhibitions have been in France and the United States; others have been in Australia, Belgium, Canada, Great Britain, Israel, Japan, Luxembourg, and Sweden. His last exhibit at WKU was in the fall of 1988.

Kentucky Museum hours of operation are 9:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 1 to 4 p.m. Sundays. WKU faculty and staff can schedule special viewings by calling the Museum at 2592.

The author of this story is special events coordinator for University Libraries.
Dr. Ronald Adams, Educational Leadership, $15,967 from PRIDE, Inc. to provide PRIDE, Inc. with selected technical and administrative assistance in the areas of research and evaluation related to drug abuse prevention.

Dr. Richard Hackney, Physics & astronomy, $35,750 from the National Aeronautics & Space Administration to provide the first year of funding for the Kentucky Space Grant Consortium which consists of nine Kentucky colleges and universities. The KSOG has an overall goal of creating a new level of aerospace-related education and research expertise throughout the state.

Richard Horn, Small Business Development Center, $67,600 from the University of Kentucky Research Foundation to provide counseling, training, information dissemination and applied research to stimulate the development and growth of existing and new small business enterprises.

Dr. Roger Pankratz, Dean’s Office, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences, $14,530 from the Kentucky Department of Education to work with the Council on New Teacher Performance Standards and the Office of Teacher Education and Certification leadership team to develop Kentucky Valued Educator Outcomes.

Jo-Anne Ryan, Communication and Broadcasting, $26,897 from the Kentucky Cabinet for Workforce Development for development of a marketing and advertising campaign for the Kentucky adult education programs. The campaign will be targeted at adults, 16 and older, who have not completed their formal education or who want to improve basic skills. Media kits will be customized for each county, depending on the demographics of the population and on the media outlets in each area.

Dr. Robert M. Schneider, Agriculture, $16,408 from Bioguide, Inc. to be used for the management and operation of composting operations at the University Farm; $9,050 from the Kentucky Department of Environmental Protection to prepare a manual, along with Dr. Luther Hughes, to be used by the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet in workshops for certification of compost operators and to conduct the workshops for compost operators.

Dr. Dwillis Wallman, Educational Leadership, $8,721 from the Kentucky Department of Education to provide a Principal Assessor Training session for elementary and secondary principals and other relevant leadership personnel to be identified by the Kentucky Department of Education in the service area of the institution.

Terry Wilson, Teacher Education, $39,721 from the Kentucky Department of Education to serve as Western’s site coordinator for the “Science Resource Specialists” component of the PRISM Project which will include planning a three-week summer institute to train science resources specialists, selecting institute participants and conducting the summer institute and follow-up sessions.

Series focuses on Alzheimer’s Disease

The WKU Adult Day Health Care Center and Wellington Park of Bowling Green are sponsoring a free information and support series on Alzheimer’s Disease. Programs are held on the fourth Thursday of the month at 7 p.m. at the Adult Day Health Care Center, 325 University Blvd. The series is open to anyone interested in Alzheimer’s Disease, including gerontologists, members of families of Alzheimer’s patients, professionals and agencies’ employees.

The first of the four-part series featured Jeane Robertson, director of the Adult Day Health Care Center, speaking on “Understanding Alzheimer’s Disease.” On March 25, Barbara Helm, information coordinator of the Alzheimer’s Research Center at the University of Kentucky, will speak on “Alzheimer’s Disease Update: Is There Hope?” On April 22, Margaret Ryan, an attorney with Cumberland Trace Legal Services, will speak on “Legal Issues and Concerns.” On April 27, Janice Richardson of LifeSkills Inc. will speak on “Help for the Caregiver.”

The Office of University Relations regularly solicits news tips regarding faculty activities, achievements and awards. To submit news items for external media consideration, contact Bob Skipper (4295).
March 10, 1993

COMING UP

March

10
Advance registration for the 1993 summer term. Through Friday. 3351.

Miss Western Pageant. Eleven contestants will vie for the right to represent Western in the Miss Kentucky Pageant. Van Meter Auditorium, Judy Woodring, 6340.

Boys Regional High School Basketball Tournament, Diddle, 6:30 p.m.

“A River Runs Through It,” movie, Downing University Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

“Having A Relationship Without Losing Yourself,” Academic Complex 229, 8 p.m. P.A.T. Girl Works! Apple Promotion for Student Health Service.

11
How to Take Effective Deposits,” American Law Network Telecast, Florence Schneider, 3 p.m.

Faculty Senate meeting, Garrett Center Ballroom 3 p.m.

Boys Regional High School Basketball Tournament, Diddle, 7 p.m.

“A River Runs Through It,” movie, Downing University Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

Hardin Planetarium features Native American Skies. The program will introduce the audience to the sky mythology of the Native Americans, including a Cheyenne myth about the creation of the Earth, a Cherokee myth about the origin of the sun and a Navajo myth about the origin of the constellations. Runs through March 30. Programs are free. For times and dates, call 4044.

12
Eye-Opening Breakfast. 7:30 a.m., Downing University Center. 57. An informational program about Crimestoppers, and proceeds go to Crimestoppers. Call 781-CLUE or 781-7973.

KMEA Solo & Ensemble Festival, Garrett Center Ballroom, 8 a.m. Joe Stites, 3751.

Center for Excellence meeting, DUC 226, 2 p.m.

Gospel Benefit Concert, VMA, 7 p.m. Vanessa Hudson, 842-4001.

13
KMEA Solo & Ensemble Festival, CCCB, 8 a.m.

Baseball vs. Alabama-Birmingham, Denes Field, noon.

District Chorus-Elementary & Jr. High Festival, VMA, 8 a.m.

15-19
Spring Break. Classes not in session.

18
“Innovative Treatment in Hazardous Waste,” Telecast, Florence Schneider, 3 p.m.

19
KY High School Speech League Tournament, CCC, 8 a.m. Judy Woodring, 3296.

20
KY High School Speech League Tournament, CCC, 8 a.m.

22
Classes resume. 8 a.m.

Fall schedule bulletins are available in the Registrar’s office.

“Overcoming Barriers to School Restructuring” Telecast, J.T. Sandefur Auditorium, 7 p.m. Robert Prickett, 4997.

23
OAR—Van Meter, Downing, Garrett, 8 a.m.

“Hero” movie, Downing Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

Chamber Singers Concert, Fine Arts Center Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Todd Buchanan, WKU graduate and photographer for the Philadelphia Inquirer, will speak at 7 p.m. in the Garrett Conference Center. Department of Journalism.

Auxiliary Services Information Fair. John Osborne, 5747.

24
OAR—Van Meter, Downing, Garrett, 8 a.m.

Women’s Studies program, KY Museum, 8 a.m. 2497.

Baseball vs. Tennessee Tech. Denes Field, 2:30 p.m.

“Her” movie, Downing Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

International Forum. One Hundred and Fifty Years of Alliance: The Sultana of Oman,” by Dr. Michael Trapasso, Department of Geography and Geology, 146, Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts. Free.

25
Employment Law Update—Telecast, Florence Schneider, 3 p.m.

“Hero” movie, Downing Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

26
Southern KY Regional Science Fair, Thompson Complex, Central Wing, 8 a.m. Contact Office of the Dean, Ogden College of Science, Technology and Health, 4448.

KY High School Speech League Tournament, Garrett Conference Center, 8 a.m.

Ohio Valley History Conference, 9 a.m., Downing University Center. 2497.

“Hero” movie, Downing Center Theater, 7 & 9 p.m.

Ricky Van Shelton & Lorrie Mor-
Pylon on Hilltop Drive photographed by Jennifer Dutton, senior graphic design major from Somerset, Ky.