4-13-1994

UA11/1 On Campus, Vol. 4, No. 6

WKU University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Organizational Communication Commons, Public Relations and Advertising Commons, and the Social Influence and Political Communication Commons

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/4343

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact topscholar@wku.edu.
Robert Penn Warren
7th Annual Symposium
Sunday, April 24

"And time, like wind-lattered smoke,
Blew by for one who, like all man, had flung,
in joy and maniacal rage, his blood..."
Robert Penn Warren
Safe in Shade

The Center for Robert Penn Warren Studies will hold its seventh annual Warren Symposium Sunday, April 24 at 2 p.m. in Garrett Conference Center 103.

Long-time friends and colleagues of Warren, Professors R.W.B. Lewis and Cleanth Brooks will be the featured speakers.

Brooks and Lewis, along with Warren, co-edited American Literature: The Makers and the Making, a 1973 two-volume text which is a standard anthology. Both Brooks and Lewis are professors emeriti, Yale University. Brooks will talk about Warren’s early years at Vanderbilt and Lewis will talk about Warren’s early years at Yale, with personal comments by each about their friend.

The Symposium will be followed by a reception in Cherry Hall and by the dedication of the Warren personal working library, a gift to Western by Mrs. Warren, at the Kentucky Building, where the collection is housed. Transportation will be available.

All events are free and open to the public.

A fund-raising lunch will be held prior to the Symposium at 12:30 p.m. in Garrett Ballroom. Tickets may be obtained by calling Joe Millichap or Mary Ellen Miller at 3046.

Millichap and Miller also have conference details.

The Robert Penn Warren Circle, which is headquartered at Duke University will sponsor its annual conference at WKU in conjunction with the Symposium, a tradition since the Robert Penn Warren Center at Western has opened.

Academic papers on Warren’s fiction and poetry are scheduled to begin Friday afternoon, April 22 in Cherry Hall.

The English Department offers a Robert Penn Warren seminar for graduate and undergraduate students. The three-hour course provides an intensive study of Warren’s poetry, fiction and non-fiction.

Established in the English Department in 1986, the Robert Penn Warren Room in Cherry Hall provides space for lectures, classes, seminars and Robert Penn Warren Committee and advisers’ meetings.

Several Western faculty have contributed to the body of scholarly pursuit of Robert Penn Warren’s life and early works. Each spring semester the English Department awards an undergraduate scholarship and a graduate fellowship to students for study of Warren’s writing.

What’s Inside
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE GETS $100,000
Economic Development Institute Gets $100,000

The WKU Institute for Economic Development and Public Service has been awarded a $100,000 grant from the Small Business Administration to fund a retiree attraction project for southcentral Kentucky.

Targeting the 55+ migrating retiree, the Institute will begin an extensive marketing campaign to attract this fast-growing segment of the country’s population to the southcentral Kentucky region, said Dr. Stephen House, executive director of the Institute. The region includes Allen, Barren, Edmonson, Hart, Logan, Metcalfe, Monroe, Ohio, Simpson and Warren counties.

“This will allow us to promote southcentral Kentucky in the major metropolitan areas,” Dr. House said.

“The demographics show there are increasing numbers of very talented and very well educated people leaving those metropolitan areas and looking for smaller, more rural areas in which to spend their retirement years.”

Research shows the 55+ market is represented by more than 64 million people and growing rapidly. The migrating retiree has an average net worth of $250,000 which is the highest net worth of all retirees. More than 90 percent of retirees relocate into homes in established neighborhoods and tend to pay cash, depositing the balance in local banks.

“As we begin this process, I believe there will be almost an immediate impact in terms of the number of visitors to our area, thereby benefitting motels, restaurants, service stations and many others who provide products and services to those visiting the area,” Dr. House said.

Over an extended period, the effort will result in new permanent residents to the area and the increased business activity will expand to real estate firms, home builders, banks, churches and many others who benefit from an expanded population base, Dr. House said.

In addition, an upturn in new business start ups is anticipated, as many of the retirees who bring knowledge and business experience from other regions of the country will take advantage of new opportunities in a growing market, he said.

The grant was announced by U.S. Sen. Mitch McConnell of Kentucky.

Tonight!

Feast on food for thought

Tonight, at 6:30 p.m., the International Potluck Dinner, the major fund raiser for the International Student Scholarship Fund, will be held in the Ballroom of the Garrett Conference Center.

There will be food from around the world and entertainment provided by the WKU International Students.

There will be food from around the world and entertainment provided by the WKU International Students. The recipient of the 1994 International Student Scholarship will be introduced.

Bring a covered dish with an international flavor. WKU students eat free if they bring a dish; $5 without a dish. All others are $3 with a covered dish, $8 without a dish. Everybody’s invited!

Continuing Education has moved

The Department of Continuing Education has relocated its offices and operations to the new Institute for Economic Development facility at 745-2355 Nashville Road. The general telephone number is 745-1908 and the FAX number is 1911.

The 745 numbers must be dialed since this is an off-campus location. Dr. Sandra Webb is Director of Continuing Education. She says services have expanded to include meeting planning. Dr. Webb welcomes questions about the services of her office.

The Office of University Relations regularly solicits news tips regarding faculty activities, achievements and awards. To submit news items for external media consideration, contact Bob Skipper (8295).
The Robert Penn Warren Library in the Kentucky building houses the Pulitzer Prize winner's private book collection and displays his desk and chair, a cabinet in which he kept first editions and exhibits of his photographs and medals. In presenting the collection to the university two years ago, Warren's wife, Eleanor Clark, said she wanted scholars to have access to the items because of their "intimate working importance" to Warren.

Kentucky Library staff have worked to complete the housing of the collection of 2,246 volumes, which include a number of 17th to 19th century publications. Most of the collection, however, consists of first editions of Warren's works, autographed gift copies from his friends and colleagues, and the volumes he acquired for reference and reading.

Some contain marginal notations penciled by Warren; a 1936 Italian edition of Dante's Divine Comedy bears annotations by Warren and his daughter, Rosanna.

Offering much of the ambiance in which the novelist-poet created many of his literary masterpieces, the Robert Penn Warren Library welcomes use by students and scholars.

Teacher, novelist, poet, essayist, dramatist, literary critic and editor, Warren based many of his writing on historical happenings. Those with Kentucky significance include: Night Rider, 1939; World Enough and Time, 1950; Brother to Dragons, 1953; and Audubon: A Vision, 1969.

In his lifetime, he published ten novels, ten volumes of poetry and a volume of short stories; also a play, a collection of critical essays, a biography, three historical essays, a critical book on Dreiser and a study of Melville and two studies of race relations in America.

His 1946 novel, All the King's Men, won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction. Warren was named America's Poet Laureate in 1986. He died in 1989.

Right: The Wedge by William Carlos Williams, a gift to Warren from the author, is one of more than 2,000 volumes in the WKU Warren Library.

---

A dedication program for the Robert Penn Warren Library Collection will be held Sunday, April 24 at the Kentucky Building following the 2 p.m. Symposium and Reception.

---

University Libraries invites you to attend the seventh annual WESTERN AUTHORS RECEPTION 2:00 - 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 19, 1994

Kentucky Museum Galleries K & L Library Faculty Award presented at 2:30

Sponsor: Greenwood Ford Lincoln Mercury BMW

---

The Bowling Green Chapter of Professional Secretaries International contributed $1,840 to Western Kentucky University's College Heights Foundation, increasing the corpus of the perpetual trust which the club started in 1987. The presentation was made by Elaine Owens, right, CPS and co-chair of the fund raising project Christmas in the Country, and Vana Vincent, left, CPS and Bowling Green chapter president. Accepting the gift for the Foundation was Dr. Dero G. Downing, Foundation president and president emeritus of Western. Through the fund, two scholarships are awarded annually to Western students studying for careers related to the secretarial field.
On Campus

Exploring retirement options

As part of an employee awareness effort, the Department of Human Resources is sponsoring a 403(b) Fair Tuesday, April 26 from 2 until 6 p.m. in the Garrett Conference Center Ballroom. The Fair will cover Western’s optional 403(b) tax-deferred retirement savings plan.

During the Fair, representatives from companies offering 403(b) plans to Western’s employees will be available to provide informational materials and to answer any questions concerning their specific programs and investments.

Informational sessions on the 403(b) plan are being held also. The next is Wednesday, April 20 at 1 p.m. in Room 100 of the Garrett Conference Center.

Note: About You is devoted to listing professional achievements (papers presented, awards, appointments, or other special recognition) of WKU faculty and staff. Send items addressed to: About You, % On Campus, Office of University Relations.

Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences

HISTORY
Dr. Richard V. Salisbury, Professor of History, gave a paper, Through a Glass Clearly: A British Perspective on U.S. Policy in Central America, 1900-1930 at the Latin American Studies Association meeting in Atlanta, Ga. last month.

MUSIC
Dr. Michael J. Kalistrom completed a residency as a Ragdale Fellow in music composition at the Ragdale Foundation’s artist colony last month. He continued composition of a new, full-length opera as part of his sabbatical leave for the Spring semester. Ragdale is an artist’s colony in Lake Forest, Ill., near Chicago and on the grounds of the family estate of the acclaimed architect Howard Van Doren Shaw, and is on the National Register of Historic Places. Dr. Kalistrom also performed his opera for solo performer, Stories, for the Music Teachers national Association convention in Washington, D.C. March 21, and he spoke about Electric Opera, his trilogy of solo operas.

Science, Technology and Health

ALLIED HEALTH
Dr. Douglas W. Schutte presented Medical Emergencies in Dental Practice at the Kentucky Dental Association/Kentucky Dental Hygienists’ Association’s annual session in Louisville last month. Dr. Schutte also was elected to serve as secretary/treasurer to the Pennyrile Dental Society.

CHEMISTRY
Dr. D.W. Slocum, Head of the Department of Chemistry, attended the 206th meeting of the American Chemical Society in San Diego last month and presented two papers, each of which summarized research results of WKU students, served as the Organic Division representative to the Catalysis and Surface Science Secretariat and co-chaired three sessions of a symposium, Methane and Alkane Conversion Chemistry. He also was one of four co-organizers of the symposium.

COMPUTER SCIENCE
Carol Wilson made two presentations at the 1994 Special Interest Group for Computer Science Education, Using Graphical Presentation Techniques in Closed Laboratory Exercises, and Designing Closed Laboratory Exercises.

MATHMATICS
Dr. Robert Bueker has received a grant for $34,143 from the Kentucky Council on Higher Education (Eisenhower Act) to fund two mathematics institutes this summer. The topic for secondary teachers is Mathematical Modeling and Shape and Dimension is the topic for middle school teachers.

Mark Robinson participated in a special session on Collaborative Learning in Calculus and Precalculus at the American Mathematical Society’s regional meeting March 18 and 19.

At the PRISM-UG Conclave, held in Louisville March 25 and 26, David Neal gave a presentation on Computer Experiments in Probability, and Doug Mooney gave a presentation, jointly prepared with Randy Swift, on A Model for a Modeling Course.

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY
Dr. Richard Hackney of the Kentucky Space Grant Consortium, based at WKU, will serve as project director for a $1.5 million research grant in aeronautics and space-related science, funded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) EPSCoR Program. Scientists at WKU, the University of Kentucky, the University of Louisville and Eastern Kentucky University will conduct the research. Kentucky is one of only six states which received funding of the 20 states eligible to apply.

PUBLIC HEALTH
Dr. Henry Baughman was honored March 29 at a banquet in Stanford, KY. as a Lincoln County Star for personal and professional achievements.

Spies named Officer of the Year

Congratulations to Officer Audrey Spies who has been selected as Western Kentucky University’s Police Officer of the Year for service during 1993.

Officer Spies, who is the Department’s Crime Prevention Officer, was recognized for her contributions to the crime reduction on campus.

Specifically, theft reports were reduced from 337 cases in 1992 to only 211 in 1993.

Officer Spies’ efforts in conducting crime prevention seminars for faculty, staff and students played a major role in the reduction of crime.

Officer Spies has been a Western Kentucky University Police Officer since 1988.

WAY TO GO, public radio!

The Spring Membership Drive for WKU’s Public Radio Service resulted in more than $27,000 in pledges, 64 percent above the original goal of $17,331. Western’s public radio service includes WKYU-FM in Bowling Green, WDCL-FM, Somerset; WKPB, Henderson and WKUB, Elizabethtown.

On Campus

Western Kentucky University

April 13, 1994
Dr. H.Y. Kim, Professor of Economics, presented his paper, co-authored by Junsoo Lee of Vanderbilt University, Quasi-Fixed Inputs and Long-Run Equilibrium In Production: Evidence From The Nonstationary Regression, The Series n to the m power and x to the n power and a Pascal-like Triangle by David Neal, has been published in Vol. 25, Number 2, the March 1994 issue of The College Mathematics Journal, pgs. 99-101.

Joe Surratt, Professor of English, has published poems in The Kentucky Philological Review: Twentieth Anniversary Chapbook and The Cincinnati Poetry Review. His poetry was a finalist for the Baxter Hathaway Prize at Cornell University and for The Journal Award at Ohio State University. He read from his work at the Literary Renaissance Poetry Festival in Louisville last October, and at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Philological Association at Kentucky State University March 4. He also chaired a session on contemporary poetry at the Twentieth-Century Literature Conference at the University of Louisville Feb. 25.

Catherine Ward, Professor of English, has had an article, Linden Hills, a Modern Inferno, published in an anthology, Gloria Naylor: Critical Perspectives Past and Present. The text is part of the Amistad Literary Series, which includes studies of Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, Toni Morrison, Alice Walker and Richard Wright. The volume is edited by Henry Louis Gates Jr., a MacArthur Fellow and director of the African-American Studies Department at Harvard University and K.A. Appiah, a professor of philosophy at Harvard.

Correction: Michael J. Seidler was incorrectly listed in the March 30 issue of On Campus as an Associate Professor of Psychology. He is an Associate Professor of Philosophy. We’re sorry.

The Department of Music Presents Duo Brooks and Speer in Concert April 19

The WKU Department of Music presents in concert Duo Brooks and Speer Tuesday, April 19 at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts. Music faculty Joseph Brooks, baritone; Donald Speer, clarinet, and Donald Speer, piano, will be assisted by Hallie Coppedge, mezzo soprano and Dwight Pounds as narrator.

Brooks and Speer have been performing in and around the Kentucky region for the past three years. Coppedge is an instructor in voice at WKU and is popular demand as a soloist.

The two will perform Carl Maria von Weber's Seven Variations, Opus 33 on a theme from "Silvana" for clarinet and Piano; Road to Hamelin by Paul Ramsier; Parlo! Ma tu ben mio from Mozart's opera Titus; Niols Gade's Fantasy, Opus 43 for clarinet and piano; Ariel, Four Poems of Sylvia Plath by Ned Rorem and Debussy's Premiere Rhapsodie for clarinet and piano.

The program is free.

Dr. H.Y. Kim, Professor of Economics, presented his paper, co-authored by Junsoo Lee of Vanderbilt University, Quasi-Fixed Inputs and Long-Run Equilibrium In Production: Evidence From The Nonstationary Regression, The Series n to the m power and x to the n power and a Pascal-like Triangle by David Neal, has been published in Vol. 25, Number 2, the March 1994 issue of The College Mathematics Journal, pgs. 99-101.

Joe Surratt, Professor of English, has published poems in The Kentucky Philological Review: Twentieth Anniversary Chapbook and The Cincinnati Poetry Review. His poetry was a finalist for the Baxter Hathaway Prize at Cornell University and for The Journal Award at Ohio State University. He read from his work at the Literary Renaissance Poetry Festival in Louisville last October, and at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Philological Association at Kentucky State University March 4. He also chaired a session on contemporary poetry at the Twentieth-Century Literature Conference at the University of Louisville Feb. 25.

Catherine Ward, Professor of English, has had an article, Linden Hills, a Modern Inferno, published in an anthology, Gloria Naylor: Critical Perspectives Past and Present. The text is part of the Amistad Literary Series, which includes studies of Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, Toni Morrison, Alice Walker and Richard Wright. The volume is edited by Henry Louis Gates Jr., a MacArthur Fellow and director of the African-American Studies Department at Harvard University and K.A. Appiah, a professor of philosophy at Harvard.

Correction: Michael J. Seidler was incorrectly listed in the March 30 issue of On Campus as an Associate Professor of Psychology. He is an Associate Professor of Philosophy. We’re sorry.

The Department of Music Presents Duo Brooks and Speer in Concert April 19

The WKU Department of Music presents in concert Duo Brooks and Speer Tuesday, April 19 at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts. Music faculty Joseph Brooks, baritone; Donald Speer, clarinet, and Donald Speer, piano, will be assisted by Hallie Coppedge, mezzo soprano and Dwight Pounds as narrator.

Brooks and Speer have been performing in and around the Kentucky region for the past three years. Coppedge is an instructor in voice at WKU and is in popular demand as a soloist.

The two will perform Carl Maria von Weber's Seven Variations, Opus 33 on a theme from "Silvana" for clarinet and Piano; Road to Hamelin by Paul Ramsier; Parlo! Ma tu ben mio from Mozart's opera Titus; Niols Gade's Fantasy, Opus 43 for clarinet and piano; Ariel, Four Poems of Sylvia Plath by Ned Rorem and Debussy's Premier Rhapsodie for clarinet and piano.

The program is free.

Persons with print-related disabilities may contact Hilda Melby, ADA (502) 484-5004 Coordinator, Office of the Dean of Student Life, 2791, for information about alternative format for this publication.

---

Great Choral Music from the Cathedral

University Choir and Bowling Green Western Choral Society

Gary McKercher, Director

Alisa Carmichael, Organist

Vaughan Williams: Five Mystical Songs

Jerrod Pope, Baritone

Britten: Rejoice In The Lamb

Parry: I Was Glad

Friday, April 29
8 P.M.
Great Episcopal Church
1215 State Street

General $3; Students/Seniors $2
When Kentucky had to compete against other states for the new Toyota Camry plant, a key factor that moved the plant to the Bluegrass was the promised state-of-the-art Center for Robotics and Manufacturing Systems located nearby at the University of Kentucky.

Winning the Toyota plant was a shining example of how investing in higher education pays off for all Kentuckians. Each Kentucky university can claim similar successes in training agriculture, chemical, engineering, health care, telecommunications and other industries into our state.

If Kentucky and its citizens are to continue succeeding in the 21st century, it's critical we maintain the economic momentum created by our colleges and universities. Don’t let Kentucky's economic engine run out of fuel. Support higher education: an investment in Kentucky's future.

KENTUCKY ADVOCATES FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Call for papers/panels
Papers and panels are invited in all areas of women's studies for the Eighth Annual WKU Women's Studies Conference Sept. 23 and 24.
This year's theme is Women in the Arts and Sciences.
Guest speakers will be Authors Anne Fausto-Sterling and Pat Carr, WKU professor of English.
Abstracts need to be in by Saturday, April 15 to be considered. Send them to the Program Committee: WKU Women's Studies Conference, 200 Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts, or call 647-777. Fax

Journalism wins fifth straight Hearst
For the fifth straight year, WKU has won the William Randolph Hearst Foundation's Intercollegiate Photojournalism Competition.
The University finished first by placing two students in the top 10. Along with the honor, the Department of Journalism will receive $10,000 from the Foundation.
Photojournalism seniors Francis Gardler of Philadelphia and Kathryn Scott of Boulder, Col., will learn in May if they are selected among the top three.

Each school is allowed to enter two students into the competition. Gardler and Scott were the winners of a competition held among Western students.
The students submitted a portfolio of no more than 15 slides consisting of news, feature, sports and portrait and personality photos and picture stories. The portfolios were judged on photographic quality, versatility, consistency, human interest, news value and creativity.
The top three will be notified on May 19. The Hearst Foundation will fly them to San Francisco on May 20 for the championship.

B.G. WKU Symphony Masterworks Finale Concert
Friday, April 22
Van Meter Auditorium
Tickets, $11; $6
students, 745-ARTS,
or at the door

Photo, opposite page: WKU hosted Careers in Communications III: Strategies for the 1990s, and WKU graduate Chris Roederer, center, vice president for Human Resources at Eisenhower Medical Center in Rancho Mirage, Calif., was the featured speaker. Left: Dr. Regis O'Connor and right: Dr. Carl Kell, WKU Department of Communication and Broadcasting professors.
Latin American Studies Spring Conference

Thursday, April 21, International Programs and the WKU Latin American Studies Committee will present the Latin American Studies Spring Conference. A lecture will be presented by Dr. David Sheinin of the Trent University Department of History, speaking on Argentina's Rebirth: The Decline of Populism in the Post Military Era, 1980-1994 in Room 146 of the Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts.

For more information, contact Donna Cheshire, 4857.

Faculty Development Committee

The Faculty Development Committee will meet the second Friday each month to consider applications for funding.

Applications must be received in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs by the last Friday of each month, dates varying to accommodate holidays.

For application materials and guidelines, contact either your college dean's office or the Office of Academic Affairs, 2296.

Time for the Dinosaur Killer

What happens when a comet or asteroid collides with the Earth? Has such an event occurred within historical times? Did a similar event result in the extinction of the dinosaurs 65 million years ago?

Hardin Planetarium and the Department of Physics and Astronomy will present public Planetarium lectures on The Dinosaur Killer throughout the month at Hardin Planetarium.

Show times are Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. and shows are free.

Looking for something to do?

Call the Campus Events Line for the latest activities on campus.

WCEL (Western's Campus Events Line) is a two-minute recorded listing of campus activities, such as concerts, lectures, theatre productions and sporting events.

It’s recorded three of four times a week by Jeff Younglove, Coordinator of Radio and TV Services, in the Office of University Relations.

Dial 4620, and find out what's happening.

Send us your news now!

Just as a reminder: On Campus does not publish in May, so our next issue after the April 27 issue will be June 15.

If you have any items you’d like to see published before the academic year is competed, send it to us now.

Deadline for the April 27 issue is Monday, April 18.

Thank you to all faculty and staff who send your news to On Campus. We are happy to serve you.

1994 Commencement
Sunday, May 8, 3 p.m.
E.A. Diddle Arena

Faculty and staff are invited and encouraged to participate in the opening procession of the annual Commencement exercises. The pride Western feels in our graduates is reflected in the beauty and pageantry of this significant event.

Academic Apparel

Rental arrangements for academic apparel should be made immediately with the College Heights Bookstore. The apparel will be distributed from the Customer Service Counter in the Bookstore and should be returned to the Bookstore after the ceremony.

For a limited time and on a limited basis, a number of poplin bachelors' and masters' gowns are available from the Bookstore at no cost to you. These gowns were formerly used by student commencement participants and are still in good condition. Also available are a few WKU master's hoods. Contact the Bookstore at 2467 for more information.

Assembly

Faculty and staff participants should assemble in the Auxiliary Gym of Diddle Arena dressed in academic regalia and in line by 2:40 p.m. Marshals will indicate the marching route and the proper seating arrangement. Accommodations are available for participants with disabilities. Contact Freida Eggleton, Registrar, 5432, with special requests.

It is suggested that participants arrive on campus early to avoid delays resulting from congested traffic conditions.

Receptions

College Location
Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences DUC Mezzanine
Business Administration Grise Hall, 2nd floor
Education and Behavioral Sciences Tate Page front lawn
Science, Technology and Health Academic Complex front patio
Graduate Studies Nineclass
Community College DUC 226
April

13
8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. - FFA Conference, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, DUC, 3151.
11 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. Counseling Advisory Council, DUC Executive, contact: Dr. Dinkmeyer, 4953.
6 p.m. - Topper Baseball vs. Louisville, Denes Field.

17
1 p.m. - Topper Baseball vs. Jacksonville.

18
8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. - WKU Senior Art Exhibition, FAC, contact: Marsha Heidbrink, 3944.
11 a.m. - Greek Week Blood Drive, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, contact: Scott Taylor, 2459.
8 p.m. - 10 p.m. - Jesse Jackson, Jr. Lecture, DUC Theatre, contact: Scott Taylor, 2459.

20
11 a.m. - Greek Week Blood Drive, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, contact: Scott Taylor, 2459.

21
8 a.m. - WKU FFA Field Day, Ag Expo, contact: Dr. David Coffey, 5962.
8 a.m. - 5 p.m. - Case Management Institute, Jones-Jaggers Hall, contact: Kay Mason, 4041.
KMEA Band Festival, VMA, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, FAC 181, contact: Joe Stites, 3751.

22
8 a.m. - 3 p.m. - History contest, various rooms and buildings, contact: M.B. Lucas, 5736.
Robert Penn Warren Conference, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, contact: Mary Ellen Miller, 4036.
5 p.m. - 11 p.m. - Junior Woman's Club Concert, Diddle Arena, contact: Julie Speakman, 781-2578.
8 p.m. - Masterworks Finale, Van Meter Hall, contact: Chris Norton, 5894.
8 p.m. - BG - Western Orchestra Concert, Van Meter Auditorium, contact: Chris Norton, 5894.

23
Robert Penn Warren Conference, Garrett Conference Center Ballroom, contact: Mary Ellen Miller, 4036.

Next On Campus
Wednesday, April 27
Deadline:
Monday, April 18
Send to:
Sheila Eison, Editor,
University Relations